

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

Anybody who can waive all conscientious scruples can become a sort of a "financial wizard," which is a more modern name for a thief.

We're going to buy another suit when congress passes the soldiers' bonus bill, so it looks like we will be wearing nothing but H. V. D.'s for the next few years.

Arthur Wilson says a peasmist's life is seldom as great a burden to him as it is to his neighbors.

DIDN'T WEAR STRAW HATS THEN, IN FACT THEN, IN FACT George Washington was first in peace and first in war, by Jinx. But we'll bet you he wasn't first in a straw hat every spring.

Chicago does not seem to be able to make up its mind whether it has a new crime wave or merely a hold-over from one of the old ones.

We have just noticed somewhere that many an American wife considers her husband a fur-bearing animal.

Cheer up, girls, only two years more till Leap Year.

Thanks say the new dollars won't stack up. The old ones did.

The bankrupt watch company which has run down will be wound up.

Wouldn't This Fire You? "Sure, Casey dropped his shirt down the well. But next day he pumped it up again with the water."

"Oh, I see. A case of pumping up attire!"

Heavens, Yes. Don't try to lift anything too heavy; it will tax your strength, and we have enough taxes now.

Having seen it in the movies nineteen times in two weeks, we are beginning to believe that they really do have toboggan sliding at Quebec.

All He Ever Says Ask your horse if he likes his hay, and all he'll do is murmur, "Neigh."

Cheer Up! Has prosperity returned? What a question! Babe Ruth, $75,000 a year. Jack Dempsey offered $350,000 to fight Will Hays in a $150,000 a year job. Herb Hoover offered $100,000 a year. And then ask a fool question like that.

A fair correspondent comes out in defense of the modern girls, explaining most convincingly that the young men are to blame because they have lost the oldtime sweetness and charm and we are almost certain now, that if the facts were known, Adam took the apple away from Eve by sheer brute force.

Must Be Dr. Cupid "I don't like your heart action," said the doctor, applying his stethoscope. "You've had some trouble with angina pectoris, haven't you?" "You're partly right, doc," answered the young man sheepishly. "Only that ain't her name."

RHEUMATIC ACES QUICKLY RELIEVED THE racking, agonizing rheumatic ache is quickly relieved by an application of Sloan's Liniment. For forty years, folks all over the world have found Sloan's to be the natural enemy of pains and aches. It penetrates without rubbing. You can just tell by its healthy, stimulating odor that it is going to do you good. Keep Sloan's handy for neuralgia, sciatica, lame back, stiff joints, sore muscles, strains and sprains. At all druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

FOX TERRIER HERO

Plays Dramatic Part in Gown Shop Fire; Cat Is Villain

NEW YORK, April 22—A one-eyed angora cat played the role of villain and a small fox terrier that of hero in a fire drama which damaged the exclusive gown shop of Tappe, Inc. in West Fifty-seventh street, just off Fifth avenue.

The cat was blamed by Herman P. Tappe, proprietor, as the "jinx" which caused the fire in which the unnamed terrier was credited with saving many of the 100 young women employes from suffocation by barking a prompt alarm. The cat paid with her life. The girls provided the shopping crowds in the vicinity with thrill after thrill. Some of them slid down on sheet ropes across an area to another roof, still more leaped three or four feet to firemen's arms, and four were carried out by a fireman who collapsed in his fifth trip.

The fire itself was trifling. All the damage and excitement was caused by smoke. The fire started in the basement, and a moment later dense clouds of smoke poured through the five-story building.

Tappe said most of the damage was to gowns ordered by Mrs. George Vanderbilt, Mrs. W. R. Hurst, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. George Widener and other wealthy women, and would total about $40,000.

Tappe said the "jinx" cat was brought in by one of the girls and given a home in the cellar. And Tappe said he blamed the cat alone for the blaze.

Cave Man Stuff BACK near the beginning of things, our prehistoric forebears would have perished from the earth if they had not understood the science of reading advertising. The cavemen didn't know much about underwear, hair tonic or phonographs, but they did have to eat. The one who could follow the tracks of the game he hunted, or read the meaning of a twisted leaf or broken twig, was the best off in life. Then as now, the most consistent reader of advertising was best dressed, best fed and most contented. There has been something of an evolution in advertising in the last few thousands of years, but the principle is just the same. The consistent reader of the advertisements is invariably best informed on what to eat and where to get it; what to wear and how much to pay for it; what to do and how to do it. He's up on the most important things in life. Consequently he gets most from life. Throughout the ages, advertising has done much to make life livable and pleasant. We owe it much. Let's Make the Most of It
