ON OUR WAY

KLAMATH is shaking off its lethargy and every day is brighter than the day before. We're over the hump and on the down grade, with the direction of our destiny largely in our own hands.

Wherever newspapers are printed, at least in the territory served by the two large western rail systems, the Southern and Union Pacific, men and women are informed of the promised renewal of work on the Modoc Northern and Natron cut-off just as soon as the ownership of the Central Pacific is settled, and the consequent development of a new empire in southern Oregon, centering in Klamath land.

This railway publicity is focusing attention upon us. The old days, when construction of the Klamath Falls-Kirk line was building, bid fair to come back. The population that was lost when this construction was abandoned may be regained.

We are to use an expressive phrase, "sitting pretty," and in more ways than one. Northern California has launched a big development movement that is bound, if it gets results—and from the way it starts it looks like a result getter—to overflow into Klamath.

The first meeting on ways and means held by the Californians in San Francisco raised a fund of $400,000 to start the campaign. Money talks and the celebrity with which the Native Sons dug into their pockets speaks volumes for their sincerity and purpose.

Such spirit is commendable and sets an example that we may well follow. We understand there is a movement on to stage a celebration here this fall in conjunction with the annual county fair. We're for it. By fair time, at the present rate of prosperity, there will be enough money in the community to finance a worth-while undertaking.

We're on one of the last frontiers here, and there is plenty of material available for a frontier week celebration that will attract visitors from far and wide. If our railway dreams are realized the frontier stage will soon vanish, and what more fitting than to celebrate its passing with an old-time blowout.

Our county fairs for the past few years have been amazing in their revelation of the county's productiveness. With a little more effort, a little more general interest, a collection can be secured that will give visitors something worth while to look at and persuade some of them to settle and take part in the development of this productive land, while the others will go away as apostles of faith in our development.

It would take some money and a lot of energy, no doubt, to put such a project over but it would be an investment that would bring big returns. It is not a task for a few citizens to attempt, but if everybody takes a hand it can be made hugely successful.

It looks as if the time were ripe

"IF TH' FELLERS WHO LIKE T' KILL TIME IN A PRINTIN' OFFICE WILL NOW GIVE UP, I'LL ISSUE 'EM TICKETS TO TH' PUBLIC LIBRARY 'N TH' CITY PARK! WE AINT GOT NO TIME TO ENTERTAIN LOAFERS!"

"WE AINT GROWN! JUST TOO BIG TO VISIT! THAT'S ALL!"

for a movement by Klamath in behalf of Klamath. The tide of opportunity is setting in our direction and if we catch it at full flow it will lift us speedily and far on the road to destiny.

FIRST WOMAN TO BE NOMINATED FOR U. S. SENATE

"Women ought to vote with their consciences—they don't need their own political party," she says. "Some day we shall have a woman president."

By MRS ANNA DICKIE OLESEN, Nominee for the United States Senate on the Democratic Ticket in Minnesota

CLOQUET, Minn., July 6.—First and foremost I shall represent my state in the United States senate as unselfishly and humanly as possible. No one person can bring about the millennium or perfect Utopian conditions.

I will represent no group, no class, no special interest. The time has come for a people's congress to declare in all legislation for a people's government, guarding the interests of all.

I believe that the treasury of the United States should be guarded as carefully as I protect the small earnings of myself and husband in our home.

I will introduce legislation patterned after the farmer loan bill, to subsidize property owners through federal aid and make America a nation of home owners freed from rent nightmares.

I will fight with all the strength in me to see that human rights are made superior to property rights, and I will vote against every power, person and influence dangerous to the perpetuity of free government.

I will especially seek a re-opening of the Newberry case, which I consider a travesty on our American ideals.

I shall unceasingly work to bring these things about: Abolition of child labor. Stimulation of European trade. Repeal of the Esch-Cummings bill.

Construction of the St. Lawrence-to-the-Sea highway. Reduction of the present tariff bill.

Careful conservation of America's natural resources for future generations. Endorsement of the full program of the League of Women Voters for women and children.

I will do my duty to my country as First and foremost, I am a woman. After that I am a politician. I would to my children.

SHALL MORALS BE DETERMINED BY TEST TUBES?

Greece and Rome. But the Persians mixed morals and religion and the Jews copied them and thus the Christians. Every educated man, whose intelligence reaches beyond his immediate neighborhood in time and country, realizes that there are no absolute ethics, but morals are merely the product of the existing forms of society, varying with its changes, somewhat like the by-laws of a society.

Edward E. Slosson, scientist and writer on scientific topics: "Religion and science are Siamese twins. They die if cut apart. Science often furnished clear reasons for customs which religion has for centuries inculcated and which have aided individuals and nations to survive in the struggle for existence. The Old Testament is largely concerned with hygiene, eugenics and economics; primitive science, but the best of its time. Eugenics will remain a barren branch of science until it gets behind it a religious impulse sufficient to make men and women willing to sacrifice present and personal pleasures for distant and higher ideals. On the other hand ministers must realize that a church wedding is not a Christian marriage if contrary to eugenic principles. Science lights the way. Religion furnishes motive power."

Nearly every home has an electric iron. This almost universal home convenience saves time, labor and expense. Do you know, Mrs. Housewife, that there are many other devices which will also help reduce the cost and labor of the home? After trying a few of the smaller ones you will want a range which will allow the old wood or coal stove to be put in the discard. Klamath Falls homes are fast becoming electric homes. Some neighbor of yours has an electric range. See her and let her show you her stove and tell you the cost of operation. Then see your electrical dealer and have YOUR stove installed. If in doubt about make or size of the range you may need call at the office of the

A BUSINESS COUPE FOR BUSINESS MEN This car represents a new and important achievement in commercial transportation. For the first time in motor car history, business men are enabled to buy a closed car, the body of which is built throughout of steel. The advantages of this all-steel construction—reserved until now to open cars—are particularly marked in a coupe built to weather the wear and tear of hard commercial usage. Immediately you will be impressed with the beauty and lightness of this coupe. Time will convince you of its unusual stamina. The doors snap neatly shut. Body squeaks are eliminated. Dodge Brothers enamel is baked on the surface of the steel—a permanent lustrous finish, impervious to wear. The interior is roomy and thoughtfully equipped with every appointment necessary to the owner's comfort and all-weather protection. Business houses that equip their salesmen with motor cars have been quick to recognize in this coupe a very unusual investment. H. S. WAKEFIELD Klamath Falls, Oregon
