LAKE MEN AROUSED

Deride Report of Game Warden That Stockmen Kill Antelope

PORTLAND, April 3.—Sheepmen of Lake county have torn apart the report of F. M. Brown, chief deputy game warden, on the antelope reserve in southern Lake county, according to a reply just received as signed by Con J. O'Keefe, J. D. Kelleher, Ben Daly, John J. O'Keefe, John Singleton, F. M. Miller, P. P. Barry and James Harry Jr.

This report claims that Brown's report to the effect that only between 3000 and 6000 antelope remain in that county is in error and that there are at least 20,000 antelope. They say the stockmen would not kill an antelope to eat as Brown claimed they had been doing because the meat is not fit for consumption.

The reply intimates that the report might have been encouraged by ranchers within the proposed reserve boundaries who hope to gain a monopoly on the reserve feeding ground. They also intimate that the bleached bones of antelope found by Brown might be some of those "killed for scientific purposes" by state and federal wardens during their visits in that section of the country. In conclusion, the reply derides the idea that Brown could complete an adequate report in two weeks of investigation.

RAPID-FIRE ACTION IN STRAND FEATURE FILM

Motion picture patrons who delight in the highest type of photodrama, a story of breathless suspense, mystery and rapid fire action, will find at the Strand theatre tonight Herbert Brenon's brilliant screen interpretation of Louis Joseph Vance's famous novel, "The Lone Wolf," a Spznick special of exceptional quality.

Two stars are presented in this production, and the entire cast of players is practically of stellar quality. The lovely and popular Hazel Dawn is starred together with Bert Lytell. In other roles will be seen a galaxy of popular photoplayers and stage artists, that include such names as Alfred Hickman, Edward Abeles, William E. Shay, Stephen Grattan, William Riley Hatch, Florence Ashbrooks, Juliet Brenon, Joseph Chailier, Ben Graham, Robert Fischer and Master Cornish Beck.

The story centers about a remarkable criminal, who, because of his habit of playing the game single handed and his cleverness in covering his tracks, is known to the police as "The Lone Wolf." In Paris, this man becomes involved in the machinations of a band of crooks who term themselves "The Pack." Among them is a girl who arouses "The Wolf's" interest and in his belief that she is one of his craft, he aids her in escaping from "The Pack."

This escape is fraught with many perils and thrilling episodes. Two good comedies in addition and the country store Thursday night.

Hogs Utilize Waste

Enough waste products exist in the state each year in the form of grain stubble, skim milk, and cull fruits and vegetables to produce economically, if balanced with grain, 375,000 hogs. For the state as a whole one hog can be kept in this manner for every dairy cow, one for every ten acres of grain land, and one hog per farm to clean up the minor wastes. This is a safe production program as the people of Oregon consume annually about 391,000 hogs or about a hog for every two persons.—O. A. C. Experiment station.

URGE LAW TO COOK ALL MILK

The ninth death from septic sore throat in Portland has been reported with the death Friday of Mrs. Helen Lamberson, 79 years old, No. 385 Tenth street. One or two other deaths may be expected, said Dr. R. L. Benson, city bacteriologist, from the 100 cases now believed to exist.

State health authorities asserted today that the disease is milk borne and urge emergency legislation by the city council which would require pasteurization of milk from all dairies before it is put on sale.

Two persons died Sunday—George Wolfe, who had been ill 10 days, and Armand G. Strohecker, Jr., 10-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Strohecker, No. 725 1/2 Patton boulevard.

In a letter to Dr. John C. Abele, acting city health officer, Dr. F. H. Stricker, state health officer, said:

"Streptococcus sore throat is now a recognized disease entity with a distinct clinical history. The cause of this disease is known to be the streptococcus hemolyticus. Most authorities agree that the disease is milk borne. The public should be informed in regard to this fact in order that they may take steps to protect themselves by boiling the milk, especially during the prevalence of an epidemic."

Thives in Ice Cream

"Epidemic sore throat is caused by the ingestion of milk or milk products that contain the streptococcus hemolyticus. It is a known fact that this germ will maintain its virulence for several weeks in ice cream, but the germ is destroyed in sour or acid milk."

The source of contamination is due to the contact of milk with infected milkers and milk handlers. The udder of the cow is infected by the milk and an inflammation of the udder or mastitis takes place.

"In an epidemic of streptococcus sore throat very little good is accomplished by isolation and quarantine of patients. The one effective measure is to eradicate the source of infection. As far as is known at the present time milk is the source of infection. Pasteurization will destroy the germ.

Asks Special Ordinance

"After carefully considering these facts the state board of health recommends that an ordinance be drafted requiring all dealers to pasteurize milk before offering the same for sale. As an emergency measure, the public should be advised to boil all milk that is not pasteurized before using the same."

"Compulsory pasteurization is the solution of this problem and many of the largest cities of this country are demanding that milk before it is offered for sale must be brought to a temperature of 145 degrees F. and held there for 30 minutes."

The only dairy handling pasteurized milk in Klamath Falls is the Holliday Dairy, which not only pasteurizes its entire product, with the exception of that which is ordered otherwise, but uses the most sanitary methods in handling as well, including the use of modern milking machines. No contamination of the product is possible under their method of handling the milk, from the source of supply to the ultimate consumer.—Adv.
