FASHION SERVICE IS INSTITUTED BY EVENING HERALD

The Evening Herald starts today a superior fashion service, produced by special arrangement with the McCall organization, publishers of McCall's Magazine and manufacturers of the New McCall Pattern, and the Newspaper Enterprise association.

This exclusive service will be conducted by Francis Hutter, director of fashion publication and pattern production for the McCall company. Hutter has spent many weeks in perfecting a special organization to produce the NEA Fashion Service.

This organization consists of fashion experts, writers and artists, in New York and Paris. It not only will be first with American fashions, but will be first with Paris creations and designs, as the result of a special cable service.

Hutter was a banker before he entered into the field of fashions hence he can be relied upon to consider the economic phases of dress.

About 20 years ago Hutter became connected with the Ulstein organization of Berlin, then controlling 16 leading dailies and periodicals. He was first placed in charge of an illustrated weekly, and in a short time had developed it to the point where it enjoyed the largest circulation of any weekly in the country.

Hutter next took charge of a group of women's magazines which the Ulstein company purchased. It was then that he had his first direct contact with the practical problems of dress patterns.

In 1914 Hutter came to America, traveled about the United States for a year, studying the people and their clothes, and then joined the McCall organization.

Hutter is genuinely enthusiastic in regard to style, and believes that woman's demand for style is no mere petty vanity, but a natural and justifiable pleasure in costume as a form of expression.

He makes no attempt to create fashions, leaving that task to Paris, the international capital of fashions; but his designs do reflect the latest modes.

"If our system of world fashions, emanating from a center such as Paris, did not exist," says Hutter, "it ought, in my opinion, to be invented tomorrow. Women want fashions which are fashionable everywhere, not alone in their own community or province, but as much so in San Francisco as in New York, in London as in Nice, Paris or Vienna.

"A style does not long remain exclusive in the modern world. Illustrated newspapers and periodicals, fashion magazines, motion pictures and the ready-to-wear industry, all serve to keep the newest fashions before the eyes of women of all classes. Therefore the fashions of today are essentially democratic. The very rapidity with which fashion changes is proof of its democracy, for new styles are nothing more than a response to the demand of the exclusive few for something which the many have not had."

K. A. A. ATHLETIC TOURNEY PROVES EXCELLENT AFFAIR

An excellent entertainment was witnessed at the Klamath Amateur Athletic association hall last night, the main event of which was the wrestling match between Harold Christy and Bob Endres, won by the former with two falls.

Christy got the first fall in five minutes, but it took him 30 minutes to repeat the performance. While Endres worked on the defensive throughout, he proved to be a hard customer. Frequently when a fall seemed certain, he managed to wriggle out of Christy's clutches. In the opinion of many, this was the best wrestling match seen here in many months.

Fylling won from Cornish two out of three falls. Cornish got the first fall in eight minutes, while Fylling won the others in seven and four and a half minutes. The match was a fast one.

Walsh won two falls from Carter in six and eight minutes. Carter put up a good exhibition, but Walsh was too skillful for him. Charles Bodenhamer challenged the winner of the match. The challenge was accepted by Walsh, who appeared with Bodenhamer at the first association smoker.

Montgomery won two straight falls from Hogue in four and six minutes. The high school grapplers gave an excellent exhibition. Houston and Bizez fought three fast rounds to a draw. They will appear again at the legion smoker.

The 'Whitey' Perrillat and Pender bout also resulted in a draw.

Young Christy and Kid North battled three rounds to a draw.

Harold Grey acted as referee for the wrestling and Dr. W. A. Leonard for the boxing matches. The exhibitions were arranged by Harold Christy.

A volley ball equipment has been obtained by the association, and will be installed at once. Dr. Leonard has arranged to conduct a women's class and has a number of enthusiasts who are anxious to start. This promises to develop into one of the association's most important features.

The matches last night were unmarked by disagreements and were conducted in sportsmanlike manner throughout, reflecting credit upon all of the participants, as well as the association, and making evident the fact that the purpose of the association to promote clean athletics in this city is certain to be realized.

FARM POINTERS

Chicks Need Clean Feed It is not always so much the kind of feed as how it is fed that causes trouble with young chicks. Any of the common grains will give good results if they are clean and free from mold. Chicks should not be fed grain having much hull or a high protein at first.—O. A. C. Experiment station.
