

SIX INDICTED NIGHT RIDERS ARE ARRESTED

Warrants Served Following Indictments By Special Special Grand Jury

Medford, Aug. 5.—Following their indictments by a special grand jury investigating alleged Ku Klux Klan outrages in Jackson county, six prominent Jackson county men have been placed under arrest.

The men arrested were: Jesse F. Hittson, Medford auto dealer and former chief of police of Medford; Dr. Albert P. Bray, Medford, chiropractor and former pastor; Howard Hill, manager and part owner of the Hill & Hill orchards, located near the southern city limits of Medford;

Best L. Moses, janitor at the Jackson county courthouse and former janitor at Jackson county jail; J. Alexander Morris, a janitor at the Jacksonville public school; Thomas E. Goodie, Jacksonville garage owner.

Bonds of $2,000 were posted to assure the appearance of each.

Sixteen "John Doe" indictments were also returned by the grand jury. The grand jury report accompanying the indictments was very brief and after expressing appreciation to the U. S. Department of Justice for its assistance in ferreting out these cases of lawlessness in southern Oregon, requested that another grand jury be called to further probe certain activities of the Ku Klux Klan, which the present grand jury was unable to completely cover.

The grand jury was made up as follows:

Marie Benedick, Applegate, forewoman; Paul E. Pearce, Jacksonville; D. A. Lyons, Medford; J. W. Mayle, Medford; Frank Silva, Little Applegate; Lester Layton, Applegate; Charles Layton, Ashland.

MISS MATHESON DEAD

A telegram received today from San Francisco announces the death last evening of Miss Flora Matheson, until recently a nurse at the Klamath general hospital, according to A. J. Lyle, manager of the hospital.

Miss Matheson had been in ill health for some time and left last Tuesday for San Francisco for treatment. She was placed under an anesthetic at the San Francisco general hospital to undergo an examination and died upon the table.

She had been on the nursing staff of the local hospital since January. Her parents live in Nebraska and the body will be sent there for burial.

WANT AD MADE SALE

Quick Disposal of Property Follows Two-Line Insertion

Even in a newspaper office, where examples of the pulling power of classified advertising are an every day occurrence, one stops and marvels sometime at the marvelous results.

For instance W. W. Donart, 1228 Oregon avenue, is going to move to Seattle soon and he had $200 worth of furniture on which he didn't want to pay freight. He put a two-line ad in The Herald with instructions to run it three times—total cost thirty cents. He sold the entire lot of furniture the second day.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES

Barometric conditions have changed but little during the last 24 hours, the Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy recording a pressure of 30.35 at 2 p. m. today. A continuation of the pleasant conditions that have prevailed for several days may be looked for tomorrow.

Forecast for next 24 hours: Fair and warm.

The Tycos recording thermometer registered maximum and minimum temperatures today, as follows:

High	85
Low	60

Evils of Betting

Charles Lee Henny, who resides in London, is believed to be the man who was arrested in connection with the betting case.

JAPANESE NIMRODS PAY $60 EACH FOR FISHING IN LINK R.

And Not Even a Nibble to Show; Auto Park Censor Also Falls Into Clutches of Game Warden

Sixty dollars per fish and no fish is mighty costly fishing, even in these times of expensive rice. So might believe K. Gakikita and H. Sato, employees of the Japanese laundry at Conger & Main.

Yesterday the two sought to satisfy their craving for fish by dropping their hooks in the water from the wharf nearby. Fishing was poor but excitement was not lacking when H. E. Meads, acting game warden, put in an appearance and brought the culprits before Justice Gaghagen.

Cost per fisherman per fish—and no fish:

Pine for fishing without
License$25
Allen license25
Regulat hunting and fishing5
License5
Costs5
Total$60

A Hammond, camped in the auto park, also fell into the clutches of the law when his craving for fish impelled him to overlook the matter of a license. And, like the Japanese nimrods, Hammond had not even a nibble when the omnipresent Meads appeared. Hammond appeared before Justice Gaghagen this morning and was assessed $25.

HALL IS AHEAD BUT FEW VOTES IN MULTNOMAH

Net Gain Seven up to Noon; Specific Charges Re- quired of Both

PORTLAND, Aug. 5.—A recount in 46 precincts in the recheck of Multnomah county before noon showed a net gain for Charles Hall of seven votes over Olcott. During the morning count Hall lost one, Olcott's losses and gains were equalized.

Circuit Judge Bligham announced that he would require Hall's attorneys to make specific charges against each person on the list of 200. The same order will apply to the Olcott forces when they file a similar list Monday.

A new method of counting was adopted because of confusion of the similarity of sound between "Hall" and the first syllable of "Olcott."

HERE 16 YEARS AGO

Manager of Tourist Bureau Recalls Trip to Lake in Early Days

Sixteen years ago a large party left here for Crater lake. "Automobiles were virtually unknown and the humble horse was the means of travel. In this party were Judge Benson, Judge Baldwin, H. St. George Bishop, Charles Fee of the S. P., Mr. Curtis of the Washington Post and Floyd S. Judah, at that time S. P. traffic agent, now general manager of the Peck-Judah Travel Service of San Francisco.

Judah left here today with a party of eight enroute to San Francisco after visiting Yellowstone park and Crater lake.

"We stopped at the old Link-river hotel near the Link river bridge, when we were here 16 years ago," said Judah. The town was wide open, to say the least. Where the White Pelican hotel now stands was sage brush. People were talking about a railroad at that time, and many were firm in the belief that rail transportation was certain. Others, however, scoffed at the idea.

"Crater lake is as beautiful as ever. The members of our party were deeply impressed with the wonderful Wood River country near Fort Klamath."

Judah said that while tourist travel had been somewhat reduced by the rail strike, travelers on the Southern Pacific had suffered no inconvenience.

AVERAGE BERRY CROP

Huckleberries Will Be ripe About August 15; Wagon Road Building

An average crop of huckleberries will be found this season at the famous huckleberry patch, according to Mrs. F. R. Hamilton of Kirkford. "We found an average crop, but not as good as that of last year because of the frost," said Mrs. Hamilton. "The berries will be ripe about August 15. A wagon road is being built up to the top and a construction camp has been established at the foot of the hill on the Union creek. A darning platform will be built near 'Huckleberry City' if time permits."

CHEHALIS MILL BURNS

Entire Plant Is Destroyed; Incendi- arism in Forests Suspected

CHEHALIS, Aug. 5.—Chehalis mill company plant here was entirely destroyed by fire this morning, with a loss between $400,000 and $500,000. A few minutes after the fire was observed the entire plant was a mass of flames. The fire department was helpless to save the building or stock. The cause of the fire is unknown.

SEATTLE, Aug. 5.—United States Marshal Edward B. Benn expressed the belief that a large proportion of the forest fires are started by criminal syndicates, after a trip through Cedar Falls.

TO OPEN ROAD BIDS

18 Miles of The Dalles-California Highway Before Commissioners

Bids are to be opened at the meeting today of the county court for construction of 18 miles of The Dalles-California highway between Lamm's mill and Fort Klamath, according to County Judge R. H. Bunnell. Consideration would also be given to completion of the Green-Springs mountain road, he said.

The latter road was recently inspected by a federal representative who will make recommendation according to his findings. Upon his report will depend the aid given the county, but a favorable report is expected, Bunnell said. This road will be completed on a 50-50 basis, and will give a completed highway into Keno.

Work on 39.2 miles of the Sand Creek road is underway, a contract having been let to the Hill Construction company of Portland. This work was let in two units at a contract price of $237,000 and $57,900.

TYPHOON TAKES HUGE TOLL OF LIFE IN CHINA

Death List Placed at 5,000; Dead Bodies Floating in Harbor; City Razed

HONG KONG, Aug. 5.—A typhoon raging at Swatow, 250 miles North of here, is the worst in the history of the city. Dead bodies are floating amid wreckage everywhere in the harbor. Nearly every house in the city was damaged. A flood following the wind drove the inhabitants from their homes.

The death list is placed at 5,000. Native boats were picked up by the wind and waves and carried far inshore.

The storm broke Wednesday evening and raged all night, leaving death destruction in city and harbor. Warehouses were badly damaged and their contents ruined. Trees were torn up and communication lines down.

Large sections of the city were laid flat.

The Seeburg-Smith organs are manufactured in Chicago but the purchase of this organ was made from the San Francisco agency through W. C. Pettit who is in Klamath Falls now and will remain here to superintend the installation.

HUNTERS ARE WARNED

California to Enforce Law Prohib- iting Game Transportation

Sportsmen expecting to bring back a fat buck or two with the opening of deer season in California September 1 should proceed with caution and with due regard for the California law prohibiting transportation of game over the state line. Through unofficial but authentic channels comes the word that close watch will be kept on Oregon hunters and that offenders will be given severe penalties. This warning applies principally to native game.

Dove and sage hen season in the northern California district opened August 1.

Deer season in Klamath and Jackson counties, as in all other Oregon counties, is from August 20 to October 31, both dates inclusive. This is in accordance with the change made this year by the state game commission.

It is not known how the blaze started.

Mrs. Edith Stevens, 15, is held in a Brooklyn jail following the seizure of a ship by prohibition officers. She is the first woman to be held in connection with rum cases.

CONGER AVENUE RESIDENTS ARE AGAINST PARK

Objections to Tourist Camp Ground are Filed With Chamber of Commerce

Property owners on and in the vicinity of Conger avenue, and other taxpayers, are opposed to the proposed purchase of the old Drake place on Conger avenue, now owned by G. A. Krause, as an automobile camp ground.

A formal protest was submitted to the chamber of commerce yesterday by Fred D. Fletcher, signed by Fred Heilbronner, A. L. Leavitt, Fred D. Fletcher, C. R. Leighton, W. W. Finley, Twyla Ferguson, George C. Ulrich, by Fred D. Fletcher, Agent, D. V. Kuykendall, H. M. Manning, Ray A. Telford, W. M. Duncan, C. C. Low, and J. F. Kimball.

Objections to Tourist Camp Ground are Filed With Chamber of Commerce

The protesters state their understanding of the situation to be that the proposed purchase price of this property is $7,500.00 and the plan outlined to finance the same is to solicit subscriptions from the merchants and others to the amount of $2,500.00 or take $2,500.00 of the chamber of commerce funds and make a partial payment upon the property, and then at the fall election ask the taxpayers of the city to assume the total purchase of the property and establish it as a Municipal camping ground.

The protest follows:

We wish, at this time, to respectfully enter our protest against establishing a camp site at the point indicated and in the manner proposed, and suggest for your consideration the following:

That this matter has been handled by the chamber of commerce alone without giving it proper publicity through the medium of the local papers. It would seem only fair, if the chamber is going to call on the taxpayers at large to assume the expense of the camp ground that it should be made a public matter and the citizens of the community generally given a hearing and an opportunity to say where it should be located.

That the property selected is too small for a camp ground, and is high priced residence property, having a frontage of only approximately 300 feet and a depth of approximately 250 feet, and is located on either side by residence property of equally high value.

That the value of the residence property immediately adjacent will be greatly depreciated by having a camp site located at that point, and in all fairness to adjacent property owners a much larger tract should be purchased, if the camp site is to be located at this point. This would entail an investment of from $25,000.00 to $30,000.00, and the funds necessary to finance it should be available before it is attempted.

That the proposed method of financing even the purchase of the Krause property is uncertain. As we understand it, a $2500.00 payment is to be made either out of the chamber of commerce funds, which would certainly not seem advisable under the present conditions, or the business men would be called upon to advance that much additional. The payment of the remaining $5,000.00 would depend upon the result of an election to be held later. If the electors did not agree with the chamber of commerce as to the choice of the site, the chamber or business men would either have to finance the whole property or forfeit the $2500.00 already paid. Further, they would have to finance the future operation and maintenance cost of the camp grounds.

That there is considerable feeling in the community that if the tax payers are to be called upon for funds for a public camp ground the money should be expended in conjunction with the park board.

Barleycorn Has Relapse More Likker Destroyed

John Barleycorn and his confederates, the bootleggers, suffered another relapse yesterday afternoon when the federal prohibition officers turned from the police station to the courthouse and payed Sheriff Low a visit. Here they took into their possession and destroyed 20 gallons of moonshine and chopped up four stills. Earlier in the day they destroyed the accumulated liquor and moonshine paraphernalia at the city hall.
