

Personal Mention

Miss Geraldine Watt spent today with Miss Ellen McVeigh on her ranch near Malin. C. C. Lewis, a rancher in the valley south of town, made a trip in for supplies last night. R. P. Anderson is a Klamath Falls business visitor this week from San Francisco. He is at the White Pelican.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Day are in the city today from their home in San Francisco. They expect to go on to Crater Lake. Claude Houghton, woods superintendent and the "whole show" around the Lamu Lumber company's camp near Kirk, was brought in on last night's train from that place with a badly injured back. He is confined to his room in the Hall hotel.

Mrs. Herman Foster and young son departed this morning for Eugene where they will visit her mother and other relatives. Mrs. H. P. Phillips and children left on the morning train for California where they will join Mr. Phillips at their new home near San Francisco.

McKinney, one of the contractors on the Hart building, left this morning for Portland where he will be occupied for the remainder of the week on business.

Miss Ethel McGilchrist arrived last night from Salem and is registered at the White Pelican hotel. She expects to visit with friends here for the next few days.

"I'm here on business," was the answer Dan Godsell, deputy sheriff and sheepman from Lakeview made when quizzed by a friend as to his visit here at this time.

Ed Dunham and Joe Pospisil left on the Ashland stage this morning and will go from there to Portland on the train. They expect to return with two new Studebaker cars.

Mrs. Albert Lenox is here for a short visit with friends and relatives from her home at Copco. Mrs. H. Woods of Copco is also here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Smith.

Walter A. West and family were in town yesterday from the Agency on a combined business and pleasure trip. They were accompanied by P. F. Snook, justice of the peace at Chiloquin.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pelton, possessors of one of the finest ranches in the Wood river country, were in town yesterday and last night with their two guests, Miss Ellnor and Dorothy Orth, of Medford.

Sheriff Low, Patrolman McLoughlin, Chief Wilson and Luke Walker, who journeyed to Portland by automobile last week for the purpose of testifying before the federal grand jury, returned home last night.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Griffith and sons, Dale and Vern, arrived from New Pine Creek on their way to Eugene, where they will visit Griffith's parents and with Everett Griffith, formerly a resident of this city.

Gene Hammond drove into town yesterday from his ranch near Merrill and brought a number of men with him who assisted with the haying. All the hay is up on the Hammond ranch and he reports a fine showing as far as his crop was concerned.

Donald G. Lawrence, eldest son of the Rev. E. P. Lawrence of Medford, formerly of this city, was married in Medford last Saturday to Miss Pearl Skinner of Medford. The couple will spend their honeymoon at Rocky Point, and will make their home in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Martin and daughters, Vivian and Dortha, accompanied by Kenneth Thayer and Stanley George, who are visiting here, returned home last night after several days spent at Crater lake and Rocky Point. This morning they left for Malin to spend the day looking over the wheat fields in that part of the country.

Supplying milk to most of the babies of Columbus, Ohio, is the business of C. H. Angovine, who is here visiting his brother-in-law W. S. Slough. Angovine conducts a large dairy farm near Columbus which is rated as one of the largest in the state. At present he is enjoying the first vacation of many years, having left his three boys in charge of the farm. From here he will visit Crater Lake, later going south to Los Angeles.

The Flaw Do you suppose it's possible to love two fellas at the same time?" anxiously asked Yvonne of the rapid fire restaurant.

"Not if they catch you at it!" briskly replied Heloise of the same establishment.

Marshall Nollan and Blanche Sweet were married recently. It is perfectly proper, we presume, to say that Nollan got a "Sweet" wife.

Minister Seeks to Prevent Staging of Leonard-Tendler Go

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 27.—A protest against the holding of the Benny Leonard-Lew Tendler lightweight boxing championship contest at Boyle's Thirty Acres tonight was made to Mayor Hague today by Rev. Harvey L. Wyatt, acting for the society of New Jersey for the prevention of crime, a newly-organized ministerial association.

Dr. Wyatt told the mayor that the Tendler-Leopard affair would be demoralizing. He asked the mayor to see to it, if the fight actually did take place, that the law for the punishment of crime was enforced.

"The mayor thanked me, and said nothing more," Dr. Wyatt said later. Counsel for the Ministerial Association said the association had little hope of preventing the match, but that it was going to seek in the next legislature a revision of the boxing law, and wanted to show that it had left nothing undone to prevent the Leonard-Tendler fight.

Ephetic!

A tall, strong man walked into a store.

"I want a set of lady's furs," he said.

"What kind?" asked the male assistant.

"That brown set in the window will do if it's not too dear," replied the strong man.

"Oh, you mean skunk!" said the assistant.

—The poor assistant is still in the hospital.

"Can the flapper make her way?" asks a professor. She doesn't have to make her way. She has it.—Los Angeles Record.

A VITAL Question It was the last lecture of the term and the professor was urging his students to put all their time in preparation for the final examination. "The examination questions are now in the hands of the printer," he said. "Now are there any more questions you want answered at this time?" A voice from the back row after a moment's silence "Who is the printer?" During the first half of 1921 more than 2,000 automobiles were imported into Uruguay?

MANY folks in Klamath Falls are counting the hour until seven-thirty and the start of the great Winters' Auction Sale. All day yesterday we were busy with good people who were interested in the many fine articles that will be sold to the highest bidders. I N a little book that I carry I marked the number of people who declared that they would be on hand promptly at seven-thirty tonight and this is a brief summary; 43 people are going to be here to buy watches; seven young men are going to bid on rings that may lead them to a lot of grief unless they reconsider the matter and change their minds; eight ladies are going to buy cut glass water sets and innumerable people are going to add to their table silver at auction prices, besides the folks who have decided on lavalliers, ear rings, bracelets and the thousand and one articles that go to make up a stock like Winters'. ONE dear little woman—with a list of relatives to remember next Christmas gave me a pleasurable hour trying to find things that would make suitable gifts for her little grandchildren. She is all fixed up knows what she is going to bid on and how high she is going too. Between the few of us, I earnestly hope that no one bids against that dear little lady. I'm for her and you must not forget it. T HE other day I advertised cutlery in our stock. There "ain't no more knives and razors." I sold the entire cutlery stock last night at private sale in one lot. Sorry to do it, but the stock is large and the need for money is most urgent. I just couldn't resist, but it won't happen again, I promise. ONE last promise. Nothing will be said or done that won't measure up to the highest standards of honesty. Only the bare truth and courteous treatment. I want to make this sale a success, for the sake of an institution that means a great deal to your town, for the Winters' store is a credit to Klamath Falls. SEVEN-THIRTY is the time. I advise that you come early for the "Rewards" go to the early comers. And, be as liberal as you can for the sake of your neighbor in distress. I Thank You. ARTHUR H. ALLEN, for the
