HAS BIRD OF AN IDEA

Feed Our Feathered Friends During Winter, Says E. T. Ludden

"While we are passing around Christmas cheer to one another why not consider the hungry unemployed birds which are having scant pickings this weather," asks E. T. Ludden. Ludden points out that the birds work for us all summer, hunting for bugs which are damaging trees, shrubs and other growing things, and that when winter comes and lack of bugs throws them out of employment, they are also out of food. "A few bread crumbs thrown out each day would keep them alive," says Ludden.

SO THIS IS XMAS

So this is Christmas—
Some say "It comes but once a year—thank God."
Others say "It comes once every year—thank God."
"Some" can't see the pleasure for the expense.
"Others" can't see the expense for the pleasure.
"Weary Christmas and Nappy New Year," murmur the tired shoppers.
"Bleary Christmas and Snappy New Year," smile favorite bootleggers.
In our homes are presents whose absence we expected.
They come from friends we thought close instead of close friends.
If they live close enough send them one of these messages:
"Dear Blank, I mailed your present. It got lost. Merry Christmas."
"Dear Grace, Ma strained soap in your stockings. Merry Christmas."
"Dear Bill, the tie for you got noisy. My family burned it."
And some friends have the gift of giving useless gifts.
But silk handkerchiefs are fine if you don't catch cold.
And net stockings can be hung for lace curtains.
And can be eaten if cooked like fresh cabbage.
Only 365 more days until Christmas.
Merry Christmas.

R. R. SURVEYORS ARE REPORTED SEEKING ROUTE

Party Working North of Kirk Are Believed S. P. Engineers

The work has been going on quietly for the past two weeks, and was discontinued when weather conditions interfered. It is said that the surveyors were seeking a closer route across the marsh from Kirk northward, with Bend as the ultimate objective. It has not been possible to ascertain the purpose of the survey.

LOCAL TRAIN DELAYED

Engine Forced to Run 40 Miles to Turn Around When Rail Breaks

Christmas passengers homeward bound kicked their heels aimlessly against the local depot this morning, or huddled around the stoves in the waiting rooms, while engine No. 49, the moving spirit of their train, steamed away to Chiloquin in order to turn around. It strikes the general public as a good joke, or a comedy farce at the very least, for a railroad locomotive to travel 30 or 40 miles to turn around, but that was the situation when a rail broke on the local "Y" track this morning, derailing four loaded box cars, and thus blocking the only possible turning point on the whole system this side of Chiloquin.

FAIR MEASURE IS CAUSE OF SENATE DEBATE

13 Members Are Opposed to 1925 Exposition Resolution

SALEM, Dec. 24.—The Senate adjourned at midnight until 10 o'clock this morning after roll call had been committed to take final vote on Exposition resolution. This followed 10 hours of debate which began at two yesterday afternoon. The motion to adjourn was opposed by thirteen, nearly all of whom were expected to vote against the Resolution. Sixteen voted for adjournment. A section of the Oregon constitution was discovered by some Senate members just after adjournment, which they said may cause the Exposition resolution to be declared passed when it goes to a vote. This provides that a majority of elected members voting in its favor shall pass a question.
