If You Don't Need Money, Turn Over the Page
If a Dollar Looks Good, Glue Your Eye to this Ad

Some stores have sales to change their luck; some have them from force of habit, and some put 'em on every time the weather clouds up. Van has them very seldom, but when they occur they're humdingers.

The fact that this establishment, the oldest exclusive shoe store in Klamath County, has been steadily forging ahead for more than a decade with comparatively few sales, serves to emphasize the opportunity for saving afforded at this greatest price-cutting period in the history of the institution.

The public realizes, of course, that quality will not be sacrificed by the startling figures shown below, because the best grades of standard goods only are carried on our shelves; but to make way for some of our newer goods, it is necessary to stand a loss on some we have in stock.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. L. F. Willits departed this morning for Talent, Oregon, where she will spend the next few months with relatives, returning to her home here in the early spring.

Dr. E. P. Estock, who for the past few months has acted in the capacity of government physician at Yainax, left on the morning train for California, where he expects to locate and engage in private practice.

Captain H. E. Calkins returned last night from California, where he has been for the past few weeks.
While away Captain Calkins visited in Santa Rosa, Eureka, San Francisco and other California cities.

Louis Ault, who spent several days here, left yesterday by car for Odesa.

Mrs. James A. Howarth is shopping here today from her home at the Klamath Agency.

W. E. Seehorn left this morning for San Francisco after several days spent here attending to business affairs and visiting with old friends.

Mrs. William Spiker was a passenger on the morning train, bound for San Jose and San Francisco, where she will make an extended visit.

E. L. Silvers of the Klamath Agency arrived in the city last night, and is stopping at the White Pelican hotel for a couple of days while he transacts business here.

A. E. Rhodes of San Francisco arrived last night and is attending to business affairs here today.

H. B. Swetland, J. J. Flynn and H. B. Briggs are all registered at the White Pelican hotel from Portland today.

Frank G. Davis is a booster for the 1925 world's fair, who is a guest at the White Pelican hotel today.

The party given last night at Lyceum hall proved to be a huge success, being well patronized, and the guests enjoyed an interesting evening at cards. Mrs. Fred Houston, who was in charge of the affair, proved a charming hostess, her presence lending greatly to the success of the party.

A. Kalina is a county seat visitor today from Malin, where he is a prosperous merchant.

Paul Breitenstein, a pioneer of this section, who for the past month has been seriously ill at a local hospital, appeared on the street yesterday for the first time since becoming ill.

R. E. Bradbury was in town yesterday for the purpose of attending the Water Users meeting in the afternoon.

Marion Nine drove in from Swan Lake Valley yesterday and attended the American Legion meeting held here last evening.

A. W. Shur and family spent yesterday in town from their home near Worden.

J. L. Shirk and wife are county seat visitors this week from their large ranch on the Upper Lake.

Francis J. Bowne, a prominent rancher in the Bonanza district, was in town yesterday transacting business with local merchants.

Ice, which has been forming for the last three days on the Upper Klamath lake, has completely sewed up navigation, and it is doubtful whether it will break again this winter sufficiently for boats to be run.

The mail was carried to the Recreation postoffice yesterday by car.

J. Frank Adams is spending the week in town from his ranch below Merrill.

Thomas Lang, an extensive cattle owner of this county, is in town today from the Reservation.

E. P. Michael, who resides near Hildebrand, drove in for a few days' visit in the county seat yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hammond are business visitors in the county seat today from their home at Merrill.

arrived last night and is attending
to business affairs here today.

T. J. Jackson, popular owner of a department store in Fort Klamath, is spending a few days in the county seat.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Mortenson left this morning for the south, where they will spend an indefinite time.

Prentice Puckett, of hunting fame, is here this week, from the Puckett ranch near Odesa.

F. W. Herrin, president of the Oregon Wool and Mohair Growers' Co-operative association, is here from Ashland to attend the annual Farm Bureau meeting.

Walter G. West, Klamath Indian agent, is here for a two-days business visit from the Agency.

George W. Strowbridge came in from Chiloquin yesterday, and is transacting business with local merchants today.

BONUS DECISION MAY BE HANDED DOWN TODAY

SALEM, Or., Dec. 7.—A decision in the so-called bonus case probably will be handed down by the Oregon supreme court here today.

This action was filed in the Multnomah county circuit court by the commander of Portland post, American Legion, to test the constitution-ality of the law. Governor Olcott and other members of the world war veterans' state aid commission were named as defendants. The case was appealed to the supreme court on a demurrer to the complaint filed by the defendants, and upheld by the lower court.

SON AND HEIR ARRIVES AT THE BELDING HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Don Belding, 1743 Melrose, are being congratulated today upon the birth of a 7½-pound baby boy, born at 11:25 this morning at Blackburn hospital. Both the mother and child were doing well, it was reported by Dr. E. D.
Lamb, who attended.

GUILD MEETING

St. Paul's Episcopal Guild will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. E. D. Lamb, 131 High street, tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Lamb will be assisted by Mrs. Hardin Carter.

FOREST FIRE ASSOCIATION MOVES TO NEW OFFICES

The offices of the Klamath-Lake Counties Forest Fire association have been moved from Conger avenue to the Winters building, where they will be maintained at least until spring, it was announced today by Jack Kimball, head of that organization.

REMEMBER Perkins for Toys.

Open the Kiddies' Sleepy Eyes Christmas Morning With Music

The years may come and the years may go, but those happy recollections of Christmas mornings when we were children will remain unforgettable.

Those little sacrifices by father and mother which added enjoyment to childhood's happy days are now more fully appreciated that we have to man and woman grown.

Remember there is no other gift for young and old that is so permanent and satisfying as either a piano or a phonograph.

Extra convenient first payments arranged and afterward terms that range from three to fifteen dollars per month.

Why postpone happiness?
