$20,000.00 STOCK REDUCING SALE

Opened Last Saturday with a Crowded Store

Just what we had expected. The women of Klamath County are ready to buy their summer apparel now, and the fact that we offered this great low price sale so early in the season was fully appreciated by the big crowds we had all day Saturday. The fact that we had an overstock of $20,000.00 is ample guarantee that we still have large quantities of the special bargains we offered on opening day. Sale continues all week, and you should get your share. The prices we are selling at should mean a great saving on any line you may need that we handle.

Signed, H. N. MOE

CHURCHES MAKE APPEAL TO END COAL STRIKE

cratified to note that the press has made an unusually successful effort to record the facts of this conflict. Nevertheless, nothing effectual has been done to bring it to an end.

"In spite of the desire of the government to avoid interference in the controversy it has become necessary for the secretary of commerce to request the operators in the non-union fields and the retailers not to take undue advantage of the situation by excessively increasing the price of coal. This action, manifestly necessary under the circumstances, nevertheless serves to show the helplessness of the nation and the increasing danger to the public in the face of so great an industrial struggle. The coal reserves are being steadily depleted; the suffering of the miners and their families is becoming more acute and the bitterness attendant upon the conflict will inevitably increase."

AT THE LIBERTY

"Bluebeard Jr.," which shows at the Liberty theatre tonight features Mary Anderson, a well known screen star, and tells a mile-a-minute farce story of a young wife and husband whose trouble becomes most involved through the greediness of a landlord's raising their rent to the limit. How the couple rent a small apartment, the only one in town, only to find that they cannot occupy it for another day, how they sleep in a worn out old "flivver," how they quarrel, as all couples do and decide to go their own way, how the husband becomes involved with three "wives" and earns the sobriquet of "Bluebeard Jr.," is all told in a decidedly novel fashion with a well known cast of farceurs which includes besides Mary Anderson, Jack Connolly, Laura Ansen, Lila Leslie, George Hernandez and others.

THE STAR

Here's a rich motion picture feast for you, a mental repast that will give you more laughs that you have had for a long time and fill you with the joy of living.

That certainly is a big order for a photoplay to fill, but we are convinced that when you see "The Beauty Shop" with Raymond Hitchcock and an all-star cast at the Star theatre tonight, you will agree with us in every way.

Consider this cast for a picture adapted from a huge Broadway success: Raymond Hitchcock, Billy B. Van, James J. Corbett, Louise Fazenda, the Fairbanks Twins, Diana Allen, Mantagu Love and Laurance Wheat. There never has been another screen comedy made with such a glittering array of talent.

"The Beauty Shop," in addition to wagonloads of fun, has a real, interesting and exciting plot. Of course, you'll see it. At the Star tonight.

THE STRAND

"By Right of Purchase" will be the attraction at the Strand theatre tonight; it is a Selznick Revival, starring Norma Talmadge as Margot Hughes, a society butterfly. She marries Chadwick Himes, a rich young man of high social standing, under an agreement to be his wife in name only for three years. At the end of this period, if he has not succeeded in winning her love, she will receive her freedom and a handsome settlement in addition. She comes to realize his worth, especially in comparison with the worthlessness of Dick Derwent, a handsome spendthrift with whom she has long been infatuated, but Himes restrains any display of emotion, desiring not to embarrass her by violating his agreement.

PLANS ARE DRAFTED FOR NEW LINES

to use the Southern Pacific tracks from Eugene to Portland.

Eugene to Los Angeles

All of these facts have been laid before local interests which have been considering the possibilities growing out of the Central Pacific disposal, and are not mere hearsay.

And yet another extension program has been planned by the Union Pacific in the event it obtains control of the Central Pacific lines. This line would be from Klamath Falls to Susanville, Cal., which is at the end of a branch running north from Fernley, Nev., on the Ogden line.

With the Natron cut-off complete and the Klamath Falls-Susanville section completed the Central Pacific under Union Pacific operation would have a complete line from Eugene almost to Los Angeles via a direct road through Nevada.

The official eyes of the Union Pacific have seen other possibilities in addition to development of eastern, central and southern Oregon, for the distance for transcontinental movement between the Willamette valley and Granger would be considerably shortened by extension of a line from Crane to Odell Junction and then over the Natron cut-off line to Eugene.

By this new route the distance between these two points would be 924 miles, whereas the present distances are 1054 miles by the O-W, 1142 miles by the Susanville cut-off and 1309 miles of Roseville and Ogden over the present line of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific.

Commercial clubs of Bend and Klamath Falls have heard this plan outlined and through resolutions have entered with enthusiasm into support for the Union Pacific.

Insurance That Insures;
Protection That Protects.

A man was one day hunting in a forest
A terrible storm came up
He looked about for shelter
But there was none
It began to rain in torrents
So he crawled into a hollow log
It fitted snugly.

The rain lasted for hours
The water soaked through the wood
The log began to contract
When the storm was over the hunter
Could not get out.

He strained to free himself
But the log held tight
Exhausted, he gave up
He knew that he would starve to death.

Like a drowning man,
He saw his whole life flash before him,
Especially his mistakes
He suddenly remembered that he
Had promised an agent a policy
There being none on his life
He realized that his wife and baby,
Penniless, would starve.

This made him feel so small that he
Was able to crawl out of the log
Without difficulty.
