NEWS OF INTEREST TO KLAMATH LUMBERMEN

SAFETY OF GIANT SEQUOIAS PLEDGED BY FOREST SERVICE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—"No living sequoias have ever been cut by the Forest Service and no one need fear that the service will consent to the sacrifice of a single tree of this species for commercial or utilitarian purposes."

This statement was made today by Col. W. B. Greeley, Chief of the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. It is a reply to recent editorials that are apprehensive of the fate of certain giant sequoias in California, which pending legislation proposes to turn over to the administration of the Forest Service.

"It is not generally known," Col. Greeley continued, "that already several thousand members of this royal tree family stand within the National Forests of California. The Sequoia Forest contains many splendid specimens. East of Hot Springs, Calif., is a group representing the most southerly occurrence of the species. This grove is unique in that it contains all stages of growth from seedlings to lofty veterans whose age probably antedates the Christian era by 1000 years. "Long ago the Forest Service decided that these trees, the oldest of living things, contribute more to human progress and welfare in their present condition than they could possibly contribute as lumber. It has therefore been the invariable rule since the creation of the Forest service 17 years ago that no sequoias shall be cut from National Forest land."

"SAVING THE REDWOODS"

"Saving the Redwoods" is the title of an interesting article in the current issue of "The Volt," official organ of the California Oregon Power company. The article should be of interest to all lumbermen as well as to those interested in the effort being made to save the giant sequoias from destruction.

men of the vicinity were said to be preparing a drive against the pests. The wolves, which are said to be the most dangerous to lambs and calves, had not appeared in the valleys, the ranger said, but were numerous in the mountains.

Sixteen Drivers to Compete in Races

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—At least sixteen drivers will compete in the 250 mile automobile race to be run on the Los Angeles speedway February 22, according to announcement by A. M. Young, secretary of the speedway association. This will be the first race of the year for points in the 1922 national championship competition. In addition, $25,000 in cash prizes will be distributed.

Drivers who have already signed to enter include Ralph DePalma, Eddie Hearne, Jimmy Murphy, Tommy Milton, Jerry Wonderlich, Joe Thomas, Harry Hartz, Eddie Miller, Bud Hill and Art Klein, all of whom have driven in previous races here. Anew comer expected is Enrico Bordino, Italian driver, who sailed for America early in January, bringing a car said by speedway officials to be one of the fastest in Europe. Pete DePaolo, for several years mechanic for Ralph DePalma, is entered to drive a car of his own for the first time. At least four other cars are certain to start, the names of their drivers not having been given out at the time Mr. Young made his announcement.

World Events Are Reflected in Names

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—How parents follow world events—and other leads—in naming their children has been revealed here in the taking of the annual school census, just completed.

Some of the names which caused the census takers to ask that they be repeated were:

- Liberty Bond Williams,
- Chateau Thierry Rogers,
- Lyle Stocking,
- Merrily Grumbling,
- Aurora Borealis Bass,
- Hosea Lyre,
- Polly Parrott,
- Helen Warmer,
- Service Warm,
- Melba Peach,
- Sterling Price,
- Europe Williams,
- Ananias Smith.

Others answered the question, "What shall we call him?" by affixing as given names, Patrick Henry, Ethan Allen, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Woodrow Wilson and Warren Harding.

Woman's Neck Toughest Eating, Cannibal Chief Tells Frederick O'Brien

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The back of a woman's neck is the toughest part of the human body, says Frederick O'Brien, author of "White Shadows in the South Seas," writing on "The Lure of the South Seas" in the February Mentor magazine. O'Brien obtained this information from a gentlemanly cannibal chief, who was his neighbor in the Marquesas Islands. This Kahuni—as the chief was named—is no longer a cannibal, but in his youth he had eaten much human flesh. "I learned later that he was an avowed bachelor," says O'Brien, "and it may have been his grim joke, for he told me that a woman's neck became tough because she was always turning it to look about."

The author of "White Shadows" recently returned from another trip to the South Seas. He took a camera man with him and many of the pictures they made are reproduced in The Mentor.

Dr. Malcolm Brown, a New York physician and admirer of O'Brien's books, lived with O'Brien at Savaii, Samoa, a part of the Island least touched by civilization. Brown was so enamored of Polynesian life that he remained in Savaii. The doctor and the author were honored residents of the village, taking part in all the native festivities and ceremonies.

There are islands in the South Sea where conditions are primitive enough to suit the most ardent devotee of the simple life. O'Brien says. Lack of transportation has saved these from many of the evils that have accompanied civilization elsewhere in Polynesia.

YOST BELIEVES PRESENT PLAYERS ARE BEST

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 13.—Coach "Hurry Up" Yost of the University of Michigan has joined the ranks of that group of coaches who believe the present day football teams are superior to those of a decade or more ago, when brawn was the chief requisite for a college gridiron player. All things being equal, the average university or college ball team of today would administer a beating to an average team of ten years ago, in Yost's opinion.
