SNOWBALLING

The Interpreter
IN THE building trades, more than in many other activities we see the tendency of the human race to fight over and delay its attempts at construction.

Even from the point of view of the workmen, this kind of striking is bad. It is an evidence neither of collective bargaining nor of individual freedom, but is a sort of guerilla warfare, of petty sniping, which shows smallness of thinking and indifference to any general sense of right.

The door recently opened to peace in Ireland seems to be functioning more as an exit than as an entrance.

Winston Churchill says the British government is keeping a watch on Ireland. What they really need is an alarm clock.

Lloyd George fears another war, and just as Jack Dempsey was hoping to make a protracted stay in Europe.

When Shakespeare wrote, "Thou wilt not trust the air with secrets," the radio had not been invented.

If these wireless telephones keep on, a man's wife can talk to him no matter where he goes.

Perhaps the St. Louis man named his baby radio because you can hear it so far away.

Mr. Hearst's contribution to Music Week is a vocal number entitled "I Hear Me Calling Me."

Electricity travels 11,000,000 miles a minute. You would never guess, however, that it runs the street cars.

Recognition will kill bolshevism, in the British view. But not unless it is recognized for what it is.

When Mr. Rockefeller says it is hard to give away a million, he probably means without misting it.

ELY

On Sunday, May 28, there was quite an exciting baseball game played at the round-up grounds between the beetle boys and the Bly boys.

The beetle boys gave us an awful wallop, but we got revenge on the following Sunday, as the game stood 9 to 6 in favor of the Bly team.

Miss Pauline Clift visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Garrett the first of the week.

Wednesday the Wednesday Afternoon club met at the home of Mrs. H. W. Whitcomb.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent, at the close of which dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess, assisted by her two daughters.

Miss Pauline Clift went home with Mrs. Frank Obenchain from the club Wednesday, and spent the remainder of the week there with Mrs. Albert Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hamaker and son returned home on Wednesday after an absence of a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weedon and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hamaker, and son, J. C., made a trip from Klamath Falls to Ashland on May 27 to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Mona Spencer Blaker, who died there on May 24, after a long illness.

She was buried at Ashland on Sunday, May 28; Mrs. Blaker before her marriage was Miss Mona Spencer of Spencer Creek, and was well known in Klamath county for her sweet personality, and many friends will grieve at her passing.

Mrs. James Givan returned from Klamath Falls the first of last week and brought her little grandson, Jimmy Peters, out for a week's visit with the family here.

Mrs. James Bell and son Everett returned home the first of the week. Mrs. Bell had been in Sacramento, and came home via Ashland to see her son graduate from high school.

All of Bly is feeling proud of Everett, as out of a class of 75 he graduated with high honors, and also carried off high honors in the athletic field.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Finley came out from Klamath Falls the first of the week, and are visiting among the Bly friends.

A. B. Connors has taken possession of his new home on the old J. B. Mitchell ranch.

Friends of J. B. Mitchell were pleased to see him at Bly on Sunday, June 4. He came from Yreka on business, connected with the Bly Rodeo association, and they took in the ball game and saw a few of the horse-tries out.

Snappy John came back into his own again, and threw his rider the fourth jump. Those who saw it said they did not believe it would have been possible for any rider to have stayed on his back the way he faged.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Finley were out from Klamath Falls and attended the sports on Sunday afternoon at the round-up grounds, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rogers.

Matt Obenchain returned home Sunday from Jacksonville, where he has been attending school.

L. D. McElore was a business visitor in Bly on Sunday.

Mrs. Emma Keady spent Sunday night with Mrs. James Dixon.

Professor Keady is enjoying the fishing for a short vacation before returning to his home.

Bly Rodeo association held a meeting Sunday to make final arrangements for the Yreka round-up for July.

Mrs. Marvin Cross returned home from Lakeview the first of last week with her new baby boy, aged two weeks.

The Rev. and Mrs. Holback held church services at Bly on Sunday, June 4.

Sykes Hamaker was a Bly visitor on Sunday. He spent Sunday night with A. D. Hamaker and family, returning to the Gerber ranch early on Monday morning.

A very successful dance was given in the community hall on Saturday night. A good time was reported by all who attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson and family and Mrs. Drew visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Campbell the first of last week.

Miss Ruth Campbell, who has been staying with her grandmother, Mrs. Drew, came out with her grandmother and the Petersons and visited at her home a few days, but returned with them to be near a doctor on account of ill health.

Mr. and Mrs. James Givan, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Givan and son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Givan.

hydrants and additional main capacity on single hydrant extensions is only a small proportion of the total investment in transmission mains, reservoirs, pumps, etc., that is properly assignable to fire protection. The resulting rate, if applied to hydrants only, makes the charge for additional hydrants too high to encourage the general installation desired.

HENRY IS WILLING
Will Run for President if People of Country Need Him

DETROIT, Mich., June 7.—Henry Ford has intimated privately that he would run for president "if the people of the country desired him to do so," but "he would refuse to spend any money to bring about his nomination or election," according to William T. Kronberg, editor of the Dearborn newspaper and one of the leaders in the Dearborn "Henry Ford for President club."
