PRICE FIVE CENTS

ANTI-BEER BILL NOW UP TO THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—"Joy unconfined," marked the mental attitude of the supporters of the anti-beer bill in the legislative lobbies here today when the senate by a vote of 56 to 22 adopted the conference report on the bill under the provisions of which all forms of beer and malt liquors for medicinal purposes will be outlawed, precluding the manufacture or sale of same for any other than sacramental purposes.

The bill now goes to the president and great pressure, it is expected, will be brought to bear upon him, to affix his signature to the bill at once. The city hotels are full of delegates to the church convention which has been in progress during the past week, among whom there is great rejoicing over the passage of the bill. It is announced that the president will be stormed by committees urging his approval of the bill.

This bill will set aside the ruling by former Attorney General Palmer who advised prohibition enforcement officials that there was nothing in the Volstead act to prohibit prescription of beer and light wines for medicinal purposes.

YONNA VALLEY STRIKES OIL AT 1,300 FEET

Dave Bhock, one of the prospective "coal oil johnnies" of the Yonna valley, was in the city today attending to business. He states that the oil well in his neighborhood is down something over 1300 feet and that a good showing of oil has been present since the 500-foot depth was reached. Drilling has been temporarily suspended, pending the installation of the casing, which has arrived. In the meantime, an adequate supply of wood has been hauled in to run the drill all winter, if such a length of time is needed to reach the deposit of oil that the promoters of the enterprise are confident will be encountered.

YOUTH GIVES LEG TO SAVE HIS LIFE

ROSEVILLE, Colo., Nov. 15.—Forced to stand in the path of an on-rushing train, his foot held in a vice-like grip of a "frog" on the Southern Pacific tracks at Roseville, 13-year-old Edward Levine Wednesday night displayed rare presence of mind that undoubtedly saved him from instant death. As the ponderous locomotive bore down upon him the youth threw himself outward to the ground. The wheels severed his leg, but his life was spared.

GREAT BRITAIN FAVORS OPEN DOOR FOR CHINA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Great Britain has come to the arms conference, British authorities emphasized today, to do everything possible to enable China to assume her proper place in the commercial world.

Great Britain is satisfied this may be attained through the "open door" and by leaving China free to carry out her own destiny.

Committee sessions stood at adjournment today in order to give Japan delegates an opportunity to prepare her views on China's proposals.

LEGIONAIRES AT AUTUMN FAIR TONIGHT

The Autumn Fair for the benefit of Sacred Heart Academy opened last evening in U and I (Scandinavian) hall with a start that presages that it will be a huge success. Booths filled with every imaginable article of fancy work, lingerie and other articles that delight the heart of femininity, both young and old, lined the hall and were well patronized by those attending. The supply and quality were up to the usual high standard for which this fair has become famous and many availed themselves of the opportunity to make Christmas purchases.

The Knights of Columbus booth, operated as a Country Store, was filled with contributions from business men of the city, who showed their appreciation of the effort that is being put forth to establish here an educational institution that will not only reflect credit upon its citizenry, but may be the magnet that will draw other schools, by giving articles of great value and in every day demand.

The Merrill booth, conducted under the auspices of the ladies from that little city, was the center of attraction all-evening, and they have reason to feel proud of their efforts, as the display of fancy work and other articles shows the unremitting care and artistic ability of those who contributed them.

The candy booth was well supplied with home-made and other candies and well patronized throughout the evening. The various games and other sources of amusement helped to make the evening one of enjoyment from start to finish. The refreshments and light lunches that were served were delicious, as was to be expected from such competent hands.

The fair will continue this evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening. Dancing will be in order each evening, music being furnished by the Houston-Fils orchestra.

The Armistice Day Committee of the American Legion at a meeting last night decided to divide up the residue of merchandise left over from their celebration between the Catholic Autumn Fair, the Red Cross and the Elks, and issued a call to all Legionnaires at attend the fair tonight as an evidence of their appreciation of the postponement of the fair for a week so as not to interfere with their celebration.

HARVARD AND YALE LOCK HORNS

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Harvard and Yale universities will complete their 1921 football season in the Stadium here tomorrow afternoon when the two varsity eleven meet in their 40th gridiron battle since the inception of the series in 1875. On the eve of the contest the outcome is a subject of much discussion and a wide difference of opinion among both the followers of the two institutions and football in general. While the Elks have a trifle of the edge in the matter of favoritism it is the consensus of opinion among close observers of the game that there is really little choice in the chances of the Blue and the Crimson.

BURGLARS LOOT K. K. K. STORE GET $400 OF CUSTOMERS' CASH AND $300 WORTH OF CLOTHING

Roy Durbin's Rare Collection of Coins Embraced in Booty of Marauders

Discriminating burglars early this morning effected entrance to the K. K. K. gents furnishing store on Main street through a skylight and after drawing the shade on the front door, plundered the safe of $400 in currency, jimmied the private box of Roy Durbin, one of the proprietors, securing a collection of 400 rare old coins which he had been collecting for twenty years, and outfitted themselves from head to foot in wearing apparel of all sorts. To cap the climax of their operations the burglars, after investigating the stock of grips, handbags, and portmanteaus, selected two of the best in the lot and loaded their plunder of all kinds into them, departing by the basement entrance.

Fred Houston while checking up the loss stated that in rough figures, the clothing loss amounted to about $300, that no store money was taken, but the loss to workmen who had left the $400 in currency, and Durbin's coin collection, would total about $900.

The thieves, at least two, in the opinion of the police, had established the lay of the store as the show cases were visited and articles particularly pleasing to the robbers taken, showing that every article had been "marked" for appropriation. While the thieves were discriminating about some articles, they selected the cheapest silk shirts in the house, passing up high grade cheap next to the lot taken and took cheap linen handkerchiefs instead of real linen stock.

Roy Durbin feels the loss of his coin collection very keenly as he has been saving for twenty years, starting the collection back in Kendrick, Idaho. Two silver dollars, with the Goddess of Liberty seated, of the coinage of 1870, rare pieces, a three dollar gold piece, a number of $2 1/2, also smaller sums in United States gold coin, also a French ten franc gold piece, and a number of other foreign gold pieces were included in the loot taken by the thieves.

Fred Houston said the big safe is never kept locked at night as all the store money is removed at the close of business to the bank and that it was useless to have burglars blow the big depository to pieces when no large sums of money were kept over night. The books of the company, as well as insurance papers and such, are the only valuables left over night in the safe, except money left by persons who do not wish to carry it about with them after the banks are closed. Money and valuables left in the company safe are entirely at the risk of the depositor, Houston also stated while discussing the robbery.

The authorities were busy tracing down clues in the case and an investigation just before noon disclosed that the telephone pole in the rear of the building had been mounted to reach the roof where a skylight glass was loosened from its frame and a rope used to descend into the store. While effecting entrance, one of the thieves slipped, and fell the snow on the roof showing where he was stretched out full length. Footprints left on the snow showed that one of the robbers was a large man as his print was plainly visible and was measured.

ENGLAND STOPS WORK ON ALL HER WARSHIPS

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The Admiralty announced today that it had ordered cessation on all work on the four battleships of the super-hood type, the contracts for which were awarded only two weeks ago.

ARMY CURTAILMENT WILL NOT INJURE STEEL INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The negotiation of the treaty to prevent future wars was urged in conjunction with an agreement to limit navies of the world by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, in an address today before the American Iron and Steel Institute. He belittled the suggestion that armament limitation would reduce the manufacture of steel.

U. S. WILL STAND PAT ON NAVAL PLAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Evidences were given in high official quarters here today that the American delegation regarded the relative strength of the navies fixed in the American proposal as a fundamental principle, any alteration of which might seriously affect the whole negotiations.

Although declining to comment on Japan's request that her relative strength be increased, American officials said the ratio was the result of applying the principle that present relative strength of the navies affected must be preserved in any modification of the agreement.

ARBUCKLE SCORED IN OPENING OF CASE FOR PROSECUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The members of the jury which will sit in judgment on Fatty Arbuckle in his trial for manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, has finally been completed, the last juror having been sworn in at 10:15 this morning, when the court recessed until 3 o'clock.

In the jury selected there are five women, these, it is said being particularly acceptable to the defense. One alternate juror was sworn in to act in the event of illness or other reason for disqualification of any of those empaneled. Photographers were on hand from all the newspapers as well as from "movie" syndicates to take pictures of the jurors, but for the first time in criminal trials this was not permitted, the jurors themselves being the objectors.

When court reconvened this afternoon, assistant district attorney Friedman began with the opening statement for the prosecution. He scored Arbuckle unmercifully, saying he should have been placed on trial for first degree murder instead of manslaughter. Arbuckle sat throughout the ordeal with bowed head, speaking to no one, not even his attorneys.

POPE CABLES CONGRATULATIONS TO PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The armament conference has been called by Chairman Hughes to meet at ten o'clock next Monday morning for the third plenary session.

SINNOTT WILL GET MONEY TO FIGHT BEETLE

Realizing the importance of getting the appropriation through congress in time to be available for the work of extermination of the beetle in the timber of this section, before they begin their deadly inroads in May, Congressman Sinnott has worked indefatigably to have the appropriations committee permit the insertion of a clause in the regular bill which would allow an adequate sum for the prosecution of the work, so vital to this section.

That his efforts have been crowned with success is indicated in the following telegram received here today:

Washington, Nov. 15. E. J. Murray, Editor Herald.

Chairman Madden of the House Appropriations Committee told me this afternoon that the committee had acted favorably on my request for insertion of an appropriation of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in the deficiency bill, to fight the beetle insect infestations in Oregon and California National Forests. The formal report of the committee is expected Monday next and probably the bill will be considered by the House on Tuesday.

RED CROSS HAS RAISED FUND OF $800

Chairman R. E. Wright, of the Red Cross, issued a statement today that the drive was productive of a total, approximately $800, the sum being derived equally from the house-to-house campaign and the sales in booths.

Tag day has been set for tomorrow and a group of high school girls under command of Major Humphrey will devote their time to the sale of the tags for the contribution fund of $1000 which is one of the objectives of the drive, besides the 3,000 active memberships.

A cooked food sale will take place at the public market Monday and lasting until Wednesday, in charge of Major Verda Cozad. A dance is being arranged for in the near future and on Thanksgiving morning, a turkey shoot, at targets from concealed traps will be put on under the direction of Barney Chambers.

BABY TAKES OUT RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP

Arthur Boleo has a thirteen-month-old baby who is now a regularly enrolled member of the Red Cross. Mr. Boleo, who has seen service across the seas, and is familiar with the work of the Red Cross during the war, renewed membership for his wife and himself this morning. At an afterthought, the baby—Miss Concellina—was asked if she didn't want to join. The proud father and mother say she nodded her head so emphatically and said "yes" so distinctly that Boleo, pere, dove into his pocket for another dollar and his daughter enrolled.

ROY GARDNER TELLS STORY OF ESCAPE

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 15.—Roy Gardner, who on September 8, last, escaped from McNeil's Island penitentiary, Wash., where he was serving a sentence for Pacific coast mail robberies, today told Sheriff John Montgomery and newspaper men the story of his escape and his life since then. Previously he had refused to talk about this period of his life.

Gardner said that for three days after he escaped from the guards during a prison baseball game, he hid in the prison barn and later swam to the mainland.

Wounded Twice He was wounded twice during his dash from the guards, he said, one bullet striking him in the right leg and another hitting him in the left leg. He had to stay on the island until the wounds were nearly completely healed, he said.

The food and drink problem was solved for him by a herd of cattle owned by a big dairy on McNeil's island, he continued. There were about 40 milk cows in the herd and every night Gardner would slip from his hiding place and go milking.

Hides in Brush

After remaining three days in the left, Gardner said, he slipped out and hid in the brush for two days, when he made the attempt to swim the channel. He did not disrobe, but plunged into the cold water at ebb tide and made the two-mile swim.

"The cold water acted as a brace," Gardner said, "because I was pretty weak from loss of blood and the cold did not bother me once I got into the water."

Gardner said he reached San Francisco about September 28.

Gardner said almost the entire trip through the west and middle western states was made on a motorcycle which he obtained in Oregon City, Ore., which he reached in a 20-mile trip on an interurban line after leaving the automobile in which he drove to Portland.

His only disguise was to bleach his black hair to a reddish tinge.

PLAN SUMMER RESORT NEAR CRATER LAKE

If present plans are carried out Union Creek on the Crater Lake road will be developed into an attractive summer resort by the United States forest service before the stream of tourist travel sets in next season.

The site selected on Union Creek is eight miles from Prospect and about twenty miles from headquarters and cannot be surpassed for beauty and scenery. It has been a popular stopping point for tourists and campers but has been conducted as a private enterprise heretofore by the Verbecks. Under government supervision it will undoubtedly be improved so as to add materially to the attractiveness of the journey to Crater Lake.
