INSIDE STUFF

In building a column, The part that's tough is writing the first few lines of stuff; It's easy when once You're on the way. So we'll make this do For a start today.

R. E. Wright says silk stockings are like money. When they are gone they are gone. Isn't that so, girls?

Mildred Thrasher says the only way mother can find her glasses is to search the entire house.

The close up may be all right in the movies, but it is rather distressing when applied to the factories.

The son in college who writes his father that he is burning midnight oil doesn't add that it is costing him 39 cents a gallon now, gurgles W. C. Krell.

SAD! SAD!

Here lies the body of old Jim Moore. He drank Home Brew that had a kick. The brew he drank was quite impure. It blew him up, a dern mean trick.

Born Superintendent

"And your son?" "Was born to be a superintendent?" "Heh?" "He never gets tired of watching other people work."

Now that the United States has flashless, smokeless, noiseless, gunpowder, this war thing ought to quiet down a little.

Cannot Be Too Explicit

Bachelor will share apartment; steam heat, electric lights, men only. Chelsea. 8549—Advertisement in the New York Times.

POEM

I cannot sing The latest thing, Perhaps my voice lacks tone To get along With modern song You need a megaphone.

Thirteen persons were paroled from a prison by the governor of Indiana. That's an unlucky number for those who failed to get paroles.

If there were no optimists there wouldn't be any pessimists, says O. M. Hector.

Outdoor sports look good to most girls—especially if they are handsome, says Bob Sloan.

Louie Gerber says the automobile fad of racing trains to crossings is gradually dying out as also are the fellows who do the driving.

MOTHER IS WONDERING
"Mamma, I've got a sweetheart," exclaimed Carl, a lad of seven, one evening on his return from school. "And she is pretty too."
After several moments of thoughtful consideration of the subject, he asked: "Mother, when we grow up, do the boys marry the girls because they are pretty, or just because they are good like you when papa married you?"
And mother is wondering.

In a small town, an important citizen is any man who holds a few mortgages.

Mrs. Wallace: "Nora, was the butcher impudent again when you telephoned your order this morning?"

Nora: "Shure, but Ol fixed him this time. Ol sez, 'Who the hell do yez 'link yer talkin' to?'—this is Mrs. Wallace."

Out on the air the cry rang wild: Switchman, switchman, save my child.

He threw the switch in the bat of a lid. Killed eighty people, but saved the kid.

(This copy submitted by our Treasurer. To save the pay check we had to run it.)

John had been to a stag dinner and his wife insisted on knowing about it.

"Well, he said, 'one odd thing happened. Bill James got up and left the table when a fellow told a story that was very questionable.'"
Said wife, "How noble of Bill. But what was the story, John?"

He—"Say, that friend of yours from Oklahoma is the greatest soup eater I ever saw."

She—"How's that?"
"Well, I've seen soup siphoned and gargled, but he's the first one I ever saw who yodeled it."

Black Hand Letter—"Give us a thousand dollars or we will kill your wife."

The answer—"I haven't the the thousand, but I'm interested in your proposition anyway."

Public Is Amazed at Continued Enormous Demand for Tanlac

People All Over America Want to Know What Is Behind the Phenomenal Success of This Preparation That Makes It the World's Greatest Tonic.

Day after day the question is being asked all over the United States and Canada: What is the reason for the phenomenal success of Tanlac? Why do we hear so much about it? and Why do Tanlac sales keep increasing every year, when other medicines seem to have a short-lived popularity and are then forgotten?

The answer is simple enough. The test of time has proven to people all over the American continent that Tanlac always produces most gratifying results and that the remarkable relief it brings seems to be more permanent than ever before believed possible.

Tens of thousands of persons, everywhere, who took it when it was first introduced six years ago, report that they are still enjoying excellent health and millions of American homes are now using Tanlac as the family medicine after trying it out thoroughly and proclaim it the World's Greatest Tonic.

Thousands of men and women of all ages and in all walks of life afflicted with stomach, liver and disorders, some of them of long standing, as well as thousands of weak, thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse have testified publicly that they have been fully restored to their normal health, strength and weight by its use.

Still others, who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour gassy stomach, coated tongue, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and terribly dejected, depressed feelings, state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by taking Tanlac.

Tanlac has never been advertised as a cure-all or that it would perform unheard-of wonders. The advertising has been clean, straightforward and conservative. Actual facts and figures have been stated and stated in a true, business-like way that has commanded the confidence of all in the conservative claims set forth.

The enormous demand for Tanlac is due to merit alone, for no amount of advertising would continue to sell any article that does not possess real merit. Unless full value underlays the article advertised, the advertising will ultimately fall of its own weight.

"You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all of the time."

Tanlac has been well advertised, it is true, but such a large and rapidly growing demand could not be brought about by advertising alone. It is what the people themselves say that counts. One bottle of Tanlac is sold in a neighborhood through advertising, but ten more are sold in that same community as a result of the sale of that first bottle and that is why Tanlac has succeeded. People are always willing to talk about their ailments, but they are more than glad to tell others of the medicine that helped them. It is something they could not keep to themselves if they tried, for the impulse to sympathize with your fellowman and want to help him is one of the strongest, as well as one of the biggest, things in human nature.

That is the reason why the people of every section of the United States and Canada, have come to speak of Tanlac as the World's Greatest Tonic. And that is the reason why the demand for this remarkable medicine has grown to such proportions that it is almost impossible to keep dealers supplied.

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold by druggists everywhere. Adv.
