WORSE THAN WAR

IN THE past 18 months there have died in the United States more than twice as many Americans, as a result of automobile accidents, as were killed in the great war. Only 48,000 of our boys went west in the big conflict while in the last year and a half 91,000 Americans died as a result of motor car accidents.

The startling feature of these figures lies in a knowledge that the war is ended, while the motor car is with us to stay and to increase in use.

Despite the heavy toll it takes in human life, nothing is going to stop its progress.

Consideration of the situation brings its importance home to the country even more than to the city because nearly 70 per cent of the automobiles manufactured in America are sold and used in towns of 1,000 population and under and on the farms.

This means that preventable deaths in the country as a result of automobile accidents is proportionately great, a situation so serious that it cries aloud that something be done to halt this yearly national disaster.

One of the great sources of automobile accidents is the grade crossings—a problem in every small community.

In many states the law prescribes that when grade crossings are eliminated the towns through which they pass must stand a good proportion of the expense. This is a heavy burden on the taxpayer.

On the other hand to order the railroads generally to eliminate crossings at grade, either by an elevation or by submerging tracks would appear to be an unjust demand.

This matter of grade crossings is more than local. Indeed it is so national in character it might be well for Washington to assist more materially than it does in checking the country's most notorious death traps.

KLAN COLLEGE QUILTS

(New York Post)

ANIER University of Atlanta, described as the official college of the Ku Klux Klan, has been placed under a receivership upon proof that certain teachers are unable to collect back salaries. The higher learning in America may survive the threatened passing of Lanier and the Klansmen may not miss their college in the least; nevertheless it is a pity that Lanier is to be closed before its sons and daughters present to the American public some comprehensive explanation of the Klan movement. No one except the grand officers seem to know where the Klan is going, or why, and they won't tell. Some Lanierite might have explained the riddle in a monograph.

It would be interesting to know what subjects Lanier taught, and how. Perhaps her teachers were able to avoid telling students that the Catholic church performed meritorious services for the cause of civilization during the break-up of the Roman empire and the subsequent re-birth of a political and social order in Europe. It would never do, of course, for a Klan teacher to admit that any good came out of Rome. But similar mental gymnastics would be required to purge Christianity, by which the Klan sets great store, of Jewish influences. It must have been difficult for the savants at Lanier to admit that Christ was born a Jew, and for the logicians to demonstrate that equally to all men, Christian and pagan, Jew and Gentile, Catholic and Protestant.

Somewhere in his mass of contradictions Lanier university refused to admit that the Klan was not sufficiently highbrow; perhaps that an institution so narrow in creed and temperament in its approach to modern problems could not give them anything worth while. At any rate Lanier failed to prosper. Its failure is a hopeful sign. It tells the world that the Klan is bankrupt in its own mind and that the Klan is bankrupt in its own mind and that the Klan is bankrupt in its own mind and that the Klan is bankrupt in its own mind.

SOCIETY

Vacations in the country continue to occupy society folks' time and formal affairs in town have not yet been taken up in earnest for the winter season. The end of September will no doubt see the return of all those who have been at summer camps for the summer. There have been several informal gatherings this week of those left in town, who seek diversion through afternoon teas and club meetings.

Mrs. Bert C. Thomas was a charming hostess this afternoon when she entertained with an afternoon tea, honoring Mrs. Wilfred E. Lamm. Cards were indulged in and an elaborate luncheon served at the tea hour. Present were: Mesdames Thomas McCourt, who is visiting here from San Francisco, George Watt, Charles Wood Eberlein, Fred Baker, George Ulrich, William M. Duncan, G. A. Krause, R. E. Wright, Twyla Ferguson, Fred Cofer, E. D. Johnson, Leslie Rogers, J. S. Elliott, Warren Hunt, L. L. Truax, A. M. Melby, Robert B. Davis, of Asgrove, and Miss Vera Houston.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will hold its first meeting after the summer vacation Tuesday of next week. The meeting has been called for 7:30 that evening and plans will be discussed at this time for the coming season.

Next Wednesday Mrs. Fred Fleet will be hostess to the Art Needle Work club at her home, 645 Alameda street.

Miss Ruby Fenwick invited a number of her friends in for a slumber party and picnic breakfast Friday evening and Saturday morning. The young ladies hiked to an attractive spot down the river for their breakfast which they prepared over a real camp fire. Miss Fenwick's guests were: Misses Alice Thurston, who arrived last night from Roseburg, Clara Calkins, Wanda Brown, Loretta Jennings and the hostess.

Mrs. Harold Gray, a recent bride who has come here from Pendleton to make her home, was the inspiration for a delightful afternoon given in her honor on Friday by Mrs. Dell Duane Gammon at her home on Cedar street. The house was made attractive with fall flowers and greens and the table was centered by the same blooms and further decorated with candles, held in candlesticks of silver. Covers were laid for the following ladies invited to meet Mrs. Gray: Mesdames Charles J. Roberts, Oscar E. Shive, William Immel, H. W. Bridgeford, Frank B. Robinson, R. E. Geary, J. C. Boyle, I. H. Hibbert and Miss Maybelle Leavitt.

Mrs. J. C. Brockenbrough entertained with two bridge parties, on Wednesday and Friday of this week at her home in Hot Springs. The house was decorated with a profusion of flowers and greens. Winners of the high score on these two days were Mrs. William Duncan and Mrs. E. B. Hall. Invited guests were: Mesdames Peter A. Albertson, H. W. Bridgeford, C. B. Brown, O. D. Burke, Hardin Carter, T. C. Campbell, William Duncan, Fred Dunbar, J. S. Elliott, George Forge, E. B. Hall, H. W. Henderson, I. H. Hibbert, L. Hoagland, M. L. Johnson, G. A. Krause, H. N. Hart, of Sacramento, Miss Olive Pierce and Miss Marie McMillan.

WORLD'S LARGEST
RAISED BY FRANCE

PARIS, Sept. 16.—Another step in the plan to "moor the new world alongside the old" has been taken here by the opening of the great French wireless station at Saint-Assise. This is described as the biggest wireless station in the world, and it has a capacity, its builders say, of 1,000,000 words a day. Messages have already been sent at the rate of 80 words a minute with perfect clearness, and when the equipment is completed it will be possible to send five or six messages simultaneously, with a total output of 600 words a minute.

Saint-Assise, which in future will carry the bulk of wireless communication between France and America, is worked from the center of Paris by means of a long-distance control system. The central office near the Paris Stock exchange, by means of six receiving centers in the suburbs, picks up messages destined for transmission from Saint-Assise and automatically passes them on across the Atlantic.

This station is 35 times as powerful as the Eiffel Tower station. In addition to messages sent to New York, direct communication has already been established with Argentina and China, and when the post is completely equipped it will be clearly heard in the remotest recesses of Alaska and the southern extremities of South America. The French constructors of the plant say the system used is several years in advance of that of the United States or of Germany. The wires are supported on seven pylons each 820 feet high.
