

NAME DRIVE LEADERS

Captains Chosen for Chamber Membership Campaign

Nine captains for the chamber of commerce annual campaign have been appointed to take active charge of the soliciting end of the work beginning Tuesday morning August 8 and immediately following the second annual community dinner which will be held at the White Pelican hotel Monday evening August 7, with W. E. Hobbit of Woodland, California one of the chief speakers.

The division headed by J. A. Gordon will be managed by A. M. Collier, O. D. Burke and R. H. Dunbar. W. O. Smith's division is in charge of John H. Martin, James H. Dehaeck, P. S. Pope and J. E. Endera. Jack Slater and Fred Fleet will lead the battalion headed by R. E. Smith with more reinforcements to come. M. P. Evans will take charge of the other division but to date has not announced the result of his recruiting work.

Each of the captains will organize a team of workers and will have territory assigned by the advisory committee of which M. S. West is chairman. West announced this morning that it is not the plan of the committee to generate an over supply of enthusiasm which results in over-subscribing and under-paying, but to turn over to the teams only the prospects that have been passed upon by the prospect committee as being financially able to share part of the expense of maintaining the organization.

"There are too many important things to be done for the directors to waste time in worrying over financial matters all during the year. What we want is to do all the financing during our campaign and then to forget all about it and to give our attention to the work that has to be done," said West.

Invitations will be mailed out the early part of the week for the community dinner which is scheduled to be one of the biggest events of the year.

Being considered in Chicago—a 25-story automobile hotel to relieve congestion; cars to be cared for not in the usual way, but by a girl operating a central switchboard. New York and Cleveland are said to be contemplating similar hostilities.

NEW TODAY

FOR SALE—Range, six dining room chairs and table, bed. Call Stanley with E. C. Stucky, 11th & Pine. 29-4*

There will be no practice for the Rebekahs Monday night. Mrs. Ivy Propat, Noble Grand. 29

WANTED—Boy over 16 with bicycle apply Western Union. 29-31

LOST—Lady's purse on Main St., containing some money, Laundry workers' union card and other papers. $5 reward. Phone 137R. 29-31

LOST—Brown leather wallet with ticket from Klamath Falls to Seattle, valuable receipts and small amount of cash. Finder may have cash. Ticket has been voided by railroad and cannot be used by any other person. Return to Arthur H. Allen at Winters' Jewelry Store. 291F

HIDS WANTED

For enlarging and clearing about 1200 yds of ditch. Address J. A. Edwards, Doak ranch. 29-1*

Wood

You should take advantage of our summer prices to lay in a supply for winter.

10 cords, green slab $30.00
Dry slab, per cord 5.00
Single Blocks 5.00
Double Blocks 6.50

Come to us with your problems, our help is always free.

O. Peyton & Co.

410 MAIN. PHONE 533

Memories Will Live When You Say It With Flowers

Flowers for every occasion

Klamath Flower Shop

824 Main Street. Phone 529
Open Sundays 9 to 1
Week days, 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

THEORETICAL PAGE

Press the Button

Let Electricity Do Your Work

There are 104 electric ranges in use in private homes in Klamath Falls. Thirteen of these have water heaters in connection.

The average consumption of electricity for operating the ranges in these 104 homes is

$5.50 PER MONTH

In many of these homes the monthly charge does not exceed the minimum of $3.00 per month.

Power Rate for Ranges

For first 30 K. W. H. $3.00 per month
Next 200 K. W. H. 2c per K. W. H.
Over 200 K. W. H. 1c per K. W. H.

For Further Information Call At Our Office, Cor. 4th and Main

The California Oregon Power Company

KING SEES PARIS INCOGNITO

Khai Dinh, Far East Potentate, Has Many Adventures; Seeks Plan for Tomb For Ancestor

PARIS, July 29.—Dressed in a business suit of sober black, a quiet, unobtrusive little yellow-skinned man has been a constant visitor recently to the museums of art, painting and sculpture in the French capital.

Few people recognized Khai Dinh, Far East Potentate, Emperor of Annam, Indo-China, who adorned in flowing robes of silk, his hair decorated with gold lace, the Red and Yellow Order of the Dragon of Annam on his breast almost hidden by a large plaque of pure gold set with huge diamonds, was seen in the presidential box at Lanchamp on the day of the Grand-Prix.

A few years ago no one in his capital of Hue was permitted to stand erect before the Emperor or look him squarely in the eye, yet in the museums tourists pushed him about and elbowed him out of the way when he stood too long before a work of art.

One of the first questions Khai-Dinh asked after he had been installed in the Ministry of Colonies, his home while in Paris, was: "Where is there a first-class tailor in town?" A representative of a leading Parisian tailoring firm called, but the Emperor found his clothes too gaudy and requested him to return with blue, brown and black samples. The emperor ordered six suits of the more sober patterns. His official robes show practically all the colors of the rainbow.

A great lover of art, Khai-Dinh has had the entire row of palaces used as the residence of royalty in Hue practically remodeled both inside and outside, since his accession to the throne in 1916. His visits to the monuments of Paris have been made especially for the purpose of finding a plan for the reconstruction of the tomb of his ancestor Dong-Khanh, the founder of the dynasty, 20 centuries ago.

A strict follower of the doctrine of Confucius, Khai-Dinh's respect for the memory of his ancestors amounts to religion, and the mausoleum which he intends erecting to Dong-Khanh will be one of the purest examples of far-east architecture known. Alexandre Marcel, official architect of the French government, is collaborating in the drawing up of the plan and the emperor has made several calls upon the architect, suggesting modifications and ideas.

Khai-Dinh has given much trouble to the secret service men entrusted by the French government with the task of protecting his sacred person. He slips in and out of museums, attended only by a few of his entourage, all dressed in the European fashion and several times he has eluded their vigilance.

Khai-Dinh, before he was allowed to travel incognito Paris, was the guest at several official functions, including many dinners and luncheons. He was present at all in full regalia, but toward the end of his official stay, he evinced some impatience and an earnest desire to enter upon private life. To one of the last invitations to a dinner, the emperor replied:

"Yes, I'll go providing there are no speeches."

The emperor will leave for Hue in August but the heir to the throne, Vinh-Ty, aged nine, will remain in Paris, where French tutors will teach him French literature and western civilization and fit him for the high place which he is to occupy one day at Hue, one of the fundamental requirements of which is that he be a friend of France and a student of French culture.

FIGURES SHOWN

(Continued from Page 1)

continue to be. Politics never entered our minds and therefore has no bearing on the situation." The resignation of the retiring officers follows:

Kindly accept this as our resignation as members of your executive committee. We are taking this step believing it to be for the best interest of the sportsmen of this district, as your present committee will have to admit that they are unable to get the results the sportsmen of the county are entitled to. We believe that until such time as the commission can at least make some change in the management of the fish hatcheries and furnish Klamath county with proper facilities for the handling and hatching of the eggs taken in this district, that Klamath county will as in the past be exploited for the balance of the state, much to the detriment of the local sportsmen.

We do not believe that the present state superintendent of hatcheries is qualified to hold his position, and that as long as he is in office and the hatcheries managed as at this time, that the sportsmen of the state are suffering so great a loss of fish that they would get better results by removing the racks from the streams and not retarding the natural propagation of fish. Our trouble is not so much with our State Game commission as with the management of the fish department, and the fact that southern Oregon has no commissioner.

JOHN FURBER, Pres.
L. J. BEAN, Secretary.
Wm. W. McNEALY,
H. D. L. STEWART,
B. L. HARDENBROOK.

Build Something Every Day
A neat radio receiving set can easily be constructed by using the copper coils of your still as an aerial.

PREMIER EVADES PLOT

Poincare Slips From Paris Amid Elaborate Precautions

PARIS, July 29.—To avert an attempt on Premier Poincare's life as a result of the reported German Monarchist plot, Poincare quietly slipped out of this city by automobile for his country home early today after elaborate precautions were taken at the railway station to guard the train on which he had planned to go.

The premier was understood to be planning to carry out his original intention of participating in the unveiling the war memorial in the Argonne tomorrow near his country home at Sampaigny.

First Vanderbilt cup race was held on Long Island in 1904.

GERMAN MARKS SLUMP

Price of 15 1/2 a Hundred is Lowest Ever Recorded

NEW YORK, July 29.—German marks fell today to the lowest quotations ever recorded here, 15 1/2 cents a hundred, a drop of 2c overnight. The pre-war price of the mark was 23.8 cents each. Delay in settlement of the reparations question and the troubled state of the German domestic situation, was believed the cause.

Normalcy is back, but look how she has changed.

Man reaps what he sows unless the chickens get it.

Keep your head at traffic tangles.

Amnesty Petition Goes to Harding

These pickets stood before the White House with banners while other members of the delegation carried to President Harding a petition bearing 500 names asking for the release of political prisoners.

It seems that ice cream when it is really good, proves the old, old saying, "the more you eat the more you want."

Try Our YUM-YUM

You will find it so good that you will want more. Our best argument is that "we eat it ourselves."

Klamath Falls Creamery

1248 Main St. Phone 74