

FT. KLAMATH TRIP OFF

Wood River Valley People Going to Jackson County Fair

The proposed caravan tonight to Fort Klamath was postponed today when word was received by the chamber of commerce from L. C. Sisomere of Fort Klamath that a number of the residents of that district were going to the Jackson county fair. The caravan trip will be made at some future date. It was said.

Here's Champion Eater Friends Will Back Him

Sam Fox, colored, residence in the "Ark" near the Link river bridge, is the champion eater of Klamath county if not of the whole, wide world. And his friends will back him against all comers.

The other night, however, Sam overplayed his hand. His lunch that night, it was said, consisted of three chickens, two gallons of buttermilk, 25 cucumbers, two pans of gingerbread and "trimmings", such as bread, butter and potatoes. This was nothing more than a lunch for Sam and all would have been well had it not been for the buttermilk. Sam was not accustomed to buttermilk, it was said. It went to his head. So a doctor was called and he was pumped out at a hospital.

Sam's friends expressed surprise that he had succumbed to such a light repast. As a champion, Sam's reputation suffered considerably. His friends will tell you of the time Sam ate nine pounds of chicken gumbo, then complained of being hungry and howled for more.

Whether Sam can stage a comeback is the question now. Some believe his best days are over, while others aver that he was merely out of training. Sam is said to blame the buttermilk, declaring that it is neither food nor drink but merely something you feed pigs to make them fat, and that humans had best leave it alone.

To raise money to pay for his cats, Sam works as a shoe shine artist in Jack Ryan's barber shop. The barbers say he swings a wicked brush, particularly after he has lunched well.

WOMEN GAMBLERS PLYING TRADE ON ATLANTIC LINERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Women are replacing men gamblers aboard ocean liners.

"Little Eddie" Malloon, the watchdog of the piers, whose job it is to "spot" sea-going gamblers, is authority for the statement. He says the men claim they are going straight because they have found that travelers are too careful and ship's officers too watchful.

Most of the gamblers, says Malloon, came to that conclusion just about the time a White Star captain sent a well-known gambler to the detention hospital aboard his ship following a spirited little party in the smoking room, when flats were brought into action.

But where men have dropped cards and dice, women have taken them up. The women are known to Eddie and to other detectives who help him watch the piers, but the problem is to catch them.

no big liner recently came into port and Eddie, as usual, met it at Quarantine. He lost himself as soon as he was aboard. But by the time the liner had reached the pier, he popped into view, sore and disgusted, with disappointment easy to be read in his face.

"I lost 'the Duchess' again," he grumbled. His story was brief. He had received a wireless tip that there was a woman aboard, aristocratic and cultured; that she had been very sweet to several of the men passengers; that she had reluctantly consented to play bridge practically every night at sea; that she had collected rather heavily at the end of each sitting.

"I talked to about five men about her," continued Eddie, "and not one would complain. She was a woman, they said, and they were not willing to accuse a woman of cheating at cards. So I had to let 'the Duchess' come ashore and she has just passed her baggage. She will probably be back on the French line next week, laughing at me.

"That's the big trouble now. We could beat the men at the game, but now men passengers who have lost either won't admit a woman could outwit them, or else they won't complain. The women are getting away with it simply because they are women."

PATRIOTS TO GATHER

Constitution Day to Be Observed With Program Sunday Night

Plans have been perfected by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution and by the Klamath Bar Association for the observance of Constitution Day Sunday night at the Presbyterian church. R. C. Groesbeck will deliver the main address that evening. Other members of the bar will speak before school assemblies on Friday. Mrs. Twyla Ferguson informed all the schools in the county of the importance of their observing this day, and J. P. Wells, city school superintendent, took the matter up with the city schools.

Judge A. L. Leavitt, in behalf of the bar, asks that every member of the association make it a point to attend the meeting Sunday and all Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution are requested to be present by Mrs. R. E. Wattenburg and Captain O. C. Applegate, who represent these two organizations.

Dolls Are Already Making Their Appearance

Last week we were surprised with a kindergarten of life size dolls. Some of them actually talk as though they were human. Send the little ones in to see them or perhaps the little tot has a birthday and has wanted a doll all this time. Some are dressed and others are not. All sizes and most of them are unbreakable.

HER FIGURE HAS GROWN LESS MATURE THAN THAT OF ANY WOMAN OF HER AGE THAT I KNOW

She hasn't let the contour of her figure slump. She sits erect—and stands erect—but with a grace that is charming.

Some one is going to say that she is in her forties—but who is going to believe it?

A Modart Corset will do this for any woman if she places herself in the hands of a trustworthy corsetiere.

Our Corsetiere is of that calibre.—Corset Department.

The Modart Corset seldom, if ever, requires any alteration. That is because it is designed to fit every type of figure.
