

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

POEM

I know a man who smokes cigarettes so often If every cigarette makes a nail in his coffin...

VACANT LIPS

"Marriage means to have and to hold. But some men are queer about their wives."

"How now, Tessie?" "After they have'em they seldom hold'em on their lips."

Crowding the Quarters

"We feel crowded in this flat," said the tenant, diffidently.

"No wonder!" exclaimed the janitor. "This flat was never intended for a family of six."

But there are only myself and wife.

"I know better. Besides you two, there are a canary bird and three goldfishes."

Any After Dinner Speech

Mr. Toastmaster and Ladies and Gentlemen: The remarks of the speaker who just preceded me brought very forcibly to my mind a story which I once heard.

(Insert Story)

"This being the case, therefore, you will readily realize my feeling when asked to speak here tonight. My emotions were those of the man who was once requested by his pastor to:

(Insert Story of the Man)

"Well, those were my feelings exactly, only mine, I may say, were even more so. There is an old legend back in the country where I was raised to the effect that:

(Insert Legend)

"Naturally no man who has been brought up on that sort of doctrine can aspire with confidence to any altitude records of after-dinner oratory. Perhaps I can best make my limitations clear by relating to you a brief anecdote. A very young boy once said to his father, 'Papa, why is it?'"

(Insert story of the boy.)

"If I have made my position plain to you, the anecdote has served its purpose, and there but remains for me to say, in the apt and well-chosen words of your honored president: (Insert Guff and Slush.)"

"Ladies and gentlemen, I thank you."

Devotees of The Sheik Will Get This There was a young man named Cor-duff. Who with his lady friends got too rough. He had been reading the Sheik. The poor, silly pique. But now he knows when he has enough.

I. M. SIMPLE

Happy First

Mrs. Figgers (with newspaper): "Do you know, Henry, that every time you draw your breath some one dies?"

Mr. Figgers: "Well, I'm sorry; but I can't help it. If I quit drawing my breath I'll die, too."

The person who gets kicked out of office should at least be given a bottle of liniment to rub on the bruises.

Down in Georgia a fellow rode 12 miles to "beat up" a telephone operator because he couldn't get a number. Up here in the north a lot of folks appreciate the Georgian's frame of mind, but they generally find relief in words instead of taking such a long ride.

Stanford Man Will Attempt Shot Record

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., March 20.—Glenn Hartranft, husky Stanford sophomore, who has been throwing the 16-pound shot farther than it has been thrown in ten years, hopes this year or next to put the big iron ball out far enough to smash the present world's record.

At present the world mark for the event is 51 feet and was set by the late Ralph Rose. Hartranft early this season was putting the shot 50 feet and three quarters of an inch. Coach "Dink" Templeton of the Stanford track team is certain the big fellow will yet break the record.

Hartranft does other things for Stanford besides putting the shot. He is a fast man in the 100 yard dash and put the discus out 144 feet. In football he went in last year as a substitute guard.

Hartranft registers from Fullerton, Cal. Last year when he was a freshman, little was heard of him for he was not eligible to compete for the Cardinal.
