Bootleggers Sad Today Federal Men are Cause

Shades of John Barleycorn?

No wonder the city's prominent bootleggers are wearing long faces today. Hadn't noticed? Well, just have a long look at the next bootlegger you meet and note the indications of a heavy heart. And here's the cause:

Federal prohibition officers from Portland today destroyed numerous worms, copper tanks and the usual equipment common to moonshine making, not to mention sundry bottles of Klamath county's best likker, all of which was taken from arrests during the past few years and kept under lock and key in the police station.

Any wonder the honest bootleggers weep?

IRREGULARS FLEE FROM ADVANCE OF NATIONALISTS

DUBLIN, Aug. 4.—Irregulars apparently abandoned their intention to make a stand on the banks of the River Suir when National troops entered Carrick on Suir yesterday. Three hundred irregulars who occupied the town are fleeing across the hills toward Dungarvan. Before the evacuation they destroyed all Suir bridges.

Ladies are especially invited to the Community dinner. 4-5 the infested bark along the length of the tree.

The administration of the work was directed by a board of control of five members, consisting of the state forester and one member each from the following: U. S. Forest Service, U. S. Indian Service and Klamath Forest Protective association, F. P. Keen, U. S. entomologist, was made chairman. The board handled such matters as the determination of wage schedules, combined purchasing, transportation, organization of camps, cost accounting and methods of slash disposal.

Three control areas were designated, with J. F. Kimball of the Forest Protective association in charge of Area 1, the territory west of Klamath lake. Four control camps of about 20 men each were established on this area. A total of 26,459 acres were worked, 3524 trees treated at a cost of $12,900.

Area 2, the territory west of Swan lake and adjacent to the reservation, was under direction of the Indian service with A. K. Wolford in charge. Three camps of 18 men each were established and 1804 trees treated at a cost of about $9,200.

On area 3, the territory south of Bly, was under control of the Forest service with W. G. Durbin in charge. Three camps of 18 men each were established and 1751 trees treated at a cost of about $9,200. At present only a few men are employed. In the fall, the report says, it may be found necessary to establish six or eight camps with a force of 100 men.

It will take at least three years to check the epidemic and it is essential that the remainder of the appropriation becomes available, the report points out.

The control work was watched with keen interest by timbermen elsewhere as this was the largest cooperative project for control of the pine beetle ever started. The success of the undertaking was clearly established, the present report would indicate.

MOTHER NATURE AIDS RUSS CROP

Grain Stands Heavier Than For Years; Old Plantings Start to Grow

MOSCOW, Aug. 4.—Mother Nature appears to be trying to make up to Russia for what she did to her last year. Accurate estimates of the grain crop of 1922 still are lacking, but from nearly every province reports pour in to Moscow that not in many years have such growing crops been seen.

When rains were needed they came this spring in a profusion that made up for last year's drought. When sunshine was necessary it was on hand. Unless some unprecedented weather condition develops between now and the time of the harvest, practically every bushel of seed that was planted last autumn and this spring seems sure to bear fruit.

Rye fields higher than a man's head, the ears fairly drooping with kernels, are waving and browning throughout the Volga and central Russia, while the wheat is coming up in good shape in Siberia and the Ukraine. Potatoes and other vegetables are flourishing. Cattle which looked like skeletons in the winter are fattening on rich green pasture land.

In some localities stricken last year by the drought an unusual phenomenon has been noticed. Grain sown in the spring of 1921, which failed to sprout at all last summer has come up this year to swell the small sowings which were available in the spring of 1922. In other places, where the grain was so short and undeveloped last autumn as to be unworthy of harvesting, these dwarf plants dropped their seed and this, too, has sprouted under the rains and sunshine.

Generally speaking the ground seems to have gained strength during the famine year, and the rich nitrates which a big 1921 crop would have exhausted were left in the soil to fatten the kernels and strengthen the stalks of this summer's grain.

The areas sown this year perhaps were less than last in many provinces but the crop itself is so good that the yield is expected to be more than three and a half billion pounds of grain for all Russia, a billion more than last year. (A peck is 36 pounds).

If the surplus of fruitful regions can be transported to the cities and the non-productive localities, and if the peasants do not hoard it, Russian officials express the conviction that famine will be practically dead and that after October full stomachs will succeed hunger for most of Russia's population.

FRANCE HAS 20,000 GIRLS AND WOMEN IN TRACK, FIELD EVENTS

PARIS, Aug. 4.—France, where before the war feminine athletics were virtually unknown, now has 20,000 enrolled girls and women competing in track and field events, and from this now army a team will be selected to represent the nation in the international games in Pershing Stadium beginning August 29.

The international games may result in amalgamation of the two national feminine athletic organizations whose rivalry nearly disrupted plans for the meet, one with 327 local societies and the other with 129. The ministry of war is projecting plans for the combination.

Until May 1915 French women had never organized for athletics, with the exception of horseback riding, tennis, hunting and swimming. French women do not excel as sprinters but they are confident of their prowess in the middle-distance runs, and they have an exceptional performer in Madame Gourand-Morris in the weights.

Rome Plans to End Speeding With New Device to Stop Car

ROME, Aug. 4.—Confronted with the difficulty of controlling speeding automobiles within the city limits, Rome is considering a device which will prevent the car to which it is attached from travelling over ten miles an hour. The more the driver "steps on it," the slower the car will run.

This automobile speed regulator is the invention of Ernesto Frasnano and Ettore Villa. An indicator is set at the number of miles an hour desired as the maximum speed. An application of centrifugal force interrupts the working of the motors if the driver attempts to go beyond the limit.

In Rome the narrow streets in the elder quarters of the city, the numerous hills and the inequalities in the pavements of many streets make fast driving particularly dangerous. Drivers are prone to disregard existing speed regulations, so the city authorities are giving thought to making obligatory the use of this automatic speed regulator.

Latvia May Refuse To Accept Destroyer Offered Her By France

RIGA, Aug. 4.—Shorn of naval power by the Washington conference, France recently offered Latvia the destroyer Hansard as a present. She is over 200 feet long and makes 30 knots an hour.

The Latvian government made inquiries, however, as to the cost of operating a vessel of this type, and as a result of the information obtained it may be compelled to decline the gift.

If you miss it you will be sorry. It's Monday evening. 4-5

"TAKE ANOTHER CHANCE— AUCTION SATURDAY AFTERNOON AND NIGHT"

'ORDERED THE BOSS'

Finance Company stopped Auction of Winters' Stock as soon as first day's report reached Seattle. Insistent demand from public was my argument that induced the Big Boss to take another chance.

ANOTHER victory for our side. We have finally induced the Finance Company heads to allow us to hold another auction on Saturday. I was getting tired of hearing people say that we were afraid to let merchandise go on the auction block, because that wasn't the reason that the auction was stopped.

OUR company figures a certain amount of money must be raised from each and every session of an auction sale in a jewelry stock. We didn't raise half the average in the Winters' stock and the boss, up in Seattle, became disgusted with me as an auctioneer and you folks as buyers and ordered me to take a rest for a few days while the stock was placed on private sale.

THE private sale has been very successful, it was even better than anyone imagined possible. But, there have been many complaints about the auction with the results given.

AUCTION Saturday afternoon and evening starts at 3 o'clock and I'll work right through from 3 o'clock until midnight, because I have a hunch that this will be my last time to auction and your last chance to buy at auction any of the Winters' stock. I personally am going to improve my opportunity. What do you say?

THERE will be rewards, of course. Better be here early in the afternoon. And, for the love of Mike, make a bid once in a while. Let's make this party a success.

I thank you,
ARTHUR H. ALLEN, for the
