GROWING WARM

IT BEGINS to look like a horse race in the governorship contest. The contenders are warming up to their work and it really looks as if we were going to get a political campaign out of it yet.

Ike Patttrson has his coat off and his hurling arm is busy with the Hall ramparts as the target. He wants to meet Hall in public debate and learn what interest the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company has in the Coos and Curry Telephone company, of which Hall is president.

The underlying idea is ,and Senator Patterson frankly says so, to compromise Hall, who if a bill to be submitted at the fall election carries and Hall is coincidentally elected governor, will have the power of appointing the state public service commission.

Bluntly, it is the old cry of corporate control—a candidate seeking to turn the state over to the interests.

Political observers see only three candidates for the republican nomination—Olcott, Hall and Patterson.

Olcott, of course, has the incumbent's advantage—organized strength, which is difficult of measurement, for its members work quietly. As in a pugilistic encounter, it is up to the contender to push the fighting.

The governor appears to be taking full advantage of his position. He is quietly attending to the affairs of the state and shattering precedent by refusing to make a campaign tour.

Such confidence begets confidence, and when the "silent vote"—the quiet mass of voters who keep their thoughts to themselves and express their will by their ballots—gets to the polls on election day, it will be surprising if the turbulent campaigners who are raising such outcry now are not left far in the rear.

It looks from this distance like Olcott—by a big majority.

Hall is counting heavily on the endorsement of the federation of patriotic societies, with which he entered the campaign. In the general mind the federation of partiotic societies smacks of the Ku Klux Klan. There are said to be 25,000 klansmen in the state, solid for Hall. But for every klansman, there are six voters who will not heed the klan call—and, moreover, will go to the polls with the idea of balloting the klan and its efforts to establish an "invisible empire" in Oregon out of existence.

Unless we are much mistaken this vote will center on Olcott.

For those who like the whoop and hurrah of the old-time political campaign, the closing week of this contest is likely to furnish real thrills. But when the tumult and the shouting dies, we expect to find the tumultuous ones have split the short end of the ballot, and Oregon's quiet governor will quietly gather up the reins for another four years.

UPHOLDS COUNTY UNIT PLAN

Some very impossible and even ludicrous ideas are being circulated concerning the county unit plan for schools and it is the purpose of this article to correct such reports.

First of all, the plan is not to abandon the present schools. Each district will retain its own boundaries and its own building and the children will attend school just as always, it would be a human impossibility to take care of the children if the schools were abandoned and what would be the purpose of such a scheme? If the people will just realize that this board will be composed of five persons from the county district at large, doubtless both and women, selected by the vaious communities, who will act accordingl to the wishes of their communities and for the best interests of the children of all of the children of the county they will see that there is nothing preposterous about the plan.

The law states that this board may consolidate schools only where feasible and this means only where the geographical and road conditions make it at all desirable. It has been state times before that the present district boundary board has exactly the same power and has had for two years but one does not hear of this board abusing or even exercising this authority for the conditions of this county do not favor consolidation.

It is the belief of those interested in this plan that if any five directors picked at random from the present boards were told that they were the county school board, that the responsibility of administering the schools depended upon them, that they were to meet at least once a month and conduct the business of all of the schools of the county district they would do it and do it well. At present in most districts the interest and responsibility displayed may be illutrated by the following example of the annual school election.

In some districts the people, in spite of the election notices posted, forget and do not hold a meeting at all. In others, it operates something like this. Bill Jones wife reminds him that this is annual school meeting day. He rather reluctantly starts for the school house, sees neighbor Smith plowing as he passes, calls to him to come on over. Now Smith is late with his farm work and replies "Can't go. Joones, you go on over."

Jones answers "Smith, if you don't come on, we'll put you in as director." Perhaps, just perhaps Smith goes.

By dint of much pulling and persuading they succeed in getting three or four people out to attend the annual school meeting. So it goes on year after year.

As has been stated before, each district will retain its board who will be the advisors for the county board, gives each community representation.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers you, drink lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning fo ra ew days and your kidneys will act ine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney toruble and backache.—Adv.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from and drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.
