SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1922.

THAT old woe so dearly loved by lawyers examining jurors—Have you read any newspapers about this case?—has been given a poke on the jaw by Judge Bingham of Roseburg, who says:
A person has the right to believe what he reads in the newspapers is true and the fact that he has read about a case need not disqualify him for jury service.

A PLAIN FIZZLE

AS LONG as the recall exists as a punitive weapon to be wielded at the whim of a prejudiced electorate, intelligent men are going to be chary of seeking public office.

Every ballot clerk in the state, who served at the last election, will support the statement that a large number of voters did not appear to know what they were driving at in the recall. Many voted for the recall of Fred Williams as incumbent commissioner, dropped their pencil a line and instead of voting for Kerrigan, made a cross opposite the name of Williams, the official whom a moment before they had voted to recall.

It will be a long, cold day in Oregon, we wager, before another public service commission, unless the selection of its members by popular vote is abolished in November, takes a stand against the popular demand in any matter of such general importance as the telephone rate case that brought about the downfall of Williams and Butchel.

Not only is it poor public policy to recall a public officer for doing what he conceives to be his duty, but if the commission was right in the telephone rate case the action of the people at the polls is not going to encourage any great horde of corporate investors to seek profits from their surplus in development of Oregon utility enterprises.

The voters may have reached the end aimed at, but it looks to us as if we were in the position of the western lynching party, who discovering that the wrong man had been their victim sought to make amends by the leader's naive apology to the widow—"Well, ma'am, it looks like the joke's on us."

The result of the recall probably is disappointing to the recalled commissioners, but we venture to say that the results of such haphazard punishment in the long run will fall far heavier and do more damage to the future of the state than to the reputations and future prosperity of the men who were punished for fulfilling their conception of official duty.

Many a man who thinks he was a fool when he married hadn't changed.

These oil stock suckers would better let wells enough alone.

Every day the miner strike continues we predict a harder winter.

When a man says he can't do a thing that proves it.

The more crops come up, the more prices go down.

EVERYBODY'S DOING IT

Three of the city's trucks were kept busy yesterday in the west side district hauling away litter that has been rounded up in the clean-up and paint-up campaign. W. O. Smith, chairman of the street committee of the city council, said this morning that the trucks were having all they could take care of, an indication that the movement has met with the approval of all the citizens.

children's division, distributed among

To save a shift on hills Many an automobile fails to deliver the power and speed of which it is capable, fails in acceleration and on the hills, because of poor lubrication.
The purpose of lubrication is to reduce friction. In this connection it must be remembered that oils have internal or molecular friction. The heavier the oil the more this internal friction, which has to be overcome by and uses up power.
The ideal oil for the automobile is the thinnest oil which will keep the bearing surfaces separated, and at the same time offer in itself the least frictional resistance to the engine power going to the rear or driving wheels.
Such an oil—if it has "oiliness," stability and purity,—will give perfect lubrication, and permit the development of the maximum power, speed and gasoline mileage of the car.
Zerolene meets these conditions perfectly.
Oiliness—Stability—Purity Zerolene has great "oiliness," which causes it to cling to bearing surfaces while offering in itself a minimum of frictional resistance to the engine power.
It has great stability, which causes it to resist engine heat and to form a minimum of carbon of a soft, flaky nature which goes out with the exhaust.
And it is pure.
If you follow the Zerolene chart of Correct Lubrication, you will develop the maximum power, speed and gasoline mileage of your car.
