ADVERTISING

HE value of newspaper advertising for the purpose of stirring up and holding new business wins fresh testimonlials.

Ogden A. Confer of Minheapolis, delegate to last week's Realty Convention, said: "We, the realty men. are for newspaper advertising. We look upon the newspapers as opportunities for intensified selfing drives.

Thomas H. Moore of the News paper Publishers' association save There is more interest in news paper advertising than there ever The reason is it brings in the business when other mediums fail."

Looks like the newspapers themselves are getting a bit of publicity. -S. F. Examiner

HUMAN KINDNESS

Western Pacific cross continent limited train was held for half an hour at the Oakland mole the other day, in order that an aged man separated from his wife in the whirl of Market street, might cross the bay and join her for the trip east.

And still there are persons who refer to great enterprises functioning by the power of associated capital as soulless corporations."

The truth is that the policy of a corporation is formulated and effected by individuals. If the hearts of the men at the head of the enter prise are sound, the enterprise will be courteously and kindly conducted. equally as easily as if it were a partnership of individuals.

Every day great corporations are quietly demonstrating unselfish service, exemplifying the noblest human virtues. Occasionally the kindly interest rises to the heights of the spec tacular, as in the Western Pacific incident, and finds place in the news sapers, but day after day, even as the best of the rest of us, unobtrusive acts of charity and helpfulness are being performed by corporations. large and small, that hever get public mention
