

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

When Pa is sick, he's scared to death, An' Ma an' us just holds our breath. He crawls in bed, an' puffs an' grunts, And does all kinds of crazy stunts. He wants "Doc" Brown, an' mighty quick, For when Pa's ill, he's awful sick. He gasps and groans, an' sort o' sighs, He talks so queer, an' rolls his eyes, Ma jumps an' runs, an' all of us, An' all the house is in a fuss. An' peace and joy is in sight scarce— When Pa is sick, it's something fierce.

We go from verse to worse!!!

POPE

Every goat-getter, I grant you annoy, But there is only one "getter" Who sports my noise, And he is the bird The king of kill-joys. Who always comes back with "Yes, but my motor, boys."

A local reformer wants the girls to stop rolling their own, meaning cigarettes "everything." He doesn't suggest, however, who he thinks should roll 'em.

A handit after buying a pair of shoe-laces at a Seattle, Wash., store, says the Seattle Star, held up the proprietor and took $275. That's starting on a shoe string.

E. H. Thomas says the correct use of "he" and "lay" also worries a farmer every time a hen cackles.

A Pennsylvania man advertised a liberal reward for a bunch of keys he had lost. That night the finder of the keys entered the man's office, unlocking the door to the office and his safe with the keys—and took $184. Burglars, as well as chicken thieves, read advertisements.

A Man Must Eat There was a young fellow named Bill, Who loved a pretty lass named Jill. He found she could not cook, He said, "For girls I'll look Who can with skillful show some skill."

"The only difference betwixt th' thermometer an' the 'east o' livin'" remarked Amos Tash, who has a large family like ours, is that one in a while th' thermometer comes down a little. "As I stand on my porch 'd'ay, an' see th' river 'cross th' way, I cannot see no reason why th' price o' ice should be so high."

Colonel Mattoon says Hell is where you go when you die, provided you enjoyed yourself on earth.

CONSIDER YOUR CHILDREN'S EYES—

If a child's sight is imperfect, correct glasses should be obtained immediately. If this is done, the child usually grows out of the trouble—but otherwise the defect increases until glasses are inevitable, while a cure becomes impossible. Many children's school hours are a torture because of defects of vision. The child often does not realize its deficiencies, while its parents are all unsuspecting. So the trouble is neglected, the child's education impeded, and its health seriously impaired. Children who frown when reading, who complain of headaches, or whose eyelids seem red and inflamed should be tested without delay.

News From the Country

DORRIS

DORRIS, Cal., March 8.—Mrs. Claude Kirkpatrick, who has been seriously ill at her home here for several months, was taken to Oakland by her husband Monday morning where it is hoped the change in altitude and climate will improve her health.

Mrs. Frank Rone and daughter of Rogue River valley are visiting with Mr. Bone who is connected with the Taber & Wise garage. They probably will remain in Dorris several months. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hagelstein were passengers to Klamath Falls on last evening's train.

A very enjoyable dance was indulged in by young people of Dorris Saturday night. Accordion and piano music furnished by local musicians was greatly appreciated.

Citizens are pleased to learn of the nomination of Mrs. Margaret Kerwin as post mistress of Dorris. The town has been without a postmaster for nearly two years during which time a make-shift room has been occupied and a temporary postmaster officiated.

Gust Lampronculous has returned to Klamath Falls after spending several weeks here. He was employed in the local box factories until March first, when the entire forces of both plants walked out.

Frank Burr is a Klamath Falls visitor for a few days.

Mrs. H. J. Goff is visiting with friends and relatives in Stockton.

Richard P. Wolfe, who for the past three months has been bookkeeper for the Dorris Lumber & Box company, has accepted a position with the Chiloquin Lumber company and will make his home at that place.

J. F. Kridger is confined to his home with influenza. He is not reported to be seriously ill, however.

TULE LAKE

Miss Hantoon spent the week end with friends in Merrill.

Mrs. Wm. Crandall is in Klamath Falls for a few weeks. She will have charge of the Shepherd Music store while Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd are away.

Joe Jacobs and Mrs. Glick were business visitors Friday.

Charles Faught brought some cows from near Bonanza Saturday.

Tony Victorine has nearly completed his bungalow which he is building on his place, that he bought from Jo Korera Jr. He will move his family there this spring.

There are still a good many sheep being fed on the lake land. Considerable hay has been fed and sold in this section.

MIDLAND

Mrs. W. E. Folsom of this place returned on Friday's train after an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Bleedone of Sparks, Nevada. Mrs. Bleedone was formerly Agnes Folsom.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Burnett were Klamath Falls visitors Thursday.

News reached this place Thursday that Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Farber are the proud parents of a son, born Feb. 28, at Klamath Falls. The little man has been named Lewis Edgar.

Mrs. Mary Douglas of Sisson stopped off on her return to that place to visit her brother Harry Witherall, who resides here. She had been in Klamath Falls visiting her brother W. B. Walker, who is seriously ill with pneumonia. Walker lived here last year.

Mrs. Ed Royce left here for Eureka, Calif. Her husband will join her latter. Royce rented his ranch to J. B. Burnett of Miller Hill. Burnett moved there last week.

Augustine Zamboni was a morning passenger to Dunsmuir.

Mrs. S. Burnett entertained a number of children Sunday afternoon, in honor of her niece, Anna Burnett's tenth birthday. Indoor and outside games were played after which a dainty luncheon was served by the charming hostess. The children departed for their homes at five after spending a pleasant and enjoyable time. The following were present: Thelma and Willie Tingley, Lucile, Marjory and Lorn Calhoun, Ora Merlin Dupuy, Pauline Shreiner, Wilbert Tetzman, Catherine, Pauline, Mary, William and George Burnett and the guest of honor, Anne Burnett. Mrs. S. L. Burnett entertained for her niece as Mrs. J. B. Burnett is ill.

Mathew Del Fatti, Sr., was a Klamath Falls visitor Monday.

August Zamboni returned here Sunday night after passing an examination on railroad work. He left on Tuesday for his new position.

Alfred Dupuy, who had been ill is on the road to a speedy recovery. Alfred returned home Sunday from Klamath Falls where he had been for medical care.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dupuy of Miller Hill district was a Sunday guest at the home of John Dupuy of this place.

Mrs. Twyla Ferguson, county school superintendent was a Midland school visitor Wednesday. After inspecting the work of pupils she pleasantly entertained them by playing several familiar stories on a phonograph she had with her. After she left here she visited Miller Hill school.

Edgar Farber returned home Sunday after spending several days with his wife, who is ill at a hospital.

Dr. Truax of Klamath Falls made a business visit to Midland Saturday to attend to Mrs. J. B. Burnett of this place as she is seriously ill with pneumonia. She is on the road to recovery at present.

Mr. and Mrs. William Worden of lower Klamath Lake moved to Shipington recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dupuy were Klamath Falls visitors Saturday.

BLV

Mrs. Jody Owens, who has been visiting friends in Bly for the past few days, was the dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mr. Arthur Hamaker on Saturday and spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Clarence Wallis and the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Watts.

James Owens has moved his sheep from his Fish hole ranch to the ranch of James Watts to be fed the remainder of the winter.

Mrs. Charley Warren and son Edwin are slowly improving from very serious illness from "flu", both being quite seriously ill.

Sykes Hamaker has just recovered from a severe illness.

Earn Givan has returned from Salem where has been with his wife visiting with Mrs. Givan's mother and sister. Since he has become papa he is wearing a new "smile".

Louise Howard and Tom Edsall have been running the pool hall in the absence of Otto Boye, who spent a few days in Klamath Falls on business the past week.

Mrs. A. W. Howard was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bell for a couple of days this week.

Little Helen Campbell had a birthday party Saturday, with many of her small friends and her teacher as a guest. Mrs. Campbell served a homelike chicken dinner, with ice cream, the big birthday cake and all the usual birthday fixings, at the noon hour, after which the little hostess entertained her guest with games, each one reporting a delightful time. Ivan Boyd is still convalescing from his fractured ribs.

Mr. and Mrs. Knotts were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watts for a few days the first of the week.

Marvin Cross expects to go to the city soon to do his spring buying.

Albert Swasey and trapper partner have moved back to Bly from their trapping quarters and Swasey can be found at his garage again now.

Little Harry Obenchain was a Bly visitor Friday. He has become quite a trapper this winter.

A stray dog was killed at the Owens' ranch last week. They discovered him out among the stock snapping at them and after watching him some little time decided he was rabid.

There is quite a little excitement over the prospects of so many bug men expected in here soon.

The stockman are looking forward to big hay and grass crops this next summer but this continual fall of snow makes them look at their hay stacks now and wonder.

Mrs. George Boyd has recovered from intestinal flu. She was quite sick for several days.

George Boyd and family spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Dixon and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Campbell.
