

IN THE COURT

Kesterson, et al vs. Copco
Two orders were signed this morning by Judge Stone in the cases for damages brought by I. E. Kesterson, and several insurance companies against the California Oregon Power Company, denying motions to strike certain portions of the plaintiff's complaints and to make more definite and certain. The two cases involve practically the same state of facts, in which damages aggregating $255,260.87 is asked for alleged faulty wiring of the power company causing the fire which destroyed the Kesterson plant. The orders provide that the defendant Power Company shall have ten days in which to file an answer in each case.

Thomas vs. Evans Shoe Co.
Suit was filed this morning by Bert C. Thomas, in his own name against the Evans Shoe Company, on behalf of four outside companies, and on four separate counts, seeking to recover amounts alleged due from the local shoe company aggregating $2,167.35, and $150 attorneys' fees. The four counts are as follows: Buckingham & Hecht of California $1500; Dolliver Bros., $475; California Glove company, $106; and Garadin-Collins Shoe company, $86.35, together with costs of action.

BIG FORUM PROGRAM

Noted Chautauqua Speakers to Appear Wednesday Afternoon
Members of the Ellison-White Chautauqua who will appear on the second day's program will speak at the chamber of commerce forum Wednesday noon.
The forum chairman announced this morning that all of the personnel of the Chautauqua will be present and that Miss Margaret Garrison, the only woman that has ever won the national oratorical contest will give a reading and a short talk. Glenn L. Morris, scientist, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peet and Normand Pierce of Sydney, Australia, will all be present. Harold Peet is the author of "Over the Top," "Private Peet" and other stories. Mrs. Reed, manager of the Klamath Falls program, will preside.
Margaret Garrison, who will be the principal speaker, is rated as one of the best woman speakers in the country. Mrs. Harold Peet was at one time editor of a woman's journal in England that compares favorably with the Ladies Home Journal of this country. Mrs. Peet will also speak.

NEW MILK ORDINANCE

Measure Will Provide for Inspection of Dairies Selling Here
Passage of the dairy ordinance, providing for inspection of all dairies selling milk and cream in this city, and consideration of the fire alarm system bid was the principal business before the city council last night. The meeting was adjourned until 5:30, Wednesday afternoon, when the fire committee will report on the fire alarm bid.
The dairy ordinance provides strict sanitary measures and license fees as follows: sale of three quarts daily, $3 per annum; 20 quarts, $6; 50 quarts, $15; 100 quarts, $25. The fees will go to pay an inspector, and $150 will be allowed him by the city. The ordinance passed to second reading.

The Gamewell Fire Alarm & Telegraph company was the only firm to submit a bid. The figures were $8,445 and $8,120, the lower bid providing for acceptance of other specifications.

The contract between the city and the Oregon, California & Eastern Railway company, signed by Robert E. Strahorn, president, was submitted but had not been signed today by Mayor Wiley for the city. The contract provides resumption of construction on or before June 25, 1922, and completion and operation of the road from Dairy to Sprague river on or before May 29, 1923. The agreement to start construction within the 60-day period came as a result of the city's announced intention to cancel the original contract with Strahorn.

Application of Ted White to erect a banner across the Main street from the Strand theatre was referred to the street committee. The application of O. D. Matthews to construct a residence on block 51, Nichols addition, to cost $4,000 was granted.

LIFE BECOMES HAZARDOUS FOR PINE BEETLE

eggs are laid and the adult bug dies at the end of its furrow. It takes about 2000 bugs to kill a tree in a single attack.
Infect'd Trees Marked
The method now being used to eradicate the pest is to have a "spotter" go in advance and find and mark the infected trees, which are then felled and barked and the bark and limbs piled against the tree and burned.

As soon as the new beetles begin to fly the work is stopped until the fall season. In the lowlands they will start to fly this week, but the work will continue in the higher elevations until about June 15, when the work will be closed down for this spring.

In 1920 the pine beetle destroyed timber to the value of $351,000 in the Klamath district, while in the same year the total loss by fire did not exceed $26,000.

The project is financed by state and federal aid, which is matched by timber operators. The 1921 state legislature passed a law making it obligatory for timber owners to take part in the fight, and providing that all work done for a particular timber owner may be assessed as a lien against the lands and collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes, being second only to a tax lien.

MEDICOS TO CONVENE

Feature Will Be Educational Exhibit by 48 Physicians

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 23.—A feature of the annual session of the American Medical Association which opened here Monday, was an educational exhibit, presented by 48 physicians, of recent advances in medical science, teaching and organization.

Most of the national organizations devoted to education of the public including the child hygiene association, Red Cross, American society for the control of cancer, the association for the prevention and relief of heart disease and the national organization for public health nursing presented outlines of their methods of work, their activities and complete sets of the literature used by them in their educational efforts.

The United States public service presented an exhibit of its work in child health and in the prevention of social disease.

Other exhibits included demonstrations of work on the prevention of ringworm in the south, on the treatment of cancer, on occupational therapy and demonstration of a method for showing by the X-ray the position and appearance of various organs within the abdomen.

SPEEDY COLLAPSE OF GERMAN FINANCIAL SYSTEM

one and a half billion gold marks—the product of the work of a million men and women.

The cost of living in Germany in August, 1921, was 14 times as much as before the war. In March, 1922, it was 32 times as much.

Grain costs 53 times as much. Consumption of meat is only 40 per cent of pre-war consumption and bread 24 per cent.

Standards of life are lower and taxation is highest of any country.

By EDWARD M. THEERRY
NEW YORK, May 23.—Karl Lang is the German "Coal Oil Johnny."

"I shudder to think what a spendthrift I am," he says. "In two months in America I've spent a wagon load of money."

Lang is German consul general to New York and for two months was charge d'affaires at Washington and acting ambassador until the arrival May 13, of Ambassador Otto L. Wiedfeldt.

"It cost a million marks to bring my furniture and household goods from Germany," says Lang. "Upkeep of the German embassy costs several million marks a month. The government has to pay the enormous amounts because of the low exchange."

"It cost my wife and me 150,000 marks for steamship passage to New York. To live we spend 15,000 marks a month—enough for a couple to live on a year and a half at home."

"When we go out to lunch it costs us 1000 marks. With that same amount my mother, in Germany, lives two months."

First Envoy Since War
Lang was the first envoy sent here by Germany since the war. He is under medium height, with a bald head, a fringe of light hair, a gray, living mustache and blue eyes.

"It is not so hard a job as I thought it would be," he said. "I have been treated very well. I think hostility toward Germany is disappearing. People seem to believe that our present government is trying to do the right thing."
