

EDWIN W. FIELD
Milwaukee, Wis.

"I'm convinced if I had taken Tanlac two years ago, when my troubles first began, I would have been saved a world of suffering," said Ed W. Field, 535 Jefferson St., Milwaukee, Wis.

"My case proved that when a man's stomach goes wrong, everything goes wrong with him. The first thing I noticed out of the way was the loss of appetite, and next, that no matter how sparingly I ate, I was sure to have an attack of indigestion. This was two years ago and from that time on, until after I started on Tanlac, I kept going down at a steady rate. I finally got so I couldn't walk a couple of blocks without having to stop and rest and I was so nervous that often I sat up in a chair all night long.

"Tanlac has made a new man out of me, my stomach is as sound as a dollar and I feel fine all the time. I am a firm believer in Tanlac because I know it delivers the goods."

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold by druggists everywhere.

SHOP TO PREACH ON

"ARMISTICE AND ARMEMENTS"
Tomorrow morning, in Odd Fellows hall, Bishop Paddock of the Episcopal church, will hold the baptism and communion services. At 11 o'clock the regular morning service will be held, at which the Bishop will preach.

At 7:30 in the evening will be held the short evening prayer. At this service Bishop Paddock will lecture upon "Armistice and Armement." In view of the deep interest that is being taken in the question of armament, by reason of the conference now being held in Washington, any discourse upon this important subject at this time is very timely and will prove interesting, especially so when delivered by such an able personage as Bishop Paddock.

There is now available a combination golf and traveling bag.

MARSHALL HOOPER WITNESS IN BANK WHISKEY TRIAL

Marshall Hooper, vice president of the First State and Savings Bank returned home last night from Jacksonville, where he was a state witness Tuesday in the case of the State of Oregon against C. H. Owen, charged with aiding and abetting W. H. Johnson, cashier of the Bank of Jacksonville, in wrecking the institution on August 13, 1920.

The state accused Owen of being an accomplice in the plan to wreck the bank, on information given by Johnson after the crash came. Johnson received a ten-year sentence in the Salem penitentiary for the part he played. Marshall Hooper was a state bank examiner at the time when the Jacksonville bank failed and was called into the case to conduct an examination to ascertain the cause of failure.

Mr. Gregory jokingly says that Mrs. Gregory is the "poultryman" of the family and that, as he has been promising her a poultry farm for the past ten years, he has found just what he wants, and just what he thinks will suit her ideas.

SANTA CLAUS REDEEMS PROMISE TO COME TO KLAMATH FALLS

Editor of The Herald:—

Last year after giving little Miss Stanable a prize for the nice letter written to me, I told them I would return again this Christmas and as this Santa Claus makes his word good, he is coming again this year.

Letters must be addressed to Santa Claus, care of The Herald. Write as many letters as you wish, but you must not be over fifteen (15) years old. All points will be taken into consideration. The prize will be named later. This is a little bit early, but I am passing through the Falls today and want to let you know I did not forget the promise.

Yours respectfully,
SANTA CLAUS.

FINEST CELERY IN WORLD GOES BEGGING FOR MARKET

An old Greek fable reads that a man set out on a journey to find happiness, which was supposed to exist in a far distant country. He traversed the greater part of the known world at that time and years later returned to his wife and children without finding his object. The manner and form of his welcome from the patient wife and growing children revealed to him, the fable reads, that he passed up real happiness in his own home, the kind he was seeking in foreign lands.

The application of that fable to a modern condition seems to exist locally regarding the celery situation. Klamath people are sending to California for celery when the finest grades on the Pacific coast are grown right in this city by Al Crystal.

An advertisement yesterday in the Herald announced that the local man had placed his variety of celery at a price which was lower than the imported and when the question of taste and quality was taken into consideration, the local product was superior in every way, yet Klamath people were passing up this product thinking that the imported stock was better. Mr. Crystal says that he has a market for his product in California and other places but would rather home people have his product instead of shipping it away.

SUDDENLY THE IDEA WAS BORN!

The woman he loved best in all the world didn't love him. Instead, her heart was another's,—a man in every sense of the word, her equal.
A man who could give her the ease, the luxury,—the happiness which was her right.
Like a flash it came to him,—and like a flash he acted upon it.
The supreme sacrifice around which this engrossing story was built will charm and delight you.
It's just one big moment in a production that is fairly crammed with them.
