

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

Once, upon a midnight dreary, I was neither weak nor weary— I was only getting doped on how two pair would heat a flush.

All my kale lay on the table, I had bet all I was able. And I'd reached the sad conclusion that the talk of luck was slush.

What a blessing is a Joker in this lovely game of Poker! On the draw I got the Joker and the Ace.

"Ha", thought I, my pulses burning, "I can see my luck is turning. Now I think I have a fair chance in this race."

But the show-down caught me napping. Ah, I surely felt like slapping. On the wrist, the sap that sat across from me.

I had heeled the baby's bottle And I hate him— I to see the kopecks flee.

Then there came a sudden tapping. No, by heck, it was a rapping. Of a copper thundering upon my door.

And the poor sap cleared the railing. Right on through the window sailing Left the city and I saw him nevermore.

But a feeling born of sadness, That is not akin to madness, Greeted me as the jailer fastens up the door.

NEVERMORE. But what makes us excessively angry is to discover that our idol not only has feet of clay but also fallen arches.

T. N. Case says some women won't be happy in heaven unless they get new wings every pay-day.

THEY OUGHTA BE TICKLED. Headline—"Hotel Burns. Two Hundred Guests Escape Half Glad."

K. Sugarman says that considering the age of the accounts, it might be right to call the collecting agency a collector of antiques.

FORMIDABLE. "Why do they call woman the weaker vessel?" "Why Not?" "I see a good many feminine Dread naughts."

"Well, what about it?" "Where are all the wicked people buried?" SPOILED HIS ILLUSTRATION. A temperance lecturer, aiming to make a telling point, said: "Now, supposing I had a pail of water and a pail of beer and then brought on a donkey, which of the two would he take?"

"He'd take the water," called Fred English from the gallery. "And why would he take the water?" the lecturer asked. "Because he's an ass," was the quick reply.

PARTICIPANT IN FRENCH DUEL TO GO BEFORE COURT

PARIS, Jan. 16.—All those who took part in the duel between the Count de Poret and M. Camille Lafarge on September 23, last, both principals and seconds, are to go before the judge of a correctional court. The investigating magistrate has decided that there is a case against them for acts of violence and wounding and for being accomplices therein.

WINSOME GERMAN GIRLS STILL PLAY HAVOC WITH ARMY

COBLENZ, Jan. 11.—Winsome German girls continue to make inroads in the American forces in Germany, despite the standing order issued two years ago that enlisted men who married here would be returned to America with their wives on the next army transport.

Every transport with returning troops carries its quota of newly-wed, and whenever a troops train leaves Coblenz for Antwerp, the port of embarkation, the flower shops do a splendid business, their customers being chiefly Germans who desire to bestow flowers upon the departing brides, full of anticipation and hope for a wonderful existence in their new homes across the Atlantic. More than 1,000 American soldiers have married in Germany during the last two years and ten months, according to estimates of American officers and German civil officials. Most of the men and their wives already have been sent to the United States.

Many soldiers who desired to marry and remain in the service on this side look great pains, officers say, to keep the facts from becoming known generally. Officers say some of the soldiers took their prospective brides into unoccupied Germany, and were married there, most of these events having taken place when America and Germany technically, were still at war.

The Investor and the Income Tax

A 64-page book devoted exclusively to the Income Tax problems confronting the investor or trader in stocks and bonds.

This book is concise—written in simple, understandable language—contains sections of the Revenue Act of 1921—regulations and rulings of the Treasury Department—findings of the United States Supreme Court carefully prepared by a firm of Certified Public Accountants (N. Y.) all bearing on stock and bond transactions.

It is written in question and answer form, illustrated with many specific examples. It will be issued in a convenient pocket size and will also include several pages of forms for listing your stock transactions.

It is the book investors have wanted for years, and we will be pleased to send investors or traders a copy without cost.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisons. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ash, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.
