

MALIN URGED TO PROVIDE FIRE PROTECTION

State Fire Marshal A. C. Barber has received the report of Deputies Sykes, Stokes and Gleason, who recently made an inspection of conditions at Malin with regard to fire protection and their report, which contains the following recommendations, has been approved:

"We recommend first, that the proposition of incorporation of the town be given serious consideration and that at the earliest possible date it be accomplished.

"We recommend that after the incorporation of the town is accomplished, the state fire marshal department be consulted relative to suitable fire prevention ordinances which will be furnished in proper form for adoption.

"We recommend that the fire chief perfect the fire department organization by having suitable constitution and by-laws drawn up and adopted and that occasionally a drill be held.

"We recommend that the town purchase a portable chemical engine with a tank of at least forty gallons capacity. This is a necessity for the protection of property as the present water supply would be inadequate to cope with a serious fire. The chemical engine, if kept in condition and used as a first aid while the fire might be starting or in its first stage would be very effective. The town cannot afford to neglect its fire protection. If it does it will pay dearly.

"In conclusion we hope the above recommendations will meet with favor and we desire an expression of appreciation to be made to the good people of Malin for their co-operation in the inspection work."

Whenever he rode the motorcycle he wore a pair of tinted glasses.

Throughout this trip Gardner slept out of doors most of the time, but on occasions stayed in lodgings, as he has since he came to Phoenix, 23 days ago. Gardner stayed in Medford, Ore., three days, he said, and in Redding over-night. Leaving Redding the next day he started for Napa, Cal., where his wife and baby were. After one night in Napa, he left for Bakersfield, where he stayed overnight and next day started for Los Angeles. That was about four weeks ago, as nearly as Gardner could recall at the time.

He had been traveling on the motorcycle until the engine froze between San Juan Capistrano and San Diego, so he abandoned the machine and caught a freight train, on which he rode to San Diego. After two days there he went to Mexicali, Lower California, reaching the Mexican town about 27 days ago.

Asked by Sheriff Montgomery why he did not remain in Mexico, where he would have been safe from arrest, Gardner replied that there was no money down there and that he couldn't compete with Mexicans for work.

"I could have existed down there I suppose," he said, "but then you can exist in the penitentiary."

He stayed three days in Mexicali and then started for Phoenix by way of Yuma and Maricopa, Ariz., he said.

"I always got caught like this," Gardner said, "but I'd just as soon be caught in a one-horse town as in San Francisco."

It was found at the police station that the first two shells in Gardner's gun contained small shot and would, if they hit a man, overpower him without injuring him, if shot at a range of several feet. Gardner explained that the reason he did not use the gun was that he had it pressed against Indell's stomach so closely that the bullet would penetrate his body might kill him instead of merely rendering him harmless for the next few moments.

Throughout his story in the county jail Gardner was in a light mood and did not seem depressed. He is 36 years old and has received a good education. According to his own story, he attended the public schools in Missouri, graduated from the Colorado Springs, Colo., high school and the Colorado state university. He said he was a welder by trade.

He also stated that his father and a married sister were living in Chickasha, Okla. His father, he said, is a retired business man.

Doesn't Know Whether to Be Glad or Sorry

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18. — Mrs. Roy Gardner expressed surprise over the capture of her husband, as she said she believed him to be safe. "I don't know whether to be glad or sorry, or what to think," she said. "It is horrible, just when I thought he was safe. I will rearrange my plans to be near him, wherever that may be."

Mrs. Gardner is supporting herself and infant daughter by working in a downtown department store.

"Tailor-Made" Cigarettes Cause Many Forest Fires

The outright damage wrought by fires attributed to tobacco and matches reached a total of more than $91,000,000 in the five years 1915-1919, inclusive, according to the report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. During this same period forest fires burned over some 60 million acres and involved a loss of approximately $100,000,000. A considerable per cent of these fires, state Federal forest officers, were due to "tailor-made" cigarettes carelessly thrown away in the woods.

ENJOYABLE RECEPTION OF COMET ELECTRIC CO.

The opening of the Comet Electric Company's new place of business at 1026 Main street yesterday evening took on more the appearance of a social gathering than a formal opening of a business, which, Phoenix-like, had arisen from the ashes. The store was ablaze with electric lights, the rays of which were softened by artistic shades of every variety and hue, all pleasing to the eye. The visitors were many and apparently enjoyed the opening as much as if it had been a social event.

In the new stock there is every conceivable electrical device that it would seem possible to utilize in the household and whenever requested these were put in operation to show just exactly what they would do and how they worked. Taken in its entirety it proved an enjoyable as well as instructive evening, made the more so by the fact that visitors received a souvenir of the occasion in the form of handsome calendar for 1922.

A Beautiful Oil Painting of Crater Lake

ONE of the most beautiful pictures of Crater Lake that has ever been seen in this city is now on exhibition at the Henline Studio, 327 Main street, opposite the courthouse. The particular feature of this picture that is notable is the coloring—something heretofore so difficult to reproduce accurately.

Those who have wished for a real picture of this gem of nature will realize that art has at last triumphed and that it is now possible to get in oil an exact replica of Crater Lake. Copies of the picture may be purchased at the Studio.

It will make an ideal Xmas gift.
