LONDON, Sept. 22 .- An extraordinary case of sleep-walking is reported from Fleet, Lincolnshire, A Notfolk man was cycling through the country, and arriving at Holbeach close upon midnight, was unable to find lodging. Placing his bleyele against a gate, he lay down exhausted by the roadside and went to sleep.

On awakening he could not find his machine. He aroused the village constable and learned that he had walked to Fleet, two miles away, in his sleep. The bicycle was later found where he had left it at Holbeach.
