BONANZA

The rainy weather materially affected the five day winter chautauqua. Owing to the condition of the roads, the attendance was necessarily small.

On Saturday the basket ball teams, both sexes, from Chiloquin, met our boys and girls teams in the first of the season's tournaments for the loving cup of the collegiate teams of Klamath county.

Claud Becholdt has started his small box factory.

The wind Thursday played havoc with the electric lighting system, four poles on the line going down in a heap, thus putting out the lights in one portion of the town.

Due to the efforts of Miss Hill, the editor of the Ellison-White chautauqua, they have succeeded in getting Bonanza on the summer circuit, thereby taking up the extra date of the Klamath Falls-Lakeview circuit a June.

One night last week some one took Con Curtin's saddle horse out of the barn. Also took three colts out of the back pasture. No trace of the thief has been found.

The high wind Thursday blew down seventeen electric light poles south of the Fairview school house. All of Merrill and the lower country were without lights. Friday a crew of twelve men were put to work and repaired the damage.

F. Greele and son, Melvin, spent the week end with Mr. Greele's mother, Mrs. John Koontz.

Jim Stewart traded his Ford car to Fred Beldin, near Merrill, for three good work horses.

STEEL ARMOR FOR POLICE

ANSWERING RIOT CALLS

OS ANGELES, Dec. 6. — Recommendation that Los Angeles policemen belonging to the flying squadrons, wear coats of armor when answering riot calls or seeking desperate criminals, has been made by Capt. R. Lee Heath, of the central police division.

These coats or protectors, are made of special steel that will turn bullets and cover the chest, abdomen and back. Capt. Heath said.

Make that idle dollar work! Put it in the bank.

"The Future of Klamath Falls" was the subject announced a short time since for competitive essays among our high school students. The essays were written and prizes awarded for the three best. No doubt, the subject was happily chosen, and principally so because of the opportunity afforded for the exercise of the imaginative faculties and the resultant predictions.

Some of those whose predictions have been considered the more reliable, are classed as "old timers"; not many of that class were permitted to remain long enough on the scene to verify their predictions. Of the 1909 class it is difficult to fix a place in the "hall of fame" at this time, owing to the fact that a number of their prophecies have fizzled out.

They are the real abusers of the salt. The "Future of Klamath Falls" is assured, based on a rational and orderly development of the latent resources everywhere surrounding it.

Two vaudeville acts on Wednesday and Thursday at the Strand theater bring two attractive acts on the opening bill. Bud Boyd, "The Official Sampler of the Home Brewers Association," presents a series of comedy stories along the prohibition question.

TULE LAKE

Miss Mary Kotera is spending a week with Dorothy Elliott in Klamath Falls.

Charlie Faught spent the week-end with his father on the homestead.

Mr. Maupin is hauling hay to his ranch north of Malin where he has moved from the Elliott homestead.

Mr. Haynes has gone to Ashland for an indefinite stay.

This community was greatly pained at the recent death of Mrs. Lampliot and her bereaved family has the sympathy of neighbors and friends.

With what inspirational devotion to the higher ideals of life do this new crop of artist prophets weave into their pictures of the "Future Klamath Falls," the lure that is destined to turn hitherward, the seeker after the real home life, the place where his laudable ambition to rear his brood in surroundings and in an environment surcharged with all the amenities going to the making of beautiful lives, obedient children, charming men and women, law-abiding bootleggers and unselfish philanthropy, may have full scope?

Would we be justified in regarding such an one as searching the picture for dim outlines of development of potential resources and industrial activities, heretofore considered as conditions precedent to the development of peaceful co-operation, community spirit, civic beautification and civic pride? Would it savor too much of worldliness, too much of the appearance of commercializing the future, to expect our new crop of artist prophets to foreshadow even dimly mere materialistic details? For have they not already served notice on the "old time" prophet and on those of the 1909 period that the material and industrial development must bide its proper time; that it is not necessary that it precede but may follow closely the development of the ideal status?

There has been a manifest repudiation during the past summer of the old idea that an ideal community status must have as a basis and background an agricultural and industrial development of sufficient sustaining strength for the prosperity necessarily incident to a population of any community, even of the "Future Klamath Falls," were the dream of a city of beautiful homes and ideal conditions can possible come true.

There can be no reversing of the process; nature has not so ordained. Klamath Falls is now, and for years past has been, developing. We are still in the pioneering state. A backward survey suffices to convince the most skeptical that much has been accomplished. The modernism encountered on every hand in mill, factory, store transportation; on the farm, on the range, in the home, is indicative of progress. True there is much more to be desired, but after all are not the majority of our people as far advanced in home building, city beautification, community spirit and civic co-operation, as the agricultural and industrial development, upon which such advance must rest, fully warrants? Upon what sort of meat do these new prophets of ours feed, that enables them to envision a future Klamath Falls, so far in advance, socially and civically, of the agricultural and industrial development of the county, that they must needs indulge in scuffings at present conditions?

They are the real abusers of the salt. The "Future of Klamath Falls" is assured, based on a rational and orderly development of the latent resources everywhere surrounding it. The expenditure of public funds does not make for permanent prosperity, any more than does over-worked enthusiasm result in undivided allegiance in the promotion of civic pride.

FIRE PROTECTIVE MEASURES FOR MERRILL AND BONANZA

During the recent visit of the state fire marshal and his deputies to this city, an inspection was made by the latter, Messrs. Sykes, Stokes and Gleason, of the conditions existing at Merrill and Bonanza, and their recommendations have been embodied in the following report to State Fire Marshal A. C. Barber:

MERRILL: We recommend that the city rebuild pump house of fire proof material and purchase the following necessary tools for fire department: one shut off nozzle, one siamese 2 into 1-2 1/2 inch and one reducer 2 1/2 inch to 1 inch.

BONANZA: We recommend that the town install a water system that will afford adequate fire protection. This can be done at a minimum of expense because of the splendid water supply available so near at hand.

We recommend that the most suitable person available be appointed as fire chief and that a fire department organization be effected. No town can afford to be without a fire department. Neglect of this kind is certain to prove costly in time.

The passage of the same ordinances as suggested for Merrill, are recommended for Bonanza.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisons which are then sucked into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, or those who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and refreshes the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

At all druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.
