

I. W. W. SUSPECTS ARE HELD FOR INVESTIGATION

Three Bound Over to Grand Jury; Bonds $2,000; One Acts as Counsel

Preliminary hearing held in the justice court this morning in the matter of the three I. W. W. members arrested last week on a charge of criminal syndicism resulted in Leonard Bolton, Morris Daily and Adolph Vanbusness being bound over to the grand jury. Bonds were fixed at $2,000 each, in default of which they were remanded back to the custody of the sheriff and returned to jail.

The statement was made by Bolton at the opening of the hearing that he had no authority to employ counsel without consulting with headquarters at Chicago, and that such authority had not yet been given him, but he would act as counsel for himself and the other two defendants. Deputy District Attorney West examined the officers who made the arrest, and after a brief statement submitted the matter to the court. Bolton argued to the court that there was no evidence showing that they were members of the I. W. W. This contradicted the sworn testimony of the sheriff and chief of police that all three admitted membership in the organization at the time of arrest.

Bolton said: "We do not admit membership in the I. W. W., but we do not deny it."

Justice Gaskagen said he felt justified in binding them over to the grand jury for a more thorough investigation. Bolton contended that he would act as counsel for himself and the others through the investigation and jury trial, should there be one.

Stork Brings Twin Girls Doctor Wins Double Fee

HEALDSBURG, Calif., May 29.—A double fee if the expected burden of the stork to the home of Ray Latton of Cloverdale, near here, proved to be a girl, was recently offered by Latton to Dr. J. H. Swisher of this city.

"That's perfectly agreeable to me," said the doctor.

"But you win which ever way it goes," suggested Latton, on second thought.

The doctor, however, was a sportsman, and declined to accept any fee at all if the child proved to be a boy.

A few hours later the stork arrived with twin daughters.

"The bill will be four times the ordinary fee, of course," said Dr. Layton.

NEW IRRIGATION BILL OF INTEREST TO LAND OWNERS

Measure Provides for Application of Reclamation Law to Irrigation Districts

A bill that will interest all land owners of the Klamath Irrigation project has been introduced in the house. It provides for the application law to the irrigation districts, and of chief interest is a section allowing farmers on government projects to obtain loans from the Farm loan association, regardless of the liens on the land held by the United States government.

This lien feature has hitherto operated against the farmer in seeking a loan, and it has been necessary to go through a long string of red tape to secure a waiver of the prior government lien if a loan was secured at all.

The bill was drafted by a committee of which Congressman N. J. Sinnott was a member. He was also one of the conferees from the house and senate that passed upon the bill, which is entitled Public Law No. 219.

3 MOONSHINE ARRESTS

Morris Johnson, Wallace Ware and Jim Leonard Are Taken

Free as the birds Saturday morning, Morris Johnson and Wallace Ware, charged with moonshine activities, today are accompanying Deputy U. S. Marshall Davidson to Portland to face the federal court.

The two were arrested Saturday at Pine Flat, about 19 miles from here, where a still, a gallon of moonshine and a quantity of mash were found. They waived hearing before U. S. Commissioner Bert C. Thomas yesterday afternoon.

Johnson was arrested last October in connection with a liquor raid on a rooming house he was conducting adjoining the Hirvi bakery, at which time Mrs. Johnson was found under the influence of liquor, and is held under $750 bond for the October term of federal court at Medford.

Jim J. Leonard another old offender, was brought in from Fort Klamath yesterday charged with violation of the national prohibition act, a previous violation of which caused him to serve 90 days in the federal prison in Portland last fall. Leonard said he would waive hearing and is held in jail pending arrival from Fort Klamath of bondsmen.

PRINCE MOVIE STAR

Film Record of World Tour Will Be Released With Return

LONDON, May 29.—The Prince of Wales will appear in the new role of premier, British film star when the official cinematographic record of his world tour in a serial of six two-reel episodes, will be released simultaneously with his return to England in June. These films later will be exhibited in America.

Three cameramen were attached to the royal party, and they made an intimate record of the prince's journey, which it is claimed will rival the best American thrillers.

The prince is featured landing at Bombay, in parades and gymkhanas, riding winners on Indian race courses, watching the famous devil dancers, visiting the tomb of Agra and the gold domed mosque of Lahore, and tiger hunting in Nepal. It is stated that the prince objected to posing as a big game hunter, consequently he will not be shown in the act of shooting.

The film begins with an unposed picture of the prince taken unaware. It bears the sub-title of one of his most familiar comments, "photographs are a nuisance."

WAR ON DRUG EVIL

Narcotic Control Association Seeks National Investigation

PORTLAND, May 29.—The Oregon Narcotic Control association, which carried on a campaign for several months preceding the enactment by congress of the Jones-Miller bill, which makes more stringent the federal anti-narcotics law, is now engaged in another effort against the drug evil. Backing a movement looking toward an international conference to smash at the root of the traffic, the Oregon delegation has urged the Oregon association has urged the Oregon delegation in congress to work for the passage of the Volk resolution calling for a national investigation of the business in illicit destructive drugs.

Portland newspapers several months ago started a crusade against the illicit drug traffic with the result that city and state officers have energetically taken up the fight through the Oregon Narcotics Control association, and courts have sentenced several narcotic dealers to the federal penitentiaries for stiff terms.

INDUSTRIES IN WEST CONTINUE TO SHOW GAINS

Unusual Activity Apparent; Improvement in Lumber Outstanding Feature

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Unusual activity in the mining, oil and lumber industries throughout the west, continued strength in the banking situation, and comparative dullness in wholesale and retail trade are noted in the report for April of John Perrin, San Francisco, federal reserve agent for the 12th district.

"Improvement in the lumber industry was the outstanding feature," according to the report. "Production during April was 95 per cent of normal, and during the first two weeks of May reached normal. Orders received during April exceeded production by 27.1 per cent, this being the fifth consecutive month in which demand has exceeded current production."

"The mining industry is reported more active than at any time in the past year. Gold and silver mines with the richer ore deposits, and which have been closed down, are being worked again, and 12 of the 16 large copper companies of the district are now in operation after a year of comparative inactivity or of complete cessation of operations."

"Petroleum production continues at record levels, but consumption has been lagging behind output, and stored stocks on May 1 were 14,438,288 barrels, the largest amount since April 1917, and 56.9 per cent greater than one year ago."

Yields Exceed Normal
"Wheat or better than normal yields of most of the agricultural crops of the district are expected. The May estimate of the United States department of agriculture places the yield of winter wheat at 72,829,000 bushels, a decrease of 7,949,000 bushels, or 9.3 per cent, from last year's record crop and an increase of 28.5 per cent over the previous five year average. Deciduous fruit orchards, excepting apricots, are in good condition. Fairly accurate estimates of the damage done to the California orange crop by the January frosts are now available and it is expected that approximately 68 per cent (13,050,000 boxes) of the previously estimated crop will be marketable. Prices of agricultural products were relatively stable during April and the gains of the previous three months were generally held. Tentative prices for fruits and actual prices of livestock and wool are well above prices of one year ago."

Banks Reflect Activity
"Increased activity in industry and agriculture is reflected in the loans and discounts of reporting member banks which increased from $864,264,000, to $853,231,000, or 2.3 per cent during April. At the same time

Some Capture Lone Fish Others Have Good Time

Drawn by reports of wonderful catches, and armed with every form of bait from Angle worms to spinners, a large portion of the population of Klamath Falls sought the wily lake trout in its supposed fair below the Copco dam on Link river yesterday forenoon.

Apparently, however, it was the trout's day off. Catches were few and far between, and even a strike was sufficient to draw observing and hopeful fishermen from other locations to concentrate on the capture of the lone fish. Several caught two or three, as many more caught one, while a majority merely had a good time.

Reports were that fishing in Upper Lake is improving, and it is probable the exodus next Sunday, will be in that direction.
