

WHY NOTED PEOPLE SMILE

MRS. WARREN G. HARDING has a most gracious smile that well became the First Lady of the Land.

CHARLES M. SCHWAB has made a fortune in steel, but there's nothing cold or hard in his smile.

MRS. W. K. VANDERRILT, JR., proves that a bit of true wit can be appreciated by anyone, regardless of wealth.

HENRY C. WALLACE, secretary of agriculture, is smiling because of the farmer's rise to a place of power in national affairs.

WILL HAYS is one of the best little smilers in the entire U. S. A. No wonder! His movie salary will be $100,000 a year.

MRS. E. T. GARY, wife of the steel magnate, engages heartily in everything she does. Note her smile!

ROSS WINS DECISION OVER BILLY HUFF

Bobby Ross won a 10-round decision over Billy Huff of Chiloquin at Scandinavian hall last night before a crowd of howling fans that packed the hall to overflowing. Both fighters appeared cautious from first to last. Huff mixed it occasionally, but apparently had determined to watch for an opening and end the affair with a k. o. wallop. He might have succeeded had not Ross demonstrated that he could take care of himself as well as send over haymakers. Huff landed three or four hard ones in the ten rounds while Ross perhaps landed three times that number. Huff backed Ross around the ring, but was careful not to stand up to an exchange when Ross turned aggressor. While Huff might have earned a draw for three or four rounds, there was no round that was distinctly his.

Previous to the fight, James Stevens of Merrill challenged the winner. Both Huff and Ross accepted. Huff said today that while he was satisfied with the decision, he was not satisfied with the outcome of the fight, and he believes he can beat Ross. He had taken off eight pounds in two weeks, he said, in order to make the required weight of 152 pounds, ringside, and this had weakened him. With more preparation he believes he can win over Ross, and announces that he is willing to sign up with him at any time for another fight.

One-Round-Wise, the Merrill whirlwind, far outclassed Chicago Brown, who never had a show. Brown went down in the first round. Wise sending over rights and lefts. He sent over one too many, however, landing one after Brown had reached the mat. Brown was awarded the decision on a foul, but it was clear that he never would have returned for the second round. Merrill gained further honors in the go between Harrington of Chiloquin and Young Stevens of Merrill. The latter, while exhibiting little science, proved more than willing to give and take. The two mixed it from the start like a pair of wildcats. Harrington went down in the second with a stomach blow, but was saved by the gong. With the roar sent up by the fans it was impossible to hear the gong, and Stevens left the ring under the impression that Harrington had been counted out. He returned, however, only to find that Harrington had a broken thumb and was unwilling to continue. The match was awarded to Stevens. Tom Watters, referee, risked a k. o. every time he attempted to break the fighters, so fiercely did they mix in the clinches.

"Tuffy" Anderson and Young Fitzsimmons gave the best exhibition of their youthful careers, and furnished real sport for the fans.
