HUNGARIANS IN REVOLT; TOWNS ARE UNDER FIRE

VIENNA, Oct. 9 (Delayed)—Weiner Neustadt, one hour's drive from the limits of Vienna, was under sporadic machine gun fire yesterday from Hungarian insurgents occupying positions southeast of the city. The insurgents were finally dislodged.

Eichbuechel also was sharply attacked and the inhabitants fled into Weiner Neustadt. Sharp fighting occurred also at Broeck and other points in the Leitha sector, which forms part of the boundary between Lower Austria and Hungary.

Residents of Vienna feared an attack on this city as part of the general rising of monarchist supporters.

TRANSPORTATION WAR

PORTLAND, Oct. 10.—Competition of automobile bus lines operating between Portland and Salem will be met by the Oregon Electric railway, which will reduce its rates to conform with this mode of transportation October 21.

28 NEW KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Twenty-eight new members of the Knights of Columbus were initiated into the local council yesterday. The exercises started immediately after breakfast, the Knights, 100 strong, marching from the Catholic church to the K. of P. hall where breakfast was served. The degree work lasted throughout the day.

The first degree was exemplified by the local degree team; the second and third degrees by a team composed of delegates from Seattle, Albany, Eugene and Bend. State Deputy J. H. Pearce of La Grande received the new members into the order and led the institution of officers of the council for the coming year.

The officers installed follow: J. F. Maguire, grand knight; James Bamberry, deputy grand knight; M. Lavenik, chancellor; financial secretary, J. B. Noud; worden, Emil Dreher; recorder, I. A. Tovey; treasurer, I. M. Igt; inside guard, Wm. Tighe; outside guard, S. Santama; lecturer, L. G. Benedict, Gene Hammond, John Draher and Martin Tighe, trustees.

At the conclusion of the day's ceremonies a banquet was served at 7 o'clock in Lyceum hall, under the direction of the Ladies of the Sacred Heart parish. Borrel's orchestra played during the banquet. Mrs. James Bamberry, assisted by Mrs. Den Zumwalt at the piano, rendered two beautiful songs.

The first speaker of the evening was State Deputy Pearce, who responded to the toast "The Knights of Columbus." William Hanley, the next speaker, detailed the progress of the Knights of Columbus in Oregon.

The Rev. Father Luke Sheehan of Bend made a splendid address, filled with patriotic appeal, when asked to respond to the toast, "A True Knight of Columbus."

Neale Boyle of Seattle livened the evening with timely anecdotes. James Bamberry told of the expectations of progress of the local council and Dan Crump and John Lhaman spoke for the newly initiated members, the baby class.

Fireman Halted by S. P. Train in Run To Fire, Reported

A barn, filled with hay, burned in Mills Addition this afternoon. The property was owned by Mr. Allen of Chiloquin. The hay was owned by O. W. Bailey, tenant. His loss is $50. Allen's loss has not been estimated. The house was saved.

The fire truck passed the crossing ahead of a Southern Pacific freight train, which, it was reported to Chief Ambrose, stopped on the crossing and blocked the passage of some of the volunteer fireman's machines. The engineer was asked to move the train by J. C. Thompson but refused, Thompson said. The Southern Pacific station said this afternoon they had no report of the occurrence.

BURSTED PIPE FLOODS STORE

Water escaping from a bursted attachment on a heating tank on the upper floor, last night flooded the Sugarman store and basement, causing considerable loss. Three rooms on the second floor had been rented to Mrs. Henrietta Laughton, manicurist, who was to have moved in today.

The water, it was said by store employees, flowed for an hour and a half. Attention was called to it when it began flowing from beneath the door of Sugarman's store about 11 o'clock. Patrolman MacDonald was called and the break repaired.

Heaviest damage was done to merchandise stored in the Sugarman basement. The amount of the loss depends considerably on the possible salvage, but it was estimated it would reach $1000. There was no insurance against water damage.

The ceiling of the store was water soaked and will need replastering. The building is owned by Chilcote and Smith. Fixtures in the store were water blistered.

The connection responsible for the break was done by an inexperienced man, said William Lorenz of the Lorenz Plumbing company this morning. The Lorenz company installed the tank Saturday but did not make the connections. The pipes were capped. The tenants yesterday undertook to have the connections made with disastrous result. The Lorenz company was in no way responsible for this outcome, said Mr. Lorenz.

Odessa Resident Called by Death

Earl Whitlock left this morning by boat for Odessa for the body of M. King Gray, who died at his home there last night from chronic ailment.

The decedent was well-known in Klamath Falls. He had made his home at Odessa for some years. He came here from San Francisco and is said to have once been wealthy. He was well educated.

He is survived by a widow, a daughter, Dorothy, and two sons. The body will be taken to San Francisco for burial.

Make that idle dollar work! Put it in the bank.

New Manager at The White Pelican

James Milne, for two years resident manager of the White Pelican hotel, is no longer with the hotel. Mr. Milne left about a week ago and the hotel is at present under the management of J. S. McGinnis, who was clerk previously.

Mr. Milne is now in Oakland visiting his sister, according to word received at the hotel.

HAVE BABY DAUGHTER

Born this morning, to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Duggan, at their home on Michigan avenue, a baby daughter, to be christened Margaret Mary.

Yankees Win 3 to 1; Now Lead Series 3 to 2

Yankees—3 runs, 6 hits, 1 error.
Giants—1 run, 10 hits, 1 error.
Batteries—Yankees, Hoyt and Schang; Giants, Neft and Smith.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The Yankees stabbed the heart of defeat in the Giants sides this afternoon, walking off with the third victory of the series.

Coming on top of yesterday's victory for the Giants, this makes the race stand 3 to 2, with the Yankees leading.

Walter Hoyt, pitcher, was the hero in toppling the Giants today, pitching his second winning game for the series. Bob Meusel also starred, his steel whip breaking up two Giants batting rallies by lightning throws.

Following is the lineup for the game:

Yankees—Miller, cf; Peckinpaugh, ss; Ruth, lf; Meusel, rf; Pipp, 1b; Ward, 2b; McNally, 3b; Schang, c; Hoyt, p.

Giants—Burns, cf; Bancroft, ss; Frisch, 3b; Young, rf; Kelly, 1b; Meusel, lf; Rawlings, 2b; Smith, c; Neft, p.

Score by Innings

First inning—Yankees: Miller popped Bancroft; Frisch threw Peckinpaugh out at first; Ruth fanned.

Giants: Burns grounded reached first when McNally fumbled; Bancroft forced Burns out, Peckinpaugh to Ward; Frisch singled; Young walked filling bases; Bancroft scored on Kelly's Texas leaguer; Meusel fanned; Rawlings forced Kelly out, Peck to Ward; one run.

Second inning—Yankees: Meusel singled; Pipp sacrificed, Frisch to Kelly; Ward fanned; Meusel

A BIG WASTE STOPPED

The following which appeared in the Klamath Record, is self-explanatory:

After weeks of negotiations an agreement was reached last evening that has for its subject the publication of one daily paper in Klamath Falls. It has been recognized for some time that the publication of two daily newspapers in this city was an economic waste, the cost of which had to be met by the advertisers and readers of the publications. It was the recognition of this fact that prompted the move having for its object the elimination of this waste, through the publication of only one daily paper. This has been accomplished through the agreement signed last night by representatives of the Herald Publishing company and the Record Publishing company. This agreement provides:

That the Record Publishing company shall have an option to purchase the Evening Herald at any time prior to December 10, 1921. In the event that the option is not exercised, the Record Publishing company passes to E. J. Murray by contract of sale.

In view of this agreement a continuation of the publication of two newspapers would be a further acceptance of a condition that the very agreement itself recognized as a mistake and it was decided to suspend The Klamath Daily Record no matter which option was exercised. For that reason The Klamath Record will no longer be published as a daily, but will continue as a Sunday newspaper, under the same management and direction as heretofore, with the exception of the editor, Clark Williams, who disposed of his holdings to the other stockholders and withdrew as a member of the company.

In taking this step we do so confident in the belief that our readers and advertisers will commend our decision. It is sure to result in a stronger publication and hence will in the end bring greater benefit to the community. Nothing occupies a more prominent place as the representative of a community than its newspaper. It is the mouthpiece of its city and the bigger and more progressive it is the more will it mirror the progressiveness and prosperity of the community in which it is published. Feeling that by concentrating all effort and support in one paper the sooner will Klamath Falls have a publication worthy of its standing among the municipalities of the state, we decided upon the plans announced above, because we hold the welfare of this city above any selfish pride or aggrandizement.

If our plans do not miscarry, we expect to take over The Evening Herald within the stipulated sixty days. If the outcome should prove to be otherwise, our disappointment will be to a certain degree mitigated by the fact that competent hands will continue at the newspaper helm of the city and that interests of Klamath Falls will not suffer.

This change should meet with the unqualified approval of the business men of the city. Over $25,000 has been wasted in the publication of The Record. We say wasted, because no one benefitted through its publication as a daily. The only purpose that has been served was its use as a grindstone for the axe of a few individuals who vigorously applauded a controversy when someone else is paying the bill. They are the best spenders of the other man's money that you will find anywhere. Even these were beginning to see the folly of a continuance of a condition that could be only productive of expense to the business men of the city.

The decision to suspend the Record shows that the men who have charge of it are big enough to handle a delicate situation in a business way. The only thought was the best thing for the community. When it became evident that suspension of the daily and continuation of the Sunday edition was the practical thing to do pending the existence of the option, that plan was adopted. But it was done under a plan that will protect the interests of all concerned.

There is no exultation in the affair. That which has been done was the sensible thing to do. It is to be hoped that it will never have to be done again, for one paper will serve every interest of this community for many years to come.

If the owners of The Record exercise their option—and we believe they will—then the readers of The Herald will have no regrets. They have a program in mind that is constructive and that will give the city a paper equal to the support it receives. We know what that program is and we know it is a good one. They are young men possessed of more than the ordinary amount of good business judgment, who know more about what they are doing than some of the wise birds who, in their ignorance, are doing so much croaking. They deserve the support they are getting and the day will come when they will exercise a powerful influence upon the affairs of this part of the state. They have not undertaken a task beyond their ability and those who are standing by them will never have occasion to regret their support.

If the option is not exercised, then the policy of The Herald will, in every detail, continue as it has been.

STRANGE DISEASE

NAPA, Cal., Oct. 10.—An outbreak of encephalitis, a disease similar to spinal meningitis, which yesterday caused three deaths here, today is puzzling local, county and state health authorities. Three other cases are reported, one of which today gave indications it would terminate fatally.

Damaging Evidence Against Kaempke By Alleged Accomplice

The trial of Fred Kaempke, alleged robber, in the circuit court Saturday took an unfavorable turn for the defendant when the court allowed the testimony of Frank Johnson, aged 18, a self confessed member of the alleged holdup trio, Staats, Kaempke and Johnson, who are accused of performing the hold-up on the night of February 7.

Johnson stated that the arrangements for the robbery were perfected in a local pool room earlier in the evening and that after dusk, the three men set out for the Ewanna rooming house at 235 Oak street, were admitted and entered the place unmasked. The three women, Mrs. Beattie Dukeman, Mrs. Ruby Steele and Mrs. and Mrs. Flora Lee Young, were then herded at the point of guns to their rooms. Johnson alleged that $16.50 was obtained and after the robbery, the three went to Fred Kaempke's home in Shippington and divided the loot. Cross examination by the defense failed to shake his testimony.

Argument was begun by both state and defense just after lunch this afternoon, and the case was expected to go to the jury about three o'clock.

BRUMFIELD BOX FILLING SLOWLY

ROSEBURG, Oct. 10.—Eighteen of the new venire of 25 called to complete the Brumfield jury were on hand when court opened today. The defense challenged two veniremen this morning and the state one, leaving the defense with three peremptory challenges and the state with two. Brothers and sisters of Dennis Puseil today received a message announcing the death of their father, whose age was variously stated at 103 and $7, from grief over the death of Dennis.

Three witnesses are here from Canada to testify for the state. B. M. Nichols, a La Grande shoe dealer, is also here to testify of a meeting with Brumfield at Lake Louise, Canada.

Brumfield this morning complained that mice overran his cell last night, and that he had to spend the night fighting them. He asked for traps. His brothers arrived here yesterday.

Orchestra Here for First Concert at Elks Club Tonight

The Elks clubrooms are all prepared for a record breaking crowd tonight when the first number of the Meneley Lyceum course, Schildkret's Hungarian orchestra will render a two-hour program of varied music, from the greatest compositions of the old masters to the lightest of the best modern musical pieces. Director Schildkret says, "I'll give the people a real mixture so that all classes will be satisfied, not just a few. It will be a musical pot-pourri—eh—like a omlaah."

Some of the offerings tonight will be the "Misere" from Il Trovatore; "Poet and Peasant" by Chopin; Violin solo by Prof. Schneider interpreting Fritz Kreisler's works and his own compositions; "Echoes of the Metropolitan Opera House," a medley consisting of "My Bear March," "Aida, Cavaleria Rusticana," "Evening Star," Paigliccio selections and "William Tell," the wonderful overture so pleasing to everyone. Cello solo, Medley of Southern Melodies, Serenade from Titi consisting of silver flute and cello and a wonderful violin solo by an exiled Russian professor who formerly taught in the Moscow conservatory of Music. The selection is "Humoresque."

Local hospitals and schools were visited today by Director Schildkret and his piano player and selections were played.

PARENTS OF BOY

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Mallory are the happy parents of a baby boy, born last night at their home here.

MAN'S BACK IS BROKEN BY FALL DOWN STAIRWAY

J. W. Krause, aged 40, of Tia Juana, Mexico owner of a string of race horses on the Mexican circuit, also interested in numerous stables in Oregon, suffered a broken back Saturday night while his companion, Will Rogers of this city received severe bruises about the head and shoulders, when the two men fell down a stairway in a house at 615 Broad street, according to the report on the police record.

Lee Doten, Will Rogers and William Krause were loading cattle at the stockyards for J. Frank Adams, local shipper, Saturday afternoon and at 6 o'clock, the three men were alleged by the police to enter the house at 615 Broad street. The police say that liquor was served to the men and at 7 o'clock, when the trio attempted to come downstairs, Rogers placed his arm about Krause to assist him. As Rogers took a step, his foot caught in the spurs worn by Krause, causing both men to fall heading downstairs, about 8 feet.

Lee Doten took Krause over to the O. K. livery barn, and placed him on a cot and assumed he says, that owing to his intoxicated condition, he was all right and would sleep off the effect. Rogers was able to go home unassisted after recovering consciousness. Sunday morning at 3 o'clock, Krause attracted attention by his repeated cries for assistance, claiming that he could not move. Doctor A. A. Soule was called and examination revealed that Krause had a broken back. The injured man was taken to a local hospital for treatment but recovery is considered doubtful.

Krause has had a string of fine horses on the Tia Juana course all year and has been purchasing Klamath county hay for them and shipping it direct to the Mexican stables. A large band of work horses are also owned in this county by him and friends say that he is well fixed financially. Krause has had numerous business relations with Rowe brothers of Malina and with the Nine brothers, well-known logging contractors of this county.

DISAPPEARANCE OF GUEST REPORTED BY HOTEL MAN

W. F. Browne, a painter, left the Arcade hotel last Friday and has not returned, according to Chris Blanas, manager. Mr. Blanas is rather concerned over his disappearance. He did not tell anyone he was leaving and his belongings are still in his room. Browne is described as about 60 years old, and about 5 feet three inches tall. He has a heavy gray mustache and walks with a limp.

MOVING BUILDING

Joseph McDonald is having the former Army and Navy store at the corner of Seventh and Main street moved from its location to the corner of Sixth and Plum street. The moving is being done by means of cables and the contractors have had difficulty in keeping the public from interfering in the work. The building will block Seventh street from Main to Klamath avenue this evening.

Joe Smidl Not in Prison; Given Parole

A wrong was done Joe Smidl, confessed accessory to the Dorris and Mt. Hebron safe crackings last June in Saturday's issue of The Herald, which said he was serving a two year term in San Quentin. The Herald's attention has been called by Sheriff Low to the fact that he was paroled on the sentence and is now at liberty with a chance to redeem the mistake into which he was led by older persons, due to the adventurous spirit of youth.
