

EVERETT TRUE

By CONDO

The Office Cat

BY JUNIOR

Lay this at the shrine of Mid-Summer poetry, concocted by a local poet! If she didn't have her hair bobbed, if she didn't daub with paint, if she had her dresses made to reach to where the dresses ain't, if she didn't have that baby voice, and spoke just as she should; Don't you think she'd be as popular? I hardly think she would.

A Shower of Jools

The manager of a western hotel? team posted the following sign in the office: "No game today—couldn't get a diamond." The ad man asked, "Why not get a ruby?"

"Because, that's sapphire away," wrote the makeup man. "Well, no need to get sardonyx about it," scribbled one of the linotypers. "O yes," wrote the pressman. Then the cub reporter wrote: "Accept the manager's apologies," and tore down the sign.

L. Terwilliger says the main difference between a trained seal and a regular actor is that the regular actor eats his fish with a knife and fork.

Start Something

J. E. Howie says a mistake is evidence that somebody has at least tried to do something.

Must Be A Man Hater

Two business women were discussing the relative merits of men and women engaged in business. "Women are more loyal than men," declared one. "If she loves him there is nothing she wouldn't do for him. She would lie for him; steal for him." "Then I guess I have never loved one," declared the other one emphatically. "I will lie to 'em and steal from 'em, but never for 'em."

NO CREDIT EXTENDED

The world owes us a living; We hold this truth to be. But nevertheless it always comes To us marked C. O. D.

Teacher: "Do you know that punctuation means that you must pause?" Willie: "Course I do. A motor driver punctuated his tire in front of our house Sunday, and he paused for half an hour."

Fred Fleet asks the bluebird may bring happiness to the home, but the stork brings tax exemption.

J. Fuller Gloom—The average chautauqua consists chiefly of Higher Thought mixed with cloggers.

Playing A Cuck

"Going to drive through to California this summer?" He asked a neighbor. "Nope," he replied. "Going on the train. There's a lot of grade crossing races to be run between here and California, and I want to be riding on the winner."
