

SUFFRAGE BECOMES WORLD-WIDE

PARIS, July 13.—The world war and the sweeping political changes in its wake have changed Europe from a continent where woman was denied the ballot to a predominantly woman-suffrage continent. Throughout northern Europe women enjoy equal rights with men.

In the south they still lack voting power but they're putting up a strong fight, backed in some cases by leading statesmen. Here's how the fight stands today: France—Suffrage question up in parliament with Viviani, Briand and other statesmen favoring it.

Great Britain—Equality of the sexes has been voted by the house of commons. Two women members are now sitting—Lady Astor and Mrs. Margaret Wintringham. Suffrage is restricted to women of 30 or more.

Sweden—Women voted for the first time last fall. Five women elected deputies in the Riksdag.

Norway—Women obtained all citizenship rights and even obtained a seat in the cabinet in 1916.

Denmark—Women are voters. Eleven in the Riksdag.

Russia—Soviets declare women on an absolute equality with the men.

Finland—Women are voters. As far back as 1917 19 were elected to the national parliament.

Estonia, Lithuania and Lettonia—Women have equal rights.

Ukraine—Women have equal rights. Twelve are deputies in the national assembly.

Germany—After the revolution, women were given the vote and nearly 30 are in the Reichstag.

Austria—The republic gave electoral rights to women. They are eligible for the national assembly and municipal councils.

Hungary—Women have suffrage and have elected one deputy to Czechoslovakia—The Czech republic gave the women all the rights men enjoyed. Thirteen women deputies and three senators elected.

Poland—Women have the vote and have chosen eight women deputies.

Holland—Women have the vote. Two are members of parliament.

Holland—Women have the vote and have chosen one woman as a member of the national assembly.

Luxemburg—Women have the vote and have chosen one woman as a member of the national assembly.

Belgium—Women are limited to eligibility and vote for burgomasters and other municipal jobs.

Rumania—The senate has accorded women suffrage in municipal affairs.

Switzerland—Laws are largely decided by referendum and the men have not yet accorded full suffrage to women.

Portugal—The senate voted a restricted degree of suffrage to the women, but the chamber of deputies refused to ratify this.

Italy—The senate granted restricted suffrage in 1920, but the chamber adjourned without taking action.

Spain, Greece, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia have not accorded the women any rights in elections.

MICA FOUND TO BE BIG FACTOR IN MANY LINES

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Do you remember how you used to sit before the old barrel stove in the parlor, or before that "new fangled" latrobe, watching the glow of the cheery winter fire through the "isinglass" windows? You may think that since the basement furnace has generally supplanted the producers of "isinglass" must have long since gone bankrupt; but there's more demand for it now than ever before, says the U. S. bureau of mines.

Anyway, it was not isinglass at all in the front of the stove. Had it been, it would have lasted as long as paper, for isinglass is made of the air bladders of certain fish and is a soluble combustible substance. What really was in the stove windows was mica, one of the oddest of natural substances, and which is now one of the greatest boons in the electrical industry as a perfect insulator. So important is mica in electrical goods, it is declared, that many of the larger electrical supply manufacturing companies own and operate their own mica mines.

Mica, says the bureau, includes a group of several minerals characterized by a perfect basal cleavage by virtue of which they may be split into exceedingly thin plates. How often, as a youngster, did you make wonderful finds of "gold" or "silver" among the rock deposits near the homestead? Of course, the dreams of wealth vanished when you found the silvery or golden flakes were only mica. Such mica has no commercial value, it is only when it occurs in large deposits where it appears in "books" fairly free from defects, varying in width and length from a few inches to feet and up to six inches or more in thickness, it is of value.

Of the several varieties of the mineral only two are of commercial value, the "muscovite" or white mica, and the "phlogopite" or amber. India, Canada and the United States are the chief producers.

Mica possesses a combination of special qualities which is found in no other substance, consequently no satisfactory substitute has been found. Chief among these qualities are elasticity, toughness, flexibility, transparency, ability to withstand excessive heat and sudden changes of temperature, high dielectric strength, cleavability and resistance to decomposition.

An important use of electrical mica is for inter-leaving between the copper segments of commutators. Thin films are used in vast numbers in condensers for magnetos and in wireless apparatus. As sheets in greatly diversified shapes, or as washers and tubes, mica is used extensively as an insulator in dynamos and in various appliances, in fuse boxes, sockets, insulators, electric heaters, flat-irons, telephones, etc.

As a heat-resisting, transparent, medium sheet mica is still used in furnace sight-holes, for heat screens, lamp chimneys, canopies and shades, particularly for gas mantles, also for military lanterns and lantern slides.

Its ability to withstand strains and shocks, combined with its transparency has led to wide use in motor goggles, spectacles, divers' helmets, gas masks, compass cards, gas fronts, and in windows subject to shock such as on the coning towers of battleships.

Owing to the resonance of mica circular sheets of high grade muscovite are used extensively in phonographs as sound producing devices. Such sheets are also used in other sound detecting devices such as the submarine detectors.

The brilliancy of its reflecting surface gives the mineral a wide use as a decoration, notably as Christmas tree "snow." Coarse ground mica is also used for ornamentation of pottery, lamps, curtains, cloth and in India, in decorating the temples.

An unusual use for the ground product, which, says the bureau of mines, "fortunately has not extended outside India," is in medicinal preparations and wound dressings.

The recent development of wide uses for the ground product has opened a wide field for utilization of waste and scraps, and saved the industry much expense. The more impure and coarser types are used as a coating to prevent tar roofing from sticking when rolled; purer and finer grades are used in paints, ornamental tiles and concrete. A mixture of ground mica and powdered aluminum is said to make a rust-preventing paint of good quality.

On account of its heat-resisting quality it is used extensively in railroad car axle packing, in pipe and boiler coverings, in fireproof paints and even in rubber tires. Ground mica is also used in annealing steel, as an absorbent, for nitroglycerine in the manufacture of certain explosives, as a component in roofing, as a filler in rubber and other products, in calico printing and as tire power.

The purest and finer powder is used for wall paper decorations, as a lubricant for wood bearings, and mixed with oil as a lubricant for metal bearings. It has been found that mica may also be used successfully as a flux in ceramic wares.

Serial 2357 "Mica," by Oliver Bowles, mineral technologist, is prepared for general information on mica, and may be obtained from the bureau of mines at Washington.

MAKE AIRPLANE MAP

Project Completed, For Auto Club Will Aid Traffic Congestion

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—A huge airplane map of the city, recently completed for the Automobile club of Southern California, is expected to aid materially in the solution of Los Angeles' traffic congestion problems.

Photographs on a scale of 186 feet to the inch, the big master map is composed of 450 different exposures on a 7x9-inch film, snapped by photographers flying at an altitude of 4,000 feet above the pavements. The pictures were taken in the middle of the day, between 11:30 and 1:30, so that the sun's rays were practically perpendicular. Shadows appearing on the mosaic map are therefore small and transparent and it is not at all difficult to make counts of vehicles and pedestrians.

Thanks to the abundant topographic, architectural and traffic detail shown on the big airplane map, greater than could have been obtained even after years of labor by previous cartographic methods, it is expected the elimination of various awkward angles and turns and the laying out of new connecting streets will be considerably facilitated.

The cost of the mosaic may be estimated at $250 for each square mile, or $1,825 for the 6 1/2 miles photographed. Insurance against injury to property or persons in the photographed area during the map making flights was carried by the auto club.

NO SHIP INSPECTION
SAN PEDRO, Calif., July 12.—Under a new ruling of the public health service affecting Los Angeles harbor, vessels of foreign registry which have previously passed quarantine at Atlantic or Gulf ports may enter this port without the formality of another inspection. The new regulation will save local shipping concerns thousands of dollars per year, it is predicted.
