When Mercury Sizzles

Calico has come back into favor for dresses to wear when the mercury hits 90. Figured balais, gingham and dotted Swiss also will be worn.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent with the usual fancy work and late in the day dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Those sharing Mrs. Ruconich's hospitality were: Mesdames R. A. Emmitt, William Steinmetz, E. O. Probst, G. W. Bratton, F. Vaughn, S. Summers, O. M. Hoctor, J. J. Keller, E. Jones, George Humphrey, Harry Richardson, and W. P. Johnson.

PARIS.—It is called a rest gown, though how anyone could rest in it without crushing some of the lovely embroidery or getting all tangled up in bead tassels is a mystery yet to be solved. However, the garment is a bewitching thing of gray and green georgette. The lower portion is a pair of ankle length Turkish trousers of gray, with a strip of jade green embroidery down the side. The upper part is a long coat of embroidered jade georgette. Kimono sleeves fall in points to the knees and to the points are attached huge jade crepe-horns from which dangle big tassels of jade and pearl.

PARIS—There is a distinctly new "line" to some of the little coat dresses intended for late summer or early autumn wear. The front and back widths are mere straight, plain pieces of cloth, like wide panels. What fitting there is devolves upon gathers at the hips. This gives an extremely coat-like silhouette. Rather low, rounded necks and sleeves coming just below the elbows are features of this gown.

LONDON—A stunning sports costume, shown in a new Bond street shop, combined fawn and vermilion red, with happy and striking results. The vermilion skirt was of Jersey, with a dappling of fawn silk and a feature was the ribbed yoke extending over the hips. The Vermillion Jersey coat had fawn silk pipings. A blouse intended for wear with this costume was of fawn tricotine with touches of vermilion.

NEW YORK—This is assuredly a white summer. In spite of the exquisite colors in both sports and other wear, white seems locally to be the prime favorite. There is wisdom in the choice. Although white soils so rapidly, it does not fade, and the girl with a knitted white sports skirt, white blouse and sweater is sure of returning from a beach trip as unfaded as she went. In buying a hat for beach wear, it is well to remember that the seashore usually turns white straw yellow, though it does not affect white silk or satin.

real girl can make a man out of a supposedly good-for-nothing runder she marries before realizing what he was. Sunday at the Strand there will be a continuous show with Robert Warwick in "The Argyle Case." Vaudeville will be given in the evening at 8:45, 8:15 and at 9:30.

SOCIETY

The usual summer social recess has been declared and things have settled down to a steady quiet in Klamath Falls. Numerous out-of-town guests have been visiting here and were entertained with camping trips and picnics, popular mid-summer affairs.

D. B. Campbell was host Sunday on a boat trip to Rocky Point when he entertained for Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Starbuck, who were visiting here from Florida. Others of the party besides the host and honor guests were Mrs. J. S. Elliott, Grace Elliott, and Miss Greta Madison. The visitors left on Tuesday for California.

Tuesday evening Mrs. J. S. Elliott entertained at a charming dinner for a group of young people. Covers were laid for Misses Greta Madison, Lucile Harlan, Grace Elliott, Lot Beattie, Rex La Prairie, and Jack Lisman.

Dr. Paul M. Noel was the inspiration for an informal dinner on Sunday when a number of friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cahill to celebrate his birthday. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jester and son, Bobbie, George Stevenson, Miss Esther, Myler and Clara Cahill.

Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Starbuck, out-of-town visitors from Florida, were guests on a trip to the Lays beds with D. B. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Dunbar and Mrs. J. S. Elliott Monday of this week.

The Ladies' Elks club will not meet again until the first Tuesday in October. The vacation has been declared due to the number of members who are out of town for the summer and because of the warm days.

A very enjoyable surprise party was held at the home of little Myrtle Mullenax, 261 Rose street, Tuesday afternoon, complimenting the little girl's 11th birthday. Games were indulged in during the afternoon and delicious refreshments were served. Present were: Loraine Lavenik, Alma Parks, Peggy Raymond, Myrtle Mullenax and Ruby Young.

One of the larger affairs of the week was a party given by Miss Miriam Martin at the Oberchain ranch last Saturday night, complimenting her cousin, Miss Margaret Foster, who is visiting here from San Francisco. Miss Martin's house guests, Miss Christine Murdock, Bessie Tull and Fred Grohs, shared honors with Miss Foster. The guest list included Misses Marjorie Reader, Lola Haseltine, Alma McClay, Grace McClay, Mable Latta, Gladys Latta, Fay Drew, Mildred Kinzie, Della Short, Dorothy Short, Blanch Short, Florence Short, Christine Murdock, Margaret Foster and Fred Grohs. The Golden wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin was an event of last Saturday night when their children, grandchildren and friends were invited in the evening to an informal reception held at the Martin home. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Miss Vivian and Dortha Martin, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Anderson and daughters, Thirza and Helen, of Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Ramsey, and son Martin and daughter, Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hooley, Mrs. F. K. Ramsey, Miss Mary Johnson, J. J. Miller, Miss Alice Miller, Kenneth Thayer, of Berkeley, and Stanley George, of Kingland, Arizona.

Mrs. R. E. Geary was hostess at a charming afternoon and tea yesterday when a number of ladies were asked in to meet Miss Mable Hood, of San Francisco, Miss Alma Stages, of Stockton and Mrs. Geary's sister, Mrs. Edith Oulogy Dillard, of Portland. Mrs. K. O. Cummings assisted Mrs. Geary about the rooms and Mrs. Dillard poured. Miss Hood and Miss Hines who have been here as the guests of Mrs. Delf Gammon left this morning in the latter's car for San Francisco.

An enjoyable afternoon was passed Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Townsend at their beautiful ranch home on the Merrill road. The affair was complimenting Mrs. Townsend's birthday. An elaborate luncheon was served on the summer porch at 4 o'clock in the afternoon after which Mrs. L. Jacobs gave an interesting reading. The guest list included: Mesdames Nats Otterbein, J. J. Parker, R. E. Smith, L. Jacobs, H. J. Sevidge, A. F. Glover, Margaret Pitts, L. Cummings, S. Mang, W. Peyton, O. Peyton, Misses Audrey Briggs, Artie Briggs, Allen Cummings, Freddie Glover R. E.
