

SOCIETY

Society was occupied to a great extent this week with thoughts for Thanksgiving and its celebration with dinners and dances. There were several bridge clubs which held their regular meetings and the ladies of the city churches met and worked on bazaar plans. The Episcopal Guild opened its bazaar at ten o'clock on Friday morning and it was well under way today.

A big surprise to the younger set of the city was the announcement of Miss Myler Calkins' engagement to George Stevenson. The announcement was an event of this week at Pi Beta Phi fraternity house in Eugene, of which Miss Calkins is a member. Mr. Stevenson, a well known young business man of this county, and a graduate of the University is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. Miss Calkins is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Calkins of this city. The news was made known at a big dinner in a novel manner, and after a theatre party, the Pi Beta house was treated to a sweetheart serenade by the Beta quartet.

Another of Klamath's young people to fall a victim of cupid's snare is Roy N. Fouch, a graduate of the Klamath county high school, an ex-service man and post-adjutant of the local American Legion Post, who, on November 3 was married to Miss Emma Ruth Stucky. The ceremony was performed in Sacramento and was a complete surprise to acquaintances here. Miss Stucky, who came here from the east last year, was a guest in her brother's home for several months, and it was during her visit in Klamath Falls that she met Mr. Fouch and an interesting romance resulted. It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Fouch will make their home in California after the first of the year.

Mrs. Mary McClure and Mrs. Harry Gallagher were hostesses yesterday at Thanksgiving dinner for Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Hague and B. O. McGee.

The ladies of the Leisure Hour Bridge club spent a most enjoyable afternoon on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. K. G. Cummings on South Riverside avenue. Three tables of bridge were in progress throughout the afternoon and at the close of the games dainty refreshments were served. The guests were: Mesdames E. B. Hall, Fred Dunbar, Horace Manning, Kipp Van Riper, Jack Slater, Charles Collier, J. S. Elliott, Henrietta Melhase, Everett Geary, Leslie Terwilliger.

A birthday party of interest was that given in three year old Betty Louise Reed's honor, last Saturday afternoon. The affair was complete in every detail from the birthday cake with its three candles to a table made lovely with pink rose buds. Games were played until the little honor guest and her friends were willing to stop for their cake and other refreshments. Present were: Margaret Dunnington, Mae and Mable Leighton, Katherine Wilson, Veleda and Ima Darley, Billy Nadine Thompson and Mistress Betty Louise.

One of the big family dinners given on Thanksgiving was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Otterbein. Turkey and all the side dishes and trimmings went to make up a bountiful table of Thanksgiving dainties for the guests that gathered around the family board. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sloan and son, Jun. Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parker, Misses Opal Harvey, Grace Hoagland, Joan McDonald and Stanley Hajleck.

Mr. and Mrs. Del D. Gammon were hosts at a large dinner party Thursday afternoon at their home on Cedar street. The table was beautifully decorated in pink rose buds and pink candles to amatch, and a sumptuous repast was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harrelson, of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson, and daughter, Helen, and son, Jack, W. J. McBride, Jack Partridge and the hosts.

Mrs. Don Belding entertained the first of the week for the girls employed in the First National bank, at her lovely new home in Hot Springs addition. A pleasant evening was passed with music and visiting, and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collier were hosts at a big family dinner on Thanksgiving day. Their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCor-nick and family, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Collier and children, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Geary, Edward Geary, Paul Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Collier and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren, and family, of Bly.

The young ladies of the Catholic church were hostesses Tuesday night for a pre-Thanksgiving dance at Lyceum hall. This is the first of a series of dances to be given in the little hall and follows a series of card parties that the young ladies have sponsored within the last two months.

An enjoyable affair on Thanksgiving day was the family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Haines. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carnahan, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Haines and daughter, Margaret Jane, Miss Esther Haines and Mr. Hardenbrook.

A triple celebration was held on Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Jefferson when they entertained a number of their friends, honoring Mr. Jefferson's birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Withrow's wedding anniversary and the day. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Bert Withrow, Miss Claudia Lanell, Miss Meta Chastain, Andrew Egan, Wilson S. Wiley, Lou Prichard, G. A. Hallwell, Perry De Lap, Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson and son, James.

Thanksgiving was celebrated this year at the Bert C. Thomas home by a joint feast of the families of G. A. Krause, William Duncan, R. E. Wright, E. T. Ludden, Bert C. Thomas and A. R. Wilson. This combined family dinner has developed into an annual affair, having taken place last year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ludden.

On Friday night Mrs. Thomas was hostess to Dr. and Mrs. Warren Hunt, and children, and Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Truax, the occasion being Ohio state alumni day. Both Mrs. Thomas and Dr. Hunt are graduates of that institution which every year sets aside November 25 for its alumni.

Saturday of last week Mrs. Henrietta Melhase was a charming hostess at a large bridge party at her home on Klamath avenue. The rooms were decorated with large bowls of flowers and greens, and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Guests on this occasion were: Mesdames C. F. Stone, Leslie Rogers, Fred Baker, Horace Bridgford, T. C. Campbell, Fred Dunbar, J. S. Elliott, William Ganong, Horace Manning, John Martin, Jack Slater, L. E. Willette, M. S. West, Earl Whitlock, George I. Wright, E. B. Hall, C. H. Underwood, E. Pike, Charles Collier, Charles Moore, G. K. Van Riper, R. E. Geary, H. I. Hibbard, George Watt, Leslie Terwilliger, Golden Lincoln, Sarah Gowen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Parker were hosts on Thanksgiving at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith, Mrs. Golden Lincoln, Lyle Walther and Mrs. Margaret Pitts. The table was beautifully decorated in yellow.

This afternoon Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Lincoln entertained a group of friends at four tables of bridge.

Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith were hosts at a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Parker, who were visiting here with Mr. Parker's parents, from California. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Parker, Mrs. Margaret Pitts, Mrs. Golden Lincoln and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Houston entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner for Arthur Leavitt, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Houston and children, and Miss Minnie Walker.

A lovely birthday party of the week was that given on Wednesday by Mrs. S. J. Chaney, honoring her daughter, Miss Helen, on her eleventh birthday. The affair started with a spider web game and other interesting things followed the untangling of the web, which kept the little people busy for some time. After the games refreshments were served at small tables and a beautiful pink birthday cake was cut at this time. The guest list follows: Mistress Mary Ellen Bradford, Ruth Cofer, Faye Grizzle, Jean Rogers, Evelyn Beckler, Goldie Lawin, Lena Lawin, Dorothy Skillington, Dorris Yaden, Bessie Darley, Jennie Daisell, Virginia Peyton, Gertrude Smith, Stella Hilton and Elaine Chaney.

A farewell theatre and supper party was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. D. Hanlon Crump on Sunday night, honoring Mrs. Allen Jones, who left on Tuesday for San Francisco. After the theatre the party went to the Crump home and enjoyed a wonderful supper. All decorations for the table and rooms were in the spirit of Thanksgiving, the table having small turkeys, holly flowers for trimming. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jones, Mrs. T. E. McDonald, Bobbie Ryan and the hosts.

Thanksgiving was made joyful this year for the inmates of the county hospital by the kind thoughtfulness of county residents who answered an appeal sent out by superintendent Short to invite them out for Thanksgiving dinner, very patient in the institution was the guest of some family, either in the city or county for big dinners and entertainments.

Three hundred and ninety homesteads have been filed in Alaska.

DEMOLISHMENT OF GREAT PORT AT HELIGOLAND
LONDON, Nov. 25.—The great German fortress of Heligoland probably will be completely demolished by next April. Its demolition has been in progress for two years under the supervision of an inter-allied commission headed by Admiral Sir Edward Charlton, who is said to be satisfied that the island fortress can never again be a menace to the Allies.

The commission have taken nothing for granted but naval officers have watched the great guns cut into pieces and have demanded that the scrap metal be produced when the Germans reported that they had destroyed cartridges, cas. fuses, etc. Besides, they have personally watched the burning of vast stores of explosives. It is understood that Admiral Charlton is satisfied that very little in the way of war like stores can have been concealed by the Germans.

BLACK, DOMINATING COLOR IN DECREE OF FASHION
PARIS, Nov. 25.—Black remains supreme in the fashion world of Paris. Despite a severe onslaught by advocates of color, the supreme council of style has been forced to retain the conventional black as the dominant motif of all fall and winter modes and there is every indication that colors, except in minor trimming effects will not be able to challenge black until late spring.

Adopted at a time when economy was the guiding idea of all feminine purchases, black has come to be regarded as the most becoming color. French women say it is alone in lending itself to striking effects.

VAUDEVILLE AT STRAND
Manager White announces that he has secured an unusual attraction for his vaudeville program at the Strand on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Two headliners from the Pantage circuit will make their initial bow to a Klamath Falls audience—Jack Polk, who as a "nut comedian", has convulsed audiences throughout the northwest and Haley & Trebor, who are said to be without peers in their peculiar monologues and singing of catchy song hits.

ATTENTION MASONRY
All members of Klamath Lodge 77, A. F. & A. M., are requested to be present in the lodge rooms at 409 Main street Monday evening November 28, at 7:30 o'clock. Work in the Fellow Craft degree will be put on. All visiting brothers invited. By order of W. C. Van Emon, W. M., by L. L. Gaghagen, secretary. 26-28.

November 30 is the last day on which you can get your paper at the special rate.
