

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

NO ACORN

In Ohio they tell a story of a man who brought for entrance into a college there, a student, his son, for whom he wished a shorter course than the regular one.

"My boy can never take all that fat," said he, "He wants to get through quicker. Can you arrange it?" "Oh, yes," said the president. "He can take a short course; it all depends on what you want to make of him. When God wants to make an oak he takes a hundred years, but He takes only two months to make a squash."

The old-fashioned trundle bed, says Andrew Collier, now has descendants who love twin beds better than they love twins.

Outside of the Tanlar advertisements, The Office Cat is probably the most popular department in the paper.

OLD FACTS, SCIENTIFIC AND OTHERWISE

Hezekiah Tellen, Goose Creek weather prophet, who never has made a wrong guess on the weather, declares the number of banana peels on the walks indicates a hard fall.

By feeding them salt an Indiana farmer claims he can produce a breed of chickens that will lay eggs that will keep fresh for five years.

According to a Washington statistician, if all the home brew made in the United States in the last year was put in barrels and the barrels stood on top of each other they would reach to the moon. Moonshine.

"You know that old bird who writes automobile verse?" "Yes, what about him?" "He got arrested today for operating his machine without a poetic license."

It is as much of a mystery to us how girls manage to keep up those roll down stockings as it is how some people manage to keep up appearances.

THIS SOUNDS SOMETHING LIKE

From every present indication this is going to be a long, hard winter for poor newspapermen, all of which reminds us that if any kind reader of any country newspaper ever presented the editor with a nice fat hog, properly butchered, and the said editor failed to accept it, that every set of records and statistics we have perused falls to toll of the incident, or should we say accident.—Blanchester, O., Star Republican.

TOUGH LUCK

A red nose is no longer a sign of drink. He may have a girl who uses rouge.

OBSERVATIONS OF OLDEST INHABITANT

I kin remember when a man thought he was adding to the scenery of his map by growing side whiskers.

The New Thor-32 Electric Washing Machine With Rust-Proof Self-Cleaning Luminoid Cylinder. A Thor for Christmas. Here is a real Christmas idea. No home washer ever made could be quite so much appreciated as the wonderful new Thor-32. It is the simplest, handsomest, most perfect washing machine ever made. All metal body—all metal springing wringer. Look at the shapely lines of the illustration. But remember, the beauty is incidental to the practical value. For the construction is such that this model does your washing in half the time required by other machines. Though new in shape and convenience, this Thor has the same revolving, reversing cylinder which over 700,000 users know to be the quickest, gentlest and most thorough washing method ever built into a washing machine. This new Thor has many other new features you will consider very important when you see and understand them. Come in to see it and admire it. Or send HIM with instructions that a Thor and only a Thor will satisfy. $10 Down Brings It. You can have a Thor for your next washday by paying only $10 down—the balance in small monthly payments. In this way a Thor will actually pay for itself by the saving in laundress hire, and the saving in clothes now worn out by washboard rubbing. Thor washes everything from heavy blankets to lace curtains, dainty lingerie or grimy work clothes. It washes them clean without rubbing or wear. After using, the tub cleans itself without removing the cylinder. The average washing takes only one hour and costs only 3c for electricity. Come in today—or tomorrow—or phone for demonstration.
