

The Office Cat

BY JUNIOR

John Coleman says it is getting about time for another drive to start. We have not had one now in several weeks.

Thoughts of a Middle-Aged Guy. The kids can go camping; I'll stay home and fry; I'm a middle-aged guy.

A friend of mine claims that it pays any hotel to entertain his wife. She always cleans the room beautifully before she unpacks.

She—"Isn't it quite difficult to eat soup with a moustache?" He—"Well, it is rather a strain."

A Word About Student (writing home): "How do you spell 'financially'?" Other "P-i-n-a-c-e-l-a-l-y, and there are two 'r's in 'embarrassed.'"

BE A SELF STARTER Do a self-starter! Don't wait for the boss! Roll up your sleeves and dig in! The time you spend waiting will all be a loss; You were made for a winner! Begin!

Do a self-starter! Let other men wait until the boss tells them to go; But you be the worker who sets his own gait. If you wait on the crowd, you'll be slow.

Don't wait for the boss! Be the man in the lead! The followers land on the shelves. In shop and in office, the men that we need Are fellows who think for themselves.

In the days of marcel waves, daughter sat on papa's lap and petted his glossy pate. "No waves for you, dad," said she, "you're all beach."

"Mrs. Jones, I got 'till yuh, th' sheriff came today an' took your husband's clothes."

"What! Outrageous! I wish you could find my husband and tell him right away."

"He knows it, m'm. He was wearin' 'em at the time."

THU FOR TAT "Going far," asked the talkative one.

"To Chicago," roared the traveler. "I'm in the dry goods line. Thirty-six, Married. Name is Horatio Brown. Son nineteen years old. In the civil service. He got thirty a week. Father died last July. Mother still living. One of my nieces has red hair. Dur cock left, but we got a new one. Anything else?"

The talkative man thought a moment. "What oil do you use on your tongue?" he inquired slowly.

DANGER Smartly Smith was striving To cross the railroad track! He planned upon arriving But something held him back!

In dreams, he saw a vision! A freight train, then a jar! But there was no collision; He simply stalled his car.

MIRACLE HEALER DRAWS MANY

Extra Policemen Detailed to Handle Crowds; Thousands of Automobiles Bring Invalids

SAN JUAN, P. R., Aug. 12.—Extra policemen have been detailed for duty at San Lorenzo to help handle the crowds drawn there from Wednesday night to late Friday each week by the stories of apparent cures by Jalita Vazquez, the "healer of San Lorenzo."

Hundreds, if not thousands, of automobiles carrying the sick, lame, and curious have been visiting San Lorenzo and so great have been the traffic jams that there have been complaints to the police that the San Lorenzo road was impassable. On Thursday last there was a line of motors two miles long on each side of the roadway waiting for people who are rapidly wearing into a brown trail the cow path that leads up the steep hills to the spring from which the supposedly healing waters come.

Thousands go by motor to the "healer" and more thousands on foot. From Caguas and other nearby towns there has sprung up a regular motor service to and from the place of "miracles." People go by truck loads. They go in carriages, carts and some are carried. Stories of "miracles" are spread with wonderful rapidity thru the crowd each day, and there are reports of people coming from San to Domingo or the Virgin Islands to get the waters blessed by the "healer."

Some make a fiesta of it; others are almost reverential. The healing spring is about a mile from the town where the "healer" lives. Near the spring a palm-covered pavilion sheltering 400 to 500 people has been erected. There Thursdays and Fridays the healer sits in a chair on a raised platform and receives the sick. Waters from the spring lack healing qualities until she has blessed or magnetized them. After being blessed the water is carried away in bottles, buckets, oil cans, anything. And each person the "healer" sees is told to bathe, rub the afflicted portion of the body with the water, or drink so much of it at certain times.

Frequently the "healer" is aroused from her trances with great difficulty. Her father and a brother assist her. Her "power" is supposed to have been passed on to her, while the spring waters for many years have been reputed to have healing qualities. It was about two months ago that the "healer" first attracted attention. Since then her fame has spread throughout the island.

MARRIES PRINCESS BUT FAILS IN HIS FIRST UNDERTAKING LONDON, Aug. 12.—The first business venture of Lord Lascelles, better known as the husband of Princess Mary, has proved a failure. The Conqueror Typewriter manufacturing company in Stourton, near Leeds, of which he was the head and principal shareholder, has just been sold.

The concern was started in 1919 with a nominal capital of half a million sterling. It was intended by the promoters to produce an all British typewriter which should compete with the best of the American machines.

The erection of the factory and its equipment was undertaken at a time when prices ruled high. No expense was spared and when the works were completed they were considered the "last word" in modern mass productions.

It was hoped that the new industry would provide regular employment for 400 work people. Much experimental work was undertaken in order to justify the name of "Conqueror" and ensure production on a sufficiently profitable basis. But owing to the industrial slump not a single machine has been produced for sale.

PARIS BEGINS TO "LISTEN IN." PARIS, Aug. 11.—Radio broadcasting is making strides in Paris, although it has by no means attained the popularity which prevails in the United States. This is due in part to the fact that all sending stations must have a government license and pay a fee.

Receiving sets are sold as low as $4.00 and for $60.00 an instrument can be obtained with which concerts given at the Hague can be heard.

BEWARE BOOZE POWDER, WARNING

Postoffice Department Would Stem Tide of Dehydrated Alcoholic Beverages

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Home brewers and anti-Volsteadians, beware the "Booze Powder", is the warning sent broadcast by the Post office department, in a recent circular. For stemming a tide of "dehydrated" alcoholic beverages of reminiscent names is a steady job of the fraud section of the department.

Using the reputation of German chemists certain German concerns have distributed hundreds of thousands of circulars in the United States offering for "one dollar only, Rhine wine, moselle, sherry, port, bordeaux, burgundy, tokay, munich beer, pilsener, porter, ale, etc." In a dried form, says the post office.

From the powder a gallon or two of the beverage indicated on the package can be made, the spurious circulars claim.

Despite the issuance of fraud warnings and fraud orders, many people are still sending money to these German concerns only to have the money returned to them by the post-office department. If these powders contained alcohol their importation would be prohibited and since they do not have the latest possibilities advertised they violate the mail fraud statutes.

A significant requirement, adds the department warnings, is that every advertising circular insists on payment being made in American currency.

Stevenson Manuscript Is Sold in London LONDON, Aug. 12.—Fifteen unpublished autograph letters of Robert Louis Stevenson to his cousin, R. A. M. Stevenson, have been sold to an American buyer for $3,500. The manuscript of Stevenson's unpublished play, "Monmouth," consisting of 59 pages, sold for $1,200. Accompanying the manuscript was a letter written by the famous author when he was 23. "I recognize," it says, "that I shall never be a great man. I may set myself peacefully on a smaller journey, not without hope of coming to the inn before nightfall."

A letter written by Stevenson the day before he left for America to be married brought $150, and an unpublished poem went to an American collector for $65.

The ladies of the Helping Hand society were entertained by Mrs. Lida Kirkpatrick Wednesday with 23 present besides a large number of children. Music, both instrumental and vocal, was enjoyed. The most enjoyable part of the afternoon was when quite a number went in bathing. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Alma Layman, Wednesday, August 23.

ELKS TO HONOR HEROES OF WAR

Memorial to Be Erected in Chicago at Cost of $2,500,000

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—A circular building with a plant dome supported by a ring of Grecian pillars, will be the main structure of the memorial to its war dead of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks to be erected in Chicago. The national memorial headquarters commission of the lodge which met in New York recently decided on this kind of a structure, and plans and specifications for the $2,500,000 home of Elksdom will be drawn within the next few weeks.

On either side of the huge memorial rotunda will be small wings connected with the main building by porticos. These will hold the offices of the secretary of the grand lodge and the editorial offices of the Elks magazine.

The structure, erected next summer, will be located at Diversey Parkway and Lakeview Avenue, in the heart of a colony of beautiful residences, and facing Lincoln park. In the rotunda will be placed some memorial to the members of the lodge who lost their lives during the war. The nature of this has not been decided upon, according to Fred C. Robinson, the grand secretary.

"The building will be open to the public," said Robinson. "There will be no auditorium or lodge halls in connection with the place. The site we have purchased has nearly four hundred feet frontage. It overlooks Lincoln Park and Lake Michigan. The work of selecting the memorial itself which will be in the rotunda is now being conducted by a committee. As for the details and decorations expressive of the sacred sentiments, it is to early to anticipate particulars but there is the world's treasure of experience to be borrowed from."

"The office of the grand secretary and the editorial office of the Elks magazine will be outside the main memorial."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (Capital News Service)—The "aphysiometer," or "lie detector," which Justice McEvoy refused to admit as a credible witness in the trial of James Fyzo for murder, continues to hold interest in capital legal circles. Most recent of its proponents is Dr. E. T. Dudding, head of the Prisoners' Relief society, who has submitted himself to its tests in an endeavor to obtain what he terms "fair justice" for himself. Dr. Dudding was convicted and sentenced for manslaughter a number of years ago, served his time, and since then has devoted himself to the aid and relief of reformed prisoners.

At his request, Dr. William Marston, professor of legal psychology at American University, and Paul E. Hadlick, secretary of the American Psycho-Legal society, conducted the test. The instrument is similar to that which physicians use for testing blood pressure, but has an especially sensitive needle upon a recording dial, which fluctuates with any change in blood pressure. It is explained that fear, anger, and pain cause the needle to jump, and that no man tells a lie the outcome of which concerns him, without experiencing fear. As neither anger nor pain enters into an examination of a witness in court, the jumping of the needle when a question is answered is held to indicate fear, and therefore lack of truth.

Dr. Dudding was put through a grueling examination as to the alleged crime for which he was convicted and sentenced, his inquisitors doing all in their power to confuse and trip him. At no time did the needle jump so, indicating, so the experts said, that his answers were invariably truthful.
