IN THE COURT

Lagason vs. Furch

An order overruling the defendant's motion to strike certain portions of the complaint, and to make it more definite and certain, was signed by Judge Stone, yesterday in the $25,000 damage action of J. S. Lagason against Harry Furch of this city and F. H. Pusey of Oregon City.

Affidavit Filed

Affidavit to command the attendance of the witness Bliss Dedmond, who resides near Silver Lake, Oregon, was filed by attorneys for D. M. McLemore, citing that the witness will give material testimony as to the alleged damages sought to be collected by J. B. Mitchell from McLemore, the First State & Savings Bank, and Marshall Hooper.

Deposition Received

Deposition of C. B. Wilson of Flagstaff, Arizona, to be used in the $100,000 damage case of J. B. Mitchell against Marshall Hooper, the First State & Savings Bank and D. M. McLemore, was received this morning by the clerk of the circuit court. Under the law such depositions are not opened until the time of the trial, unless by special stipulation of both parties to a litigation. This case is now set down for trial May 22 and will be a jury trial.

Humphrey vs. Sprague River Co.

Amended supplemental answer was filed by the Sprague River Lumber company this morning to the suit brought against them by Ivan Lee Humphrey, a minor, who is asking damages from the Lumber company for alleged injuries while employed in their plant.

ROMANCE BETWEEN JACK DEMPSY AND PEGGY JOYCE

anything but business. It was love that she wanted. Along came James Stanley Joyce, Chicago lumberman. The morning after he met Peggy he sent her a truckload of roses and a $130,000 diamond ring.

As soon as the Hopkins divorce was settled, Joyce married Peggy. They went abroad on their honeymoon. But the husband returned alone.

Peggy was too much in demand. So he started divorce proceedings, naming a long list of co-respondents, including a prince, a dancer, a duke, a New York restaurant keeper, and Letellier.

The divorce was granted last November. Peggy received a million and a quarter dollars for her settlement.

Since then she has been living in Paris.

PETITION URGES RESUMPTION ON NINE HOURS BASIS

Wherefore, Believing that the best interests of the whole community demand it, we declare that we will do everything in our power to accomplish the following results:

1—The resumption of work in the lumber industry on a nine-hour day.

2—The protection of all persons desiring to work.

3—The establishment in Klamath county of the American plan in all business and industry.

That the action of the citizens' committee may be productive of results was the opinion expressed by Sheriff L. L. Low and Chief of Police H. S. Wilson. Each doubted the probability of trouble, but declared that any infraction of the law would be met promptly. Wilson quoted from Section 2176 of the Oregon Statutes as follows:

"It is a criminal offense for any person by threats or intimidation, to endeavor to prevent any person employed by another from continuing to perform his work, or from engaging in any new work or employment. It is a criminal offense for any person to circulate any false written or printed matter in order to induce others not to deal with any employer with the intent to compel such employer to employ or not to employ particular persons."

"That's the plain law," said the chief. "If it is violated, I intend to do my duty. The situation here is bad enough now and any trouble will be promptly suppressed, no matter who may be the guilty persons."

Sheriff Low concurred with Chief Wilson. "I believe that the labor controversy will be settled without trouble," he said. "The big question is to get the mills going, and the men at work. Confidence will then be restored and business will return to normalcy. But, if the mills resume operations and trouble results, all the arms of the sheriff's office will be called to enforce peace."

Both Low and Wilson said they wanted it understood that their attitude in the strike situation was entirely neutral.

BROWER GIVEN TIME

Will Present Further Evidence on 20th in Sewer Case

Proceedings in the case of C. C. Brower, under arrest charged with failure to comply with the city ordinance providing for sewer connections with residence property, were continued by Police Judge Leavitt this afternoon until May 20, when Brower will present further authorities to substantiate his arguments on the demurrer. Brower today started work on the sewer connection at his residence. He is still subject to a fine, however, under the charge against him.

MAIL GOES BY STAGE

Service to Ashland Resumed This Morning, Postmaster Announces

Mail service by stage between here and Ashland was resumed this morning, Postmaster McCall announced today. The outgoing stage leaves about 8 o'clock and mail closes at the postoffice at 7:30. Incoming mail will arrive here at 4 o'clock, too late for city delivery, but in time for distribution to boxes on the day of arrival. Later when the Green Springs Mountain road is open the running time will be cut an hour, and the stage will arrive at 3 o'clock.

MEETINGS WELL ATTENDED

Good attendance at all meetings held throughout the county during dairy week was reported by Frank Sexton, county club agent. E. B. Pitts, dairy specialist of O. A. C., spoke at Summers, Merrill, Malin, Bonanza and Mt. Laki, where great interest was shown. Pitts was particularly interested in the work of the boys and girls clubs. Sexton said, declaring their work represented the foundation for future dairying in Klamath county. Pitts returned yesterday to O. A. C.

"Keeping Up with Lizzie" featuring Enid Bennett

Lizzie Had Social Aspirations

And every man, woman and child in her home town did their "durstest" to follow the pace she set. They sure did step some. Automobiles were as common as crows in the head—everybody had one!—and diamond-studded brognettes waved in the breeze. Then came the blow that brought the fair Elizabeth—and with her, the whole town—down out of the clouds and back to earth again. And Lizzie and her Dan settled down on a tiny farm to raise a lot of cows and geese and ducks and everything, while the Count sailed back to Italy, a sadder and a wiser man. It's a whole of a picture, with a laugh or a thrill in every foot of film, and 'way down underneath a great big wonderful moral it will help us all to heed.

Extra Adden Attraction

The three chums, W. E. Lake, A. McLane and M. Martin in old-time music, songs and dances. Featuring A. McLane, the 79-year-old clog dancer, also Baby Martin in songs. A real old-fashioned treat.
