

IN THE COURT

Ingraham vs. Cleveger
Suit was filed Monday by James Ingraham against H. L. and Lillian Cleveger for the collection of a $200 promissory note, and also asking for $50 attorneys fees, together with a request that a lien be allowed against 120 acres of land in sections seven and 17 in township 40, in this county.

Judge Says Disqualified
Circuit Judge A. L. Leavitt announced this morning that he was disqualified to hear a motion for setting aside the injunction and removing of receiver in the case of Rob't. F. Ryan against Frank B. Robinson, Credit Service company, Bert C. Thomas and Belle Fulton, on the grounds that the defendant Robinson was related to him. The case had its origin in the filing of suits against Ryan and Robinson jointly as owning and operating the Merrill Drug store, attempting to collect certain Portland and San Francisco accounts on which attachments proceedings were issued. Ryan then filed the suit that was up on motion today and obtained an injunction order and the appointment of a receiver of the Merrill store last week.

Attorneys for the defense requested Judge Leavitt to communicate with the chief justice at Salem with a view to having some nearby circuit judge assigned to hear the matter, which he said that he would do, but that he would prefer to have the matter taken care of by Judge Skipworth of Eugene who has been assigned to hear the court house case, providing he would be here in a short time.

American Legion

PORTLAND, Oregon—American Legion posts are asked to submit entries for athletic games, field events, swimming and diving contests to be held at the national convention of the American Legion in New Orleans next October, according to advices received by state Legion headquarters in Portland. The Oregon Department is considering the organization of a strong football team to be pitted against the legion football teams of the country at New Orleans.

Reedsport, Oregon, Post No. 62, American Legion, lays claim to having among its members, the oldest enlisted man who served Uncle Sam during the world war. His name is Jesse F. Inman, an enthusiastic member of the Reedsport post, who was born on the sixth day of March in 1849 and served as a civilian scout in the Sioux War in 1871 and 1887. He enlisted for service in the Navy as a blacksmith at San Francisco, Cal. He is 73 years of age, hale and hearty and engaged in Salvation Army work in Douglas county.

NORTH BEND, Oregon—The hall being built by the Sunset Post No. 34 American Legion of North Bend will be erected on the corner of Union and Washington streets and will be 100 by 120 feet. Under present plans, the legion building corporation will dedicate the hall on the Saturday night, July 1st, and will give public dances on Monday and Tuesday during the celebration. The building will cost $21,000.

HOOD RIVER, Oregon—Announcement by the Hood River American Legion Post that radio concerts will be a feature of the second Annual Mt. Hood Climb, scheduled for July this year, has created a surprising interest, according to Kent Shoemaker, chairman. It is proposed to open the camp in the future for a week or more with skiing and other snow-field sports entered. This year it has been limited to two days. It is anticipated that national and state legion officials, city and state officers will attend the affair.

Letters from the People

SAYS PRIMARY AND RECALL ARE ALL RIGHT

Editor Herald—Difference of opinion does not infer enemies. Therefore, I wish to take exception to your editorial advocating doing away with the recall and primary. Was not King Charles of England beheaded in 1649 because he tried to take away from the people their rights to make laws to govern themselves? And are you not beheading the party your paper represents in advocating the return of convention or delegate system of selecting officers for election? That old machine-controlled, secret, special-privileged system, where the average voter had about as much to say whom his choice for candidate would be as though he were never a citizen at all. Although you are sustained in your position by the president of your party, Mr. Harding, as to the recall, why the fuss and sympathy to the candidates recalled? Are there not such circumstances happening daily in private operations? Men are discharged for cause; the same as the people discharged Butchell and Williams. The cause in the judgment of the people was sufficient to remove them. And personally I congratulate them on what they did, based on evidence as I have it. I ask no one to keep me in a position. Neither will efficient management keep in a position an employe who is not true to his employer. The people are the employers. Why ask to take that power away from them, in doing away with the recall? The chances of injustice to the employe is mighty small. I will ask you a question, and that is, what position did your paper take to enlighten the people on the justifiable merits of recalling Butchell and Williams? Nothing either way. So, because two employes are fired, you take the position that the employer ought to be deprived of the right to fire them by doing away with recall. ELWOOD W. ROBERTS.
