

LOOK FOR GOOD, COAST SEASON FOR FOOTBALL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Football teams, representing the big universities and colleges of the Pacific coast, nearly all stronger than they were a year ago, swing into action early in October with games against the club teams and smaller schools. The first Pacific coast conference games are scheduled for October 22.

"Most of the coast teams will be stronger and competition will be something fierce this year," "Shy" Huntington, head coach at the university of Oregon, said recently in giving his views of the coming season.

University of California, which won the conference title last year with an unprecedented total number of points, and defeated Ohio State University at Pasadena, Cal., New Year's Day, this year promises to have another "wonder team." Only three members of the undefeated 1920 eleven did not report for practice this season.

"Beat California," appears to be the motto of fall coast teams on the Blue and Gold schedule. The other conference members, Stanford University, University of Washington, Oregon, Washington State college and the Oregon Agricultural college, seem determined to take the championship away from the California team. The Californians say it cannot be done.

Two coaches new to the conference will handle teams this season. One is Enoch Bagshaw, University of Washington graduate, who has returned to his alma mater to help her team out of the last place ditch it was in last year. The other new coach is Gene Van Ghent, former Wisconsin player, who will handle Stanford.

Outside the conference, the University of Southern California, University of Nevada, St. Mary's college, Willamette University, Occidental University and Whitman college are building up strong teams, in the hope of defeating the organization members when they meet.

FARMERS' TEAM WINS TUG O' WAR

A program of sports made an interesting afternoon for the crowd at the fair grounds yesterday. The farmers' tug-of-war team defeated the merchant's team, despite the best efforts of the town aggregation. Harry Poole refereed the match, and the teams lined up as follows:

Farmers—Calvin, Chester and Luther Haskins, L. Gerston, Frank McCormack, Burrell Short, Harry Booth, Guy Merrill, W. E. Hammond and W. C. Dalton.

Merchants—C. H. Harpet, Will Baldwin, Austin Hayden, J. R. Kelley, W. E. Durbin, Tom Watters, George Grizzle, F. L. Smith, James Keenan, and Floyd McMillen.

Youngsters Events
Juvenile events, under the direction of Robert Clays, manual training teacher for the city schools, resulted as follows:

50-yard dash—First, Alex Cheyne, Fairview; second, Eddie Shulmire, Miller Hill.

Girls' club 50-yard dash—First, Joyce Sigford, Lone Pine; second, Enka Noll, Summers.

A person who claims to have given years of observation to the subject declares that red-haired girls can't cook. No real genius in the culinary line, he says, ever had red hair.

They Know Who'll Win Series

Both these boys have the inside dope on who will win the world's baseball championship. Tommy McQuade, left, has proof that the Giants will win. But he can't convince Eddie Bennett. Tommy mascot for the Giants and Eddie is the human tallman for the Yanks.

FINE KLAMATH CELERY GROWN BY AL CRYSTAL

If there is any finer celery grown this side of Kalamazoo, in general, or in Klamath county in particular, than that grown by Al Crystal, The Herald will have to be shown. Some very fine specimens of celery have been sent to this office in the past, but to date the palm must go to Mr. Crystal, who is building for himself an enviable reputation as a successful gardener.

He's a bright son who doesn't neglect the education of his parents.

To Honor U. S. "Unknown"

Lady Limerick has been suggested as the bearer of England's wreath which British women will send to this country for the dedication of the Tomb of the Unknown American Warrior. She lost her son in the war and endeared herself to American soldiers through her canteen and other war work.
