Chance of a Lifetime

The occupants of the parlor car of the Limited were startled by the abrupt entrance of two masked bandits. "Throw up yer hands," commanded the bigger of the two. "We're gonna rob all the gents and kiss all the gals."

"No, pardner," remonstrated the smaller one gallantly. "We'll rob the gents, but we'll leave the ladies alone.

"Mind your own business, young fellow," snapped a female passenger of uncertain age. "The big man is robbing this train."

MILLS CLUB TO MEET

Plans for Improvements to Come Up Tuesday Evening

A. R. Morrison, secretary of the Mills Improvement club, announces that a meeting of the club with Cant. O. C. Applegate, secretary of the city park commission, will be held at the Mills school tomorrow eyening at 8 oclock, for the discussion of improve ment plans for the Mills addition park. A site of approximately two acres. just northeast of the Mills school site, is ready for improvement, having been donated for park purposes by the Klamath Development company in the original platting.

The improvement club is anxious to start tree planting and beautification work, and the meeting temorrow night is to formulate plans and Captain Applegate will be present to outline the policy of the city park commission in supporting the improve-
