TICKET SALES HEAVY

Chautauqua Director Says People Appreciate Season Rates

Chautauqua tickets are selling well, according to Mrs. M. C. Reed, local director, who is here arranging details for the opening of the six-day convention, which begins Tuesday afternoon. The site is on Pine street between Seventh and Eighth.

Most people appreciate the gain in buying season tickets, says Mrs. Reed and the guarantors are readily disposing of their quotas. For those who are not familiar with the advantage she points out that single admissions for every performance during the six-day season would cost $7.50; for evenings alone about $4.35. Season tickets sell for $2.50 and entitle holders to admission to every performance and are exchangeable among family members.

The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy commenced to register a rising barometric pressure about 4 o'clock this morning and at 2 this afternoon the tendency was still upward. The indications are that tomorrow will be fine.

Cuts Down Hall's Lead; Three Republican Counties Not In

PORTLAND, May 20.—3:33 p. m.—Up-state gains for Olcott tabulated this afternoon cut down somewhat Hall's lead. Four hundred and twenty-two precincts out of 426 in Multnomah, combined with the latest returns from 32 counties, gave Hall 27,703, Olcott 27,045. Multnomah's share of these figures was Hall 19,356, Olcott 18,418.

PORTLAND, May 20.—3:35 p. m.—Counties from which no returns have been received are Grant, Lake and Harney, with a total of 4723 registered republican voters.

PORTLAND, May 20.—3:30 p. m.—Returns from 34 counties this afternoon gave Hall 34,799, Olcott 33,663. This included 414 Multnomah precincts and incomplete returns from 32 other counties. Multnomah gave Hall 18,705, up-state 16,094. Multnomah gave Olcott 17,820, up-state 15,843.

PORTLAND, May 20.—(By Associated Press)—Governor Ben W. Olcott, who a week ago declared war on the "invisible empire" of the Ku Klux Klan in a scathing proclamation denouncing masked and hooded organizations, was running behind State Senator Charles Hall of Marshfield for republican nomination for governor on returns from yesterday's primary. The last week primary campaign was featured by bitterness, and though Hall had made no public declaration in favor of the Ku Klux Klan, the forces in the state sympathizing with that organization rallied to his support and he drew the lion's share of the vote for the field of five candidates opposing the governor.

At 2 p. m. Hall maintained his lead over Olcott as additional returns were tabulated. Three hundred and thirteen Multnomah precincts and returns from 29 counties gave Hall 27,490, Olcott 25,562.

A new tabulation gave Hoff 30,500, Ryan 26,306, Dalziel 27,758, Campbell 2254, Layman 9610, Republican National Commitman Williams 29,751, Fithian 25,182. Renomination of Oregon's three congressmen seemed assured. Hawley 10,429, Norblad 7482, Fisher 3601; Sinnott 4324, Gwinn 3133; McArthur 11,167, Korrell 10,656, Crumpacker 7815.

CLAIM OF MILL MEN DENIED BY TIMBERWORKERS

Statement of Number Left in This District Is Held Unreasonable

Denial of the claim of the operators that only 121 strikers remain in this district, basing the figures on the number attending the meeting Friday, is contained in the following statement issued today by the timberworkers:

The statement by the operators of only 121 strikers being left in this district is so unreasonable that a clear statement of fact and figures is hereby given and can easily be verified by attending gatherings of these strikers as shown by last Sunday's meeting attended by over 700.

This strike has been in progress nearly three months during which period some 300 of these strikers have accepted employment in local mills, but have not returned to work and other lines of work and were not notified of the conference held between employers and strikers on May 15, 1922. These strikers have barred every entrance to the mill on the 15th of May, 1922, working for these few companies represented in the conference. All striking employees of other companies were not admitted, all striking employees of each and every saw-mill were barred. Of the several hundred strikers who have struck or who have refused to accept employment in the woods on the nine-hour day, and the several hundred workmen who have been employed into coming into this territory under misrepresentation of no strike existing making a grand total of some several hundred workmen in this territory on strike at this time for the maintenance of the eight-hour day, all were denied admittance to the conference, called presumably to settle the existing controversy.

We contest the statement made by the operators that there are working for these employers represented in this conference even as many as 150 employees and their statement of 540 men is far-fetched, unreasonable, and having the same degree of truth as other statements made by them in the past. Of these men now employed there are practically no original strikers, being composed of high school boys and girls, floaters, office employees, relations, and foremen and straw-bosses, it being a well-known and admitted fact that there are no workmen employed in any of these plants.

Recent investigation has disclosed the astounding fact that greater of the majority of the plants in California are operating on the eight-hour day at a wage in excess of that being offered here for the nine-hour day. Some of the plants operating on the eight-hour day in California are: The Miller Hive and Box Co., Los Angeles, Southern California Box Co., Mercantile Box Co., Pacific Box Factory, Oakland Box Factory, The Alameda Box Co., in fact, the box industry of that entire section.

It is sufficient that the wage scale offered at this conference was a replica of that of the company-owned closed towns of the Long Bell and like interests, which places draw their employees principally from the ranks of that floating population who are unable to hold jobs on merits.

Now as to the proposition which was submitted by the employers: Another significant fact was: "Working hours were not to be changed (if the men would accept the nine hours) during the year 1922." This is guarantee and a positive assurance to the employees that on Jan. 1, 1923, in the dead of winter, working hours would be changed, of course, to the 10-hour day. Is it to be wondered that we rejected this unshy proposition?

LUMBER MILLS BUSY 30,000 YOUNG MEN WILL TURN OUT FOR MILITARY TRAINING

Production One Per Cent Above Normal in Northwest

PORTLAND, May 20.—One hundred and thirty-two mills reporting to West Coast Lumbermen's Association for the week ending May 13th, manufactured 85,409,571 feet of lumber; sold 98,406,301 feet; and shipped 88,660,211 feet.

30,000 YOUNG MEN WILL TURN OUT FOR MILITARY TRAINING

Citizens Camps Will Open During July; Idea Said to Be Becoming Immensely Popular

By EDWARD M. THIERRY
NEW YORK, May 20.—"Let's go!" That snappy call immortalized by doughboys in France is the call Uncle Sam is sending out to citizen soldiers.

Thirty thousand young men, answering it, will undergo a month's course at 25 citizens' military training camps throughout the country. Names of applicants are now being listed and the camps will be open during July and August.

The citizens' military training camps are conducted by the war department under the national defense act. Service is voluntary, the government paying all expenses including transportation.

Popularity Grows
"The idea is growing immensely popular," says Colonel Arthur F. Cosby, secretary of the military training camps association, cooperating with the government. "It is an extension and development of the Plattsburg camps of 1913, 1914 and 1915.

"Last year there were 12 camps with 10,000 men. There were 40,000 applications, but only 10,000 could be accommodated. This year, with twice as many camps, 30,000 can be accommodated.

"President Harding has publicly approved the plan of working up gradually to the point where 100,000 young men will attend the training camps each year. Next year we

PLAY WELL RECEIVED

Appreciative Audience of 250 Attend Mills Performance

An appreciative audience of some 250 persons packed the Mills school Thursday night for the performance of "Three Hats," a ridiculously funny three-act comedy that provoked volleys of laughter and applause. The purpose of the affair, wiping out the debt on the school piano, was accomplished, with a margin to spare.
