Wrecking Friendships

Garlic may be good for a man's arteries, but it is rough on his friendships.—Chicago News.

Joe Pospisil says all any modern cook needs is a can opener.

Money talks, but there would not be so many financial scandals if it stuttered more, opines Marshall Hooper.

You can never tell how sophisticated a girl is by the cut of her gown. That's why some men are in continual hot water.

As Seen in the Moonshine

Henry went out to see his friend in the country. The conversation turning to crops, he asked: "Bout how much do you think your corn will yield?"

"Well," answered his friend, "I'm figurin' on somethin' like twenty gallons to the acre."

The March of Progress

Ned—"Do you remember the old joke about the rural gent coming to town and blowing out the gas when he went to bed tired?"

Ted—"Sure thing, and now he steps on the gas, and the blow-outs are in the wheels that are tired."

A sign posted up in a Wisconsin saw mill reads: "The saws are running—no use to touch them to convince yourself."

Hands on Your Pocketbooks

"Dad, what is a touching speech?" asked Johnny. "One that precedes a collection, my son," answered Dad.

The lover of the picture actress who was killed by Fat Arbuckle telegraphed the undertaker from New York to whisper in the ear of the dead actress that "Henry loves you. She will hear you."

A feminine golf enthusiast is authority for the statement that some of her sister players are catty enough to be called golf lynx.

The Superfluous Adjective

Many a girl could have kept the tragedy of her bowlegs a secret until after her wedding if it had not been for the short skirts, says John Enders.

MYSELF

I want to live with myself, and so I want to be fit for myself to know. I want to be able, as days go by, always to look myself straight in the eye. I don't want to stand with the setting sun. And hate myself for the things I've done.

They called the baby Ivy because she crawled all around the house.

DISCLAIM CONNECTION WITH LIQUOR CHARGE

In a letter to the Herald, Wm. Bonfield and C. Reber, who have disclaimed part of the Crater Cafe, disclaim any connection with the arrest Tuesday of Sam Head on liquor charges, declaring that Head conducts only the cigar stand, one card table and half of the basement, and that no liquor was found on the premises occupied by Messrs. Bonfield and Reber.

Dr. Lorenz Cures Children by Bloodless Surgery

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—From present indications it would seem that the medical profession would succeed in driving Dr. Adolph Lorenz out of the country.

He came to the United States at the earnest solicitation of the McCormick family of harvester fame, one of whom, Mrs. John McCormick, Jr., he had saved from being a cripple for life. And this after the most eminent physicians and surgeons of the United States had pronounced her case incurable. She was a child at the time, but her gratitude urged her to induce Dr. Lorenz to leave his home in Vienna, that the crippled children of this country might have the benefit of his treatment, which is drugless and non-surgical.

His free clinics have been besieged by hundreds of crippled men, women and children, and some of the cures he has effected have been little short of miraculous, until he has come to be known as the "miracle worker."

His methods aroused bitter opposition among the medical fraternity, his work being characterized as unethical and in some instances he has been pronounced a charlatan, although he accepts no money for his services and is a poor man.

The attacks upon him, it is said, have been felt so keenly that he is breaking down, and it is not believed he can keep up his work and that he will return to Vienna.

NEW TABLE OF TEN COMMANDMENTS DESIGNED TO CULTIVATE KINDNESS IN YOUTH FOR DUMB ANIMALS

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—A new table of Ten Commandments, designed to train boys and girls to kindness to God's dumb creatures, was issued today by the Presbyterian Board of Temperance and Moral Welfare.

1. I am the Lord thy God who made every living creature after his kind and gave man dominion over my works, wherefore thou shalt be guardian over beast, bird and cattle, and to them thou shalt be in my place. 2. Thou shalt not delight thyself in graven images but rather in tender mercies to those who depend on thy guardianship. Thou shalt not lay blame or punishment unwarranted upon them who know not wrong, who cannot speak for themselves and who have no means of asserting their rights, wherefore thou art to them the adjudicator of righteousness in their midst, for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, remembering thy unfaithfulness and thy cruelties to all my creatures and visiting the errors of thy way upon thy children down through the generations. In that thou hast set a bad example unto them and hast by word and deed lead them to disrespect justice and mercy in dealing with my defenseless creatures. 3. Thou shalt not curse thine cattle nor inflict vengeance upon any of God's creatures for the Lord will not hold him guiltless who disregards his creation. 4. Remember the sabbatical rights of my creatures and practice them sacredly. Every beast of burden and every animal in thy service shall have its day and fitting seasons of rest whereby the drudgery of toil in thy service may be comfortably mingled with the joy of living. With reason and consideration thou shalt assign their tasks and with equal care thou shalt provide food, rest, succor, mercy and those things which make for the natural joy of living. 5. Honor and respect thy guardianship over the animals which have been thy faithful servants and desert them not in an evil day; for by so doing thou mayest prolong thy days and increase thy joys in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. 6. Thou shalt not kill, for the joy of killing; for sport in hunting; for contest in skill; or for selfish gain. For the righteous man regardeth the life of his beast. 7. Thou shalt not commit thyself to the lusts of bloody contests nor seek to look upon the cock fight, the live pigeon-shoot, the bull-fight, and all such atrocious acts. 8. Thou shalt not steal, destroy, or take unto thyself selfishly or wantonly that which belongs to the comfort and needs of thy animals. 9. Thou shalt not bear false witness for paltry gain to thyself where by God's creatures suffer hunger, anguish or torture. Let the testimony of thy guardianship be above thy lust for gain. 10. Thou shalt not covet the bird's plumage, nor the animal's fur; thou shalt not covet the robin's nest nor her young by her side, nor the pigeon the freedom of the air, nor the deer the joy of his lair.

SNAIL-LIKE PACE IN REDUCTION OF HIGH COST OF LIVING

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Cost of food rose in all the larger cities of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District during the four months ending September 1, 1931, John Perrin, San Francisco federal reserve agent, declared here today.

"Housing costs also rose slightly except in Seattle and charges for fuel, light, and miscellaneous articles remained practically stationary," the report said. "The costs of clothing and of furniture and furnishings showed marked declines in all cities. Similar trends were observed in the United States as a whole."

"According to the report of the United States department of labor,

Table with columns: Low, High, May, 1921, Sept, 1921, Decline. Rows: Los Angeles, Portland, San Francisco, Seattle, United States.

the cost of living in the United States decreased 1.7 per cent from May, 1921, to September, 1921, the reductions in four of the principal cities in the district included in the summary being Seattle, 2.6 per cent; San Francisco, 1.3 per cent; Los Angeles, 1.1 per cent; Portland 1.0 per cent.

"A tabular statement of these changes and a comparison with figures for the high point of last year and with the low point of December, 1915, follows: (Cost of food, clothing, housing, fuel and light, furniture and miscellaneous items are included in the total cost of living on the basis of December, 1914 prices equal 100.)

BOXING CARD DRAWS

Low Prices Prove Popular and Seats Sell Fast

The first boxing card December 10 to be placed at workingman's prices, $1.10 and $2.20 seems to be taking well with the pugilistic followers here judging from the way the ticket sale is progressing. This morning the boxing promoter was routed out of bed by eager fans who wanted places at the "show," following the arrival and conversation held with Fighting Sharkey, of Medford, last night.

Sharkey Looks Good

Sharkey looks like a fighting machine, with all the accompanying earmarks of a veteran of many a battle and his appearance seemed to inject pep in the ticket sale. Overnight, the opinion held that Earl Ritchie was to win in a walk disappeared, and in place, doubt has arisen just who will be the victor. Sharkey worked out from 2 to 3 today, followed by Ritchie from 3 to 4 o'clock.

"Bearcat" Harrington has quit working out in public and will do secret training the balance of the week while Kid Vincent of Los Angeles will remain in the McDonald hall quarters.

Change Necessary

A rearrangement was made necessary in the four round bout between Ross and Fontenell. Kid Fontenell wired late yesterday afternoon that he would not appear but Kid Turpin of Santa Barbara, Calif., was on the road north to substitute for him. Ross suffered an injured hand yesterday at the Acme garage and cannot participate. Bob Allen managed to have the physicians allow him to replace Ross. The battle accordingly will be staged between Allen and Turpin at 145 pounds.

Preliminary at 9:30

To allow the business men to witness the boxing match, announcement was made today that the first preliminary would go on at 9:30 o'clock P. M. This move will permit both the workingman and business element to attend the matches. Some neat bets have been wagered among sports this week on the outcome of the events.
