

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

Roy Fouch says an account which you lose money on is a "no account."

The Little Bird

Customer: "Walter a little bird told me this coffee was not strained." Walter: "A little bird, sir?" Customer: "Yes, a swallow."

Prestige and good will, reputation and influence, hopes, dreams, programs and ideals are mighty sweet and handy to have about, but after all, it requires something more tangible, than good wishes to keep the wheels turning.

Louie Porter says some men are born poor and others get into politics.

Good Business

"I wish I was a religious as Able." "And why?" "He claps his hands so tight in prayer he can't get them open when der collection box comes around!"

Many men who say they would like to die with their bones on probably never they would like to die with a boot-leg leg on.

The world gives its admiration, not to those who do what nobody else attempts, but to those who do best what multitudes do well.

Line Forms on the Right

Just before the service the minister was called into the vestibule by a young couple, who asked that he marry them. He answered he had not time then but that if they would wait until after the sermon he would be glad to accommodate them. Accordingly, just before the benediction, he announced:

"Will those who wish to be married today please come forward?" Thirteen women and one man stepped up.

The modesty of my lady fair climbs upward by degrees. In years gone by 'twas ankle high, but now it's reached her knees.

Lives of great men all remind us. Life is really not worth while, if we do not leave behind us Some excuses for a smile.

Juris-Prudence

An alien who was trying to be excused from jury duty said to the Judge: "I can't understand good English."

The reason there are so few good husbands is that the lot is so severe. A really good husband will register something which looks like genuine grief on learning that the household's favorite fern has died in spite of everything that could be done for it.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. George Thrasher accompanied by their daughter, Miss Mildred, and by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thrasher returned this week from a three days outing trip through the Rogue River valley country. They report the finest buck fishing and in all other respects a wonderful trip.

Miss Lily Jones and Miss Luella Berkley have returned from Oakland, California, where they have been for the past year studying music.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lindsey are visiting here this week-end from their home in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wilson, parents of Mrs. Harry Goelter, who have been visiting here with friends and relatives for the past few days, will leave this week-end for Aden, California, where they will spend a week before returning to their home in Medford. Mrs. Wilson is a sister of Mrs. Nate Otterbein.

The scenes of Illinois mine warfare are familiar to O. Peyton, who formerly lived near Herrin, and who said he probably knows personally a number of those killed in the bloody massacre Thursday. He is looking forward to receiving a paper from back home to learn who was killed.

The Rev. Roy Healy, who was killed by a moonshiner near Albany on Wednesday, was a personal friend and college chum of the Rev. A. B. Bristol of the Christian church of the city, who was shocked to learn of the tragedy.

Miss Ruth Lindsey has returned from Astland and Medford where she spent two weeks vacation. She expects to be back at her work in the First National bank on Monday.

George Watt is expected in on the evening train from San Francisco for the purpose of looking after his business interests here.

Very ill M. Ramsey is reported to be very ill at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Slemore, accompanied by Mrs. E. T. Givans and young son, arrived in town this afternoon from Fort Klamath. Mrs. Givans has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Slemore for the past few days from her home in Hly.

Dr. C. A. Rambo arrived last night from Chiloquin and will spend several days here visiting his daughter, Miss Marie Rambo.

and hundreds of bullets followed us. We staggered on, but finally three of our group fell, pulling the others with them, tied down, several bullet holes being in me already.

"I laid there while men came up and fired more shots into us from three or four feet. Then everything went blank. I woke up later and begged for water, but there was not any. I remember being dragged along the road, but I don't know what by. Then they brought us to the hospital."

O'Rourke's story was confirmed by S. P. Williams and Ed Green of Chicago, two of the men tied with him, who are still alive. The other three were killed. These were the six found by the Associated Press correspondent, and whom he tried to take water to, only to be refused permission to help them.

James E. Morris of Johnstown City, Ills., a young miner in the attacking forces, told the correspondent the attack had been spontaneous, and that when the men went to the mine they did not really stop to think of the bloodshed that might follow.

No Real Leader "I was on my way to Herrin," he said, "when I met a gang of fellows. They said they were on their way to run out those scabs at the Strip mine. I joined them, and others kept joining us until there must have been 5,000. Most of us were armed, and those that were not soon got their guns. When we got to the mine we spread out around it. We had no real leaders, everyone was working for himself. It was just one big mob out to get the men who were running that mine. I am not sure who fired the first shot, but after it was fired there was real war. The fire kept up for hours, I guess, and several of our men were hit. Late in the evening I was shot in the arm. The wound was not serious, and I walked back to where a group of out men were standing and they sent me here in a car. I wasn't there, but I understand that most of the killing was done after the mine surrendered. It was terrible, I know, and I'm sure some of those scabs were innocent men. It's just the old story of a mob getting started."

Others miners confirmed Morris' statements.

Not Expected to Live O'Rourke is not expected to live. He is one of nine men in the hospital, Morris being the only miner, and seven of the imported miners are expected to die, physicians said.

The hospital was carefully guarded, all doors being locked to prevent any possible attack on the wounded men. Only persons who could prove they had business in the hospital were admitted.
