TODAY'S FASHIONS

Bridal Garb is Simple

This season's bride will pick a simple gown of soft satin, heavy crepe or chiffon with few ornaments.

PARIS.—Black and white organdie is the very smart material for the older woman when she goes forth to a tea on one of these warm afternoons.

PARIS.—It is on the Parisienne that the black crepe de chine tailleur reaches perfection.

suit or frock. So well does the straw imitate fabric that a second look is necessary to make sure that the hat is not covered with a bit of shepherd's plaid suiting.

NEW YORK.—It scarcely seemed possible in this era of sport sweaters that anything new in sweaters could be imagined.

NEW YORK.—Almost any costume may be matched in the little crush silk short hats which are so universally becoming.

LONDON.—The shepherd's plaid hat is a novelty. It is made of straw and is a neat, small chapeau intended to be worn with a tailored
