NEWS OF INTEREST TO KLAMATH LUMBERMEN

Market for West Coast Lumber Grows in East

PORTLAND, Feb. 23.—Douglas fir shipments to the Atlantic coast states totaled 500,000,000 feet during 1922, according to Chester J. Hogue, New York representative of the West Coast Lumbermen's association. Shipments of lumber to the Atlantic coast by west coast mills totaled 50,000,000 feet in 1920, and approximately 200,000,000 feet in 1921, Hogue stated.

The market for west coast woods is gradually enlarging in eastern and middle western territory through cutting out of forested areas in the eastern and northern states and in the southern pine region, Hogue stated. This movement is constant, though not rapid, and eventually the northwestern mills will be required to supply the entire needs of the eastern market. Between 5,000,000,000 and 6,000,000,000 feet of lumber is consumed annually in the industries of the country, and only about one-tenth of this amount is supplied by northwestern mills. H. S. Stronach, manager of the industrial department of the West Coast Lumbermen's association, of New York arrived here last week and is engaged in a survey of the mills of Western Oregon and Western Washington to determine methods of further introduction of their output in the industrial market.

The outlook for the lumber industry in the north west is bright, according to Stro-nach, and the mills of this section will be kept working to capacity during the next five years. New building construction in the eastern and middle western states during 1922-23 would insure a revival of the industry, according to Chester Hogue, and the increasing popularity of western woods would place the market on a firm basis.

SEVEN-MILE LOGGING ROAD IS BEING BUILT

CENTRALIA, Wash., Feb. 23.—The N. & M. Lumber company, operating a mill near Rochester, is building seven miles of logging road into a tract of timber. This tract will run the mill for a period of several years.

showing tomorrow night in conjunction with the regular feature "Souls of Men," thus affording opportunity for another audience to see this great photo drama.

Members of the local lodge, Knights of Pythias, under whose auspices the picture was produced here, were present in large numbers. It was explained on behalf of the lodge, that the motive for showing the picture was to spread interest in the principles of the order, during February, which is the birth month of the order and is being celebrated throughout the nation by an active membership campaign.

GOVERNOR SHOUP OF COLORADO BOOSTS NATIONAL HIGHWAY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 23.—Good roads in the country will do more to lower the high cost of living and more for the prosperity, comfort, culture and happiness of the people than things fought over in twelve presidential campaigns, Governor Oliver H. Shoup of Colorado today told members of the Pike's Peak Ocean to Ocean Highway association at its annual meeting here.

"The establishment of motor truck express lines in every farming community will stimulate the production of more food, reduce the cost of living and probably will make public markets successful in American cities," he continued.

Continuing, he declared, "Industrial revival is being retarded, we are told, because of the agricultural situation. When the farmer can't buy, the manufacturer can't sell. The farmer can't buy because he is forced to carry a large surplus of his products. Checking the market it is found that domestic consumption is normal, the price low. We have an overproduction and no place to dispose of it."

"What needs to be done is plain. How to do it is quite another matter. The thing to do is to find a market for the surplus."

Depreciating the fact that the farmer has been held up as the nation's bankrupt, Governor Shoup declared that the farmer is no worse off than men in other lines of business, and is better off than many. "The farmer," he continued, "with his feet on a more secure economic footing than those engaged in other vocations."

Quoting from government statistics for 1918, Governor Shoup declared that "it cost 20 cents per ton mile to haul wheat by wagon, as against 15 cents by truck. Statistics further show that it costs on good roads of hard resistant surface, 8 cents to haul one ton per mile. On poor roads this cost increases materially as compared to what it would cost if we all had good roads."

Quoting from a speech by Senator Beveridge, Governor Shoup declared that "the throwing away of actual produce because of bad roads, or no roads, would build every year forty permanent ocean to ocean highways, such as the Lincoln or Pike's Peak Ocean to Ocean highway."

"Not only would good roads throughout the nation save this billion dollars' worth of produce now wasted annually, but they would increase the raising of food stuff and other products because the ease of marketing would be a selfish incentive to more careful production. On account of our neglect of highways the United States is paying a penalty of more than $504,000,000 per year in excessive cost for transportation alone of agricultural products from farm to market," he said.

"The Pike's Peak Ocean to Ocean Highway association has for its objective the development of the great central scenic highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans. However, we must not conclude that because of a plan for several national through highway lines that these roads will in any way lessen the need and importance of shorter and connecting roads."

"There are 30,000,000 children in the country who should be attending school, but of this number only 18,000,000 get there. Good roads would make the securing of education easier for the remaining 12,000,000 children."

"The building of 50,000 miles of national highways will provide steady employment for all idle and unemployed."

"It will add to the annual increase of our national wealth not less than $200,000,000 and save annually in wear and tear of vehicles not less than $500,000,000."

"It will reduce the cost of living more than any other factor and increase travel throughout the country, inducing people to 'See America First,' thus keeping home, annually, more than $250,000,000."

Boxing Comedian May Meet Fighting Carlo

Fight fans are to be treated to an exhibition of unusual interest on or about March 24, according to Promoter Underwood, when Pickles Martin, 135 pounds, of Sacramento will be matched here with Fighting Carlo, the well-known Dorris scrapper.

Pickles Martin is known as the "boxing comedian." In addition to being a clever and hard-hitting fighter, he is a natural ring clown. His antics furnish a continuous source of amusement even while he is in the midst of a hard battle. Often when the fun is at its height it is found the joke is on Pickles' opponent who at that time often feels the point and loses all interest in the fight.

Another card that may be offered would include Hogue and Ritchie in a 10-round go and a return match between Ross and Huff. The Chiloquin boy is anxious to redeem himself.

Underwood says that Hogue would be required to come here at least 10 days before the match in order to become acclimated. Boxers from San Francisco and other low altitudes have complained of the difficulty they have in breathing in this high altitude. It is believed Hogue will give Ritchie a harder battle if permitted to train here for a week or two.
