

KLAMATH FLOWER SHOW

Wednesday, August 16, Afternoon and Evening

Melhase Building, Corner Main and Fifth

Under the Direction of the Women's Auxiliary, Chamber of Commerce

SIGNIFICANT AND SYMBOLIC

Flowers, significant for centuries of many diverse ideas and differing degrees of sentiment, symbolic of mankind's highest hopes, strike a common chord of admiration in human hearts, and are a uniting bond.

Flowers, like trees, possess individuality and lend their individuality to the garden that they adorn. Many flower gardens give individuality to a community.

Their beauty creates a home-like and livable atmosphere.

With this thought in mind, the Woman's Auxiliary of the Chamber of Commerce, last year launched the first Klamath Falls annual flower show, and it was crowned with magnificent success, far beyond that attained by the usual first effort.

The second annual flower show Wednesday will repeat and enlarge upon the initial success.

A household or community can exist without flowers—truly. But think of what the world would lack in softer influences; the culture and romance of the past ages that have speeded the world's advancement by centuries, which had birth in the love of flowers.

The Klamath Falls annual Flower Show is a big, worth-while institution. It belongs to Klamath county—not to Klamath Falls alone—and we hope this year that it will get the combined support of all flower lovers and flower growers of Klamath County.

One silver trophy cup, donated by C. R. Moeller of the Klamath Flower Shop, for the boy or girl exhibitor winning the most points. This cup becomes the property of the winning exhibitor this year.

POINTS AWARDED

The entries will be judged for points. A blue ribbon will indicate three points; a red ribbon two points and a white ribbon one point.

No exhibitor will be limited as to the number of entries; therefore the more entries an individual has the greater number of points it is possible to acquire.

THE MORE THE BETTER

It is the desire of the committee to have as large a variety of and as many flowers as possible. We realize that there have been drawbacks to flower culture this season, but if every grower of flowers will exhibit this difficulty will be overcome.

The aim is to get a general exhibit, and the committee urges everyone to make an entry.

You may think that you have no chance of winning. You cannot tell unless you try. You may take one of the prizes.

If you fail to take a prize you can at least get a ribbon, and more than that you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have done something for the general good of the community you live in.

LET EVERY GARDEN BE REPRESENTED.
