Here's Nancy Vorhees, high jumper on the team of girls which represented America in the Olympic games at Paris, practicing shortly before the contest. In the Olympic she tied for first with Miss Carrie Hatt of England, with a mark of 1.45 meters.

SEEKS FINANCIAL AID

Salvation Army to Stage Drive in County to Raise $2,500

Ernest L. Graves, field representative for the Salvation Army, is here to conduct a campaign for the purpose of putting the local branch of the Salvation Army on a sound financial basis for the coming year.

He has been granted permission by the chamber of commerce to solicit funds and tomorrow, accompanied by several business men, will start a campaign here.

According to statements of the Salvation Army representatives, heretofore the Salvation Army has been supported by the promiscuous solicitation of funds by its workers and collections from pool rooms and cafes by means of the tambourine. This method consumed a great deal of time and energy on the part of the officers. Many of these officers have received an intensive course of training at the different training schools of the Salvation Army and are thereby qualified for a greater work.

For the past four years, in counties where the Salvation Army is working, it has been customary to conduct one financial campaign a year, and in this campaign, provided for the needs of the local work for the ensuing year. In submitting the budget for the work of the Salvation Army for Klamath county for the coming year, Graves has set the sum of $2,500 as being requisite and necessary for the work that the officers will be called upon to do from time to time. There is at the present time the White Shield Home in the city of Portland, where during the last year they have received 197 girls, several of those girls having gone there from this county.

Alimony Claim Against War Veteran's Estate

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 29.—A claim has been filed in the superior court of Napa county against the $7,000 estate of John Rhoades, Indian war veteran, who died at the Yountville soldiers' home March 24, for $16,556, representing unpaid alimony and interest claimed by Ruvina M. Cragin of Fayette, Iowa, his wife, divorced since 1884.

Mrs. Cragin, the claim reads, obtained an alimony judgment of $8,000 against Rhoades. He paid $2,015.75 and left an unpaid balance of nearly $5,000. The difference between the claim and the original balance represents interest.

A second claim filed by Nellie A. Walker for $1,190 represents the principal and interest on $440 which she says she loaned him in 1877.

upon them if they won't." Anderson says New York state already has 250,000 members of the Allied Citizens of America, and the enrollment campaign is just beginning.

"When the light is turned on all decent people will come in," he said. "There are prominent bankers, lawyers, manufacturers, and even a few preachers, who by opposing prohibition have placed themselves in the category with frowy whiskered anarchists. When they see that through ignorance or prejudice they have lined up with the criminals they will come in out of the wet."

DEMONSTRATION AGENT REPORTS GOOD RESULTS

Miss McComber the home demonstration agent, has been holding meetings daily throughout the county, and reports a very good average attendance. The women are making a big effort to get out to the meetings.

Miss McComb announces the following schedule for September:

Hildebrand and Dairy, Sept. 2, 5, 12; Ft. Klamath, 9; Pee Valley; Mt. Laki, 6; Office 1, 13.

Miss McComb has a few days which may be given to some community not already planned for if the women of that community ask for them. Women who are interested should call to see or write to Miss McComb at the County Agent's office as soon as possible.

ARTIST'S WIFE IN TROUBLE

It is that Mrs. Wakefield stated that she was in love with the plaintiff's husband and that she had caused him to come to her and that she had prevailed upon him to give up his position in Oakland so that he might be with her in Marin county; that Mrs. Wakefield offered the plaintiff $100 a month for the rest of her natural life to give up and divorce her husband.

Mrs. Kendrick stated that she returned the proposition and returned to Oakland, and that less than a month afterward Mrs. Wakefield Kendrick, and the divorce action trip to the Sierra Nevada mountains and there lived together at a camp from August 7 to August 20.

The suits were filed by Frank Carr, attorney, representing Mrs. Kendrick, and the divorce action was assigned to Judge Kissell, to be called for hearing the coming week.

Mrs. Kendrick asks $100 a month alimony from Kendrick, who, she said, is a capable newspaper artist and was making $50 a week on an Oakland newspaper at the time he quit and joined Mrs. Wakefield in Sausalito. By a coincidence, the amount of alimony she asked is identical with the amount she said Mrs. Wakefield offered her for Kendrick.

ONLY ONE WEEK MORE BEFORE

SCHOOL DAYS BEGIN

Only one week more and the children will be skipping down the street, on their way to school. How glad and how much happier they would be to meet their chums all dressed up because one of the first things they will do is compare dresses, hose, shoes, ribbons, and talk about the past summer vacation.

DRESS SUITS FOR THE LITTLE FELLOW

Just unpacked a shipment of suits and coats for the little fellow of from 2 to 7. Among these are Serges, Tweeds, Cashmores, Corduroy etc. How nice are those little sailor suits with the pants buttoning on the waist and emblem sewed on the right sleeves. These suits are priced very reasonable and will sell fast. See them in the window.

ON THE WAY TO SCHOOL

TUESDAY MORNING, September 5th, school opens, and boys from all parts of town and country will be on their way to join their companions in the school room.

WHAT WILL YOUR BOY wear to school? Now is the time to decide. Let us show you and the boy some of the school clothes we have to meet his needs.

EVERY THING needed is here. From cap down to shoes; from warm winter underclothes outward to heavy Oregon City all-wool Mackinaws, we have all that the boy wants. See our two-knicker suits and our Bradley sweaters.

High-cut shoes that stand the rough schoolboy life are to be had here. Caps, just what the boys are wearing, are here, too. Remember, the boys like to be in style, too.
