A GOOD START

THERE is a hopeful sentiment in Klamath county for forgetting the past, uniting forces for development and uplift, and getting down to real development of the community's resources and establishment of a foundation for future greatness.

The latest project of the chamber of commerce, the co-ordination in one group of directors of all the forces for civic development, is a crystallization of this sentiment.

The time is ripe for such co-operation and the chamber of commerce shows wisdom in seizing upon the right time to put such a plan into effect.

On a larger scale the nation is dealing with problems of readjustment, and the world still more so. There is a universal desire to settle down, to repair the losses of international strife, to restore the shattered fabric of commerce and readjust ourselves to peaceful living and the pleasures of civilization.

Perhaps the problems of Klamath county differ in the particulars from the problems of other communities, in the nation, or from the nations in relation to world destiny.

All will be solved by the one formula—co-operation. And co-operation means that intolerance and suspicion must be abandoned. Sincerity must be the keynote.

But, animated by sincerity of purpose, guided by the logic of adult intelligence and not by the emotions that cause an angry child to threaten to "take my things and go home", settlement, readjustment and compromise are always attainable.

Fortunately the class of people who demand all the profits from buildings rented to others is small, but it would be even smaller if the great masses of people would only determine and then go to work to own their own home.

and all other classes of buildings, in fact that there is room for new construction enterprises throughout the state, and we hope to help these enterprises on their way.

"We can all do a share toward bringing prosperity back if we but will spread this "Now is the Time to Buy or Build" slogan among our friends wherever we go."

CONSTANCE TALMADGE IN "SCANDAL" AT STRAND

An interesting note in connection with the Solznick revival of the Constance Talmadge feature, "Scandal", which will remain the featured attraction at the Strand theatre tonight, is in the settings of the Vanderdyke home, where Beatrice, the spoiled daughter of the family queens it over every member of the household.

The Vanderdyke place in real life is none other than the beautiful estate of Commodore E. C. Benedict at Greenwich, Conn., which was placed at the disposal of Miss Talmadge and her director, Charles Giblyn, by Commodore Benedict himself.

Cosmo Hamilton, whose "Blindness of Virtue" and "Sins of the Children" place him in the forefront of British novelists, has not only done his most powerful piece of work in "Scandal", but has also written a novel which abounds in the most remarkable way with elements which make for popularity.

The role of Beatrice Vanderdyke "the worst spoiled woman in America," gives her a most unusual opportunity to show her talents.

Also Leah Baird in "The Volcano", a good comedy and country store, 15 prizes. Same prices 10-20 cents. Show starts 8:30 sharp. Prizes given away at 9 o'clock.
