UNDERWOOD'S

TO SUBSCRIBERS

The Herald has changed the time for its special rate campaign from April to November. This change was made this year at the request of many subscribers that we change the date of renewal until after the harvest. During November we will accept subscriptions to The Herald at the special rate of $4, where the paper is delivered by mail within the county and $5, where it is delivered by carrier or where the postoffice of the subscriber is outside of the county. All papers that are not paid for in advance by December 1, will be discontinued and anything due will be turned over to a collector for collection at our regular subscription rate of 65 cents a month. All subscriptions taken after December 1st will be charged for on the basis of 65c per month or $6.50 a year.

December 1st will be charged for on the basis of $6.50 a year.

We feel quite confident that our subscribers will extend to us the same consideration we gave them last spring and send in their subscriptions immediately. Individually, the amount is small, but in the aggregate is a great deal. When you remember that a newspaper makes nothing on its subscriptions, and under the unusual conditions that have existed during the past two years, really loses money on them, you will be good enough, we are sure to give this matter your immediate attention and not wait until the last day, when you may forget it and after which it will be too late to get the benefit of the special rate.

PRISONERS ARE DECAPITATED

BY CHINESE

Oil Collector is Victim Of Ghantly Practice

PEKING, Nov. 6 .- (By Mail) Hundreds of Southern or Sechuan-ese, prisoners have been decapitated by the Northern defenders of Ichang, according to reports brought to Peking by foreigners who have been visiting the lehang front. The troops who are doing the decapitating are not the soldiers of Wu Pelfu, but the original garrison Ichang which has looted the city three times during the last four months. The bodies of their victims are invariably stripped of their clothing and then thrown into the Yangtre together with their heads.

These atrocities were brought to General Wu Pel-fu's attention on his arrivel at Ichang owing to the fact that some of the original garrison one day mistook a Chinese collector for the Standard Oil company for a Southern soldier and cut off his head in the usual manner. They did not find out their mistake until they went through their victims clothing in search of loot and found instead documents proving his identity.

In order to smooth matters over hey at once fished the head and the body of the deceased out of the river. sewed them together again and bought the best coffin that they could afford. Corpse and coffin were then carried to the home of the deceased where profuse apologies were offered to his family for the incident.

The Standard Oil company, however, is not satisfied with these apologies and has demanded that a solatium be paid the wife and children of the murdered man.

A Sales Campaign

When the business man says the market is dull he refers to the market where he has been accustomed to sell his products. Business will remain dull for such a man if he does not find means to extend his territory.

Keen business men are always on the alert to find a market beyond their usual territory. Some enterprising stockmen from Massachusetts exhibited at the recent Livestock Show in Portland and thus enlarged their trade area.

There is always a market if you can find it. Many wide-awake firms are securing orders from points hundreds of miles beyond their usual territory by use of the Long Distance telephone. Such orders are secured at small expense and without undue delay. Pacific Long Distance lines reach all Pocific Coast points with connections to all points east.
